Glimpses of 1968

Shutters of cameras which snapped pictures for this Reveille have captured on paper only about two actual minutes of the 1967-68 year at Fort Hays State.

These glimpses, however, supply the key to unlock a panorama of memories of 1968. The float you helped build, the football game in which you skirmished, the picnic you enjoyed, the excitement you created, the hours you studied—these events and others spark memories of experiences which made you part of college and it part of you.

Through these glimpses which will serve as symbols to allow you to re-encounter the many events which gave this year a unique meaning, this volume of the Reveille presents 1967-68 as you lived it.

Glimpses of Fall

Fall greeted Fort Hays State students as they descended on the campus to begin a year of study, sport and social life.

In protest against the library's ten o'clock closing hours, students staged a peaceful sit-in demonstration which resulted in an extra hour of study.

Clashing football helmets, victory cannon blasts and a chorus of the Tiger fight song characterized fall sports.

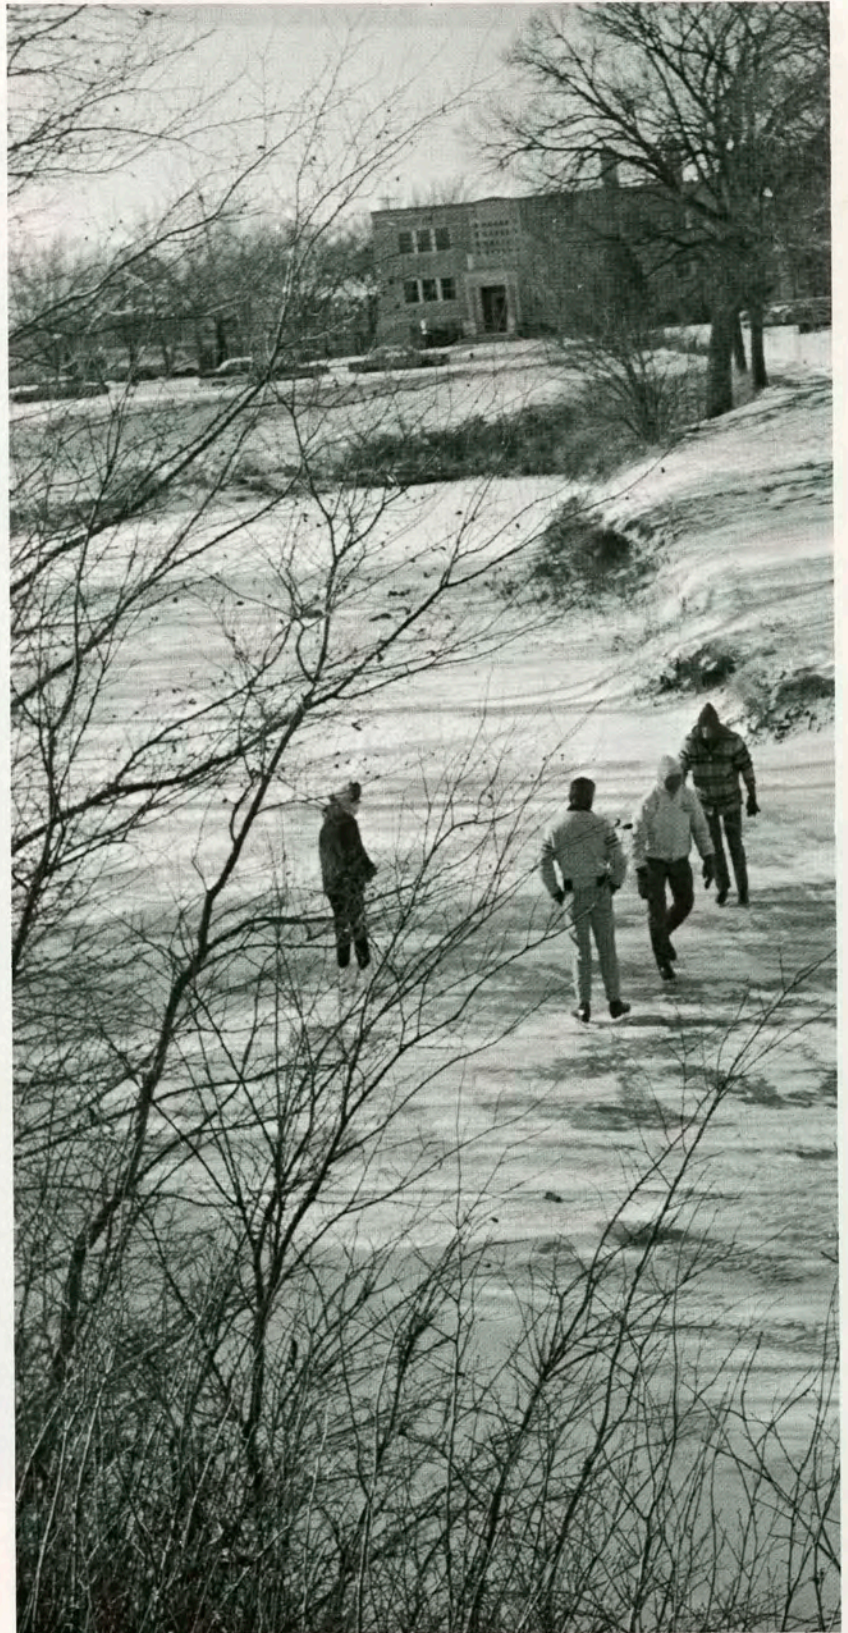

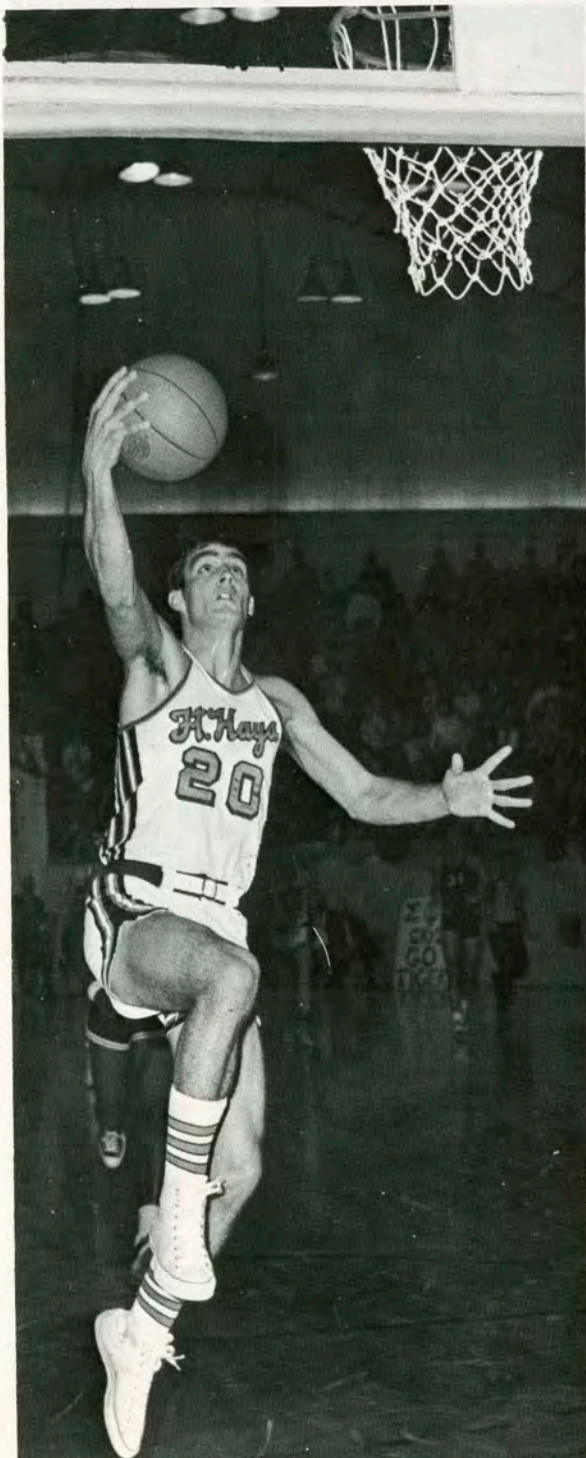

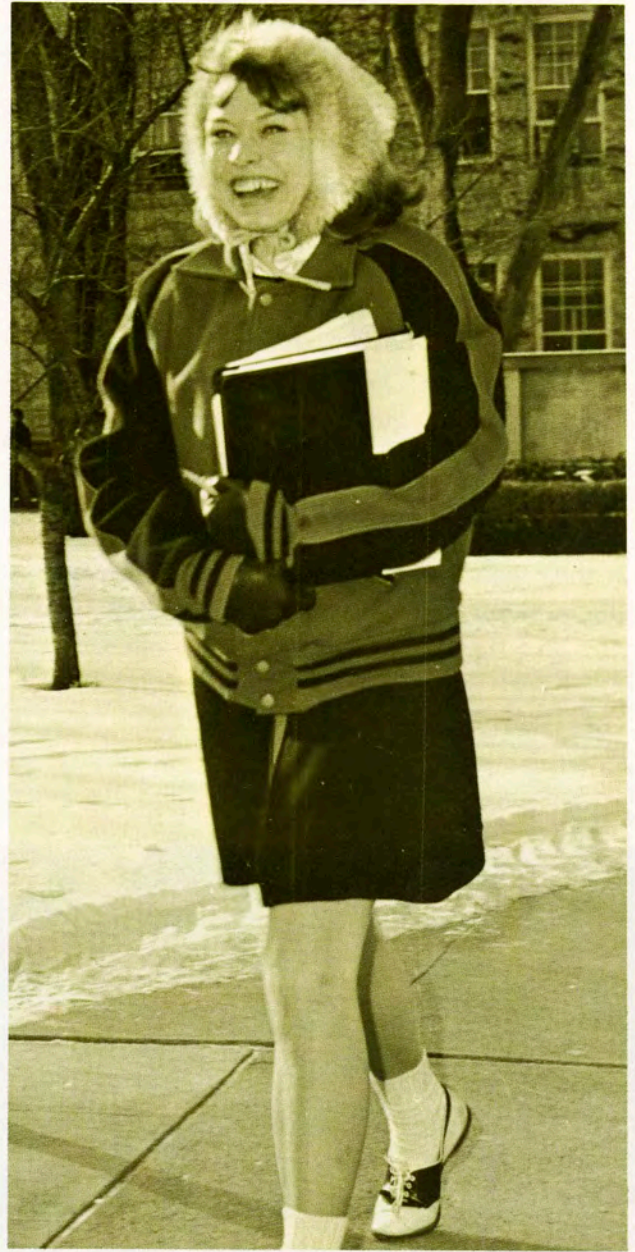

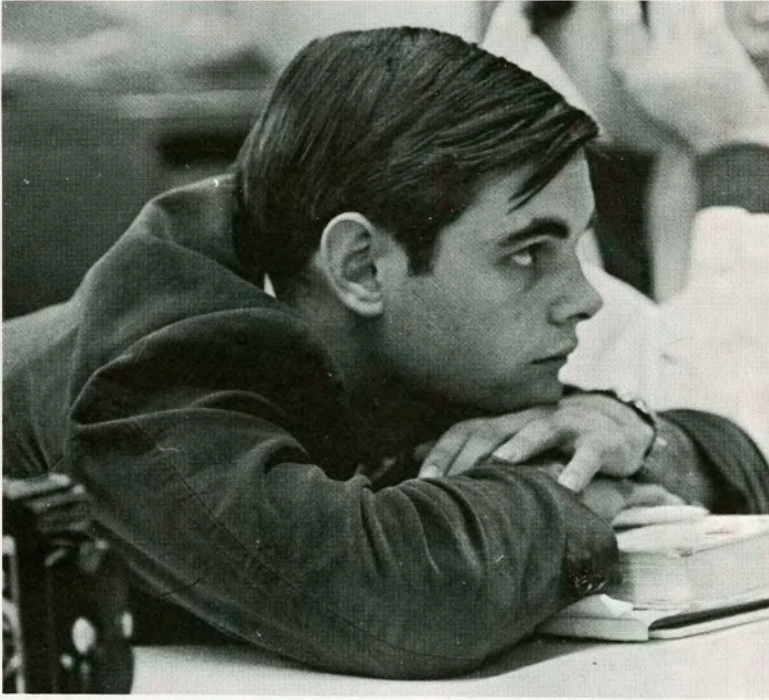

Glimpses Of Winter

of Kansas weather to campus. A December ice storm gave skaters an opportunity to put the blade to the frozen waters of Big Creek.

Basketball was the main sports attraction for Tiger fans. Mild days also prompted the golfers to try their luck on the greens.

Christmas shopping was a favorite pastime during the Yule season and, of course, study and fun filled the students' hours.

Glimpses Of Spring

Alternate periods of wet and dry weather were the rule during spring and brought the colors of summer back to campus.

Conducive to everything but study, spring provided an excuse for water fights, sun bathing and just plain walking.

Classes moved from their class rooms on warm days to the rim of the fountains or to sun porches. Boy met girl for dates, walks and long, quiet conversations.

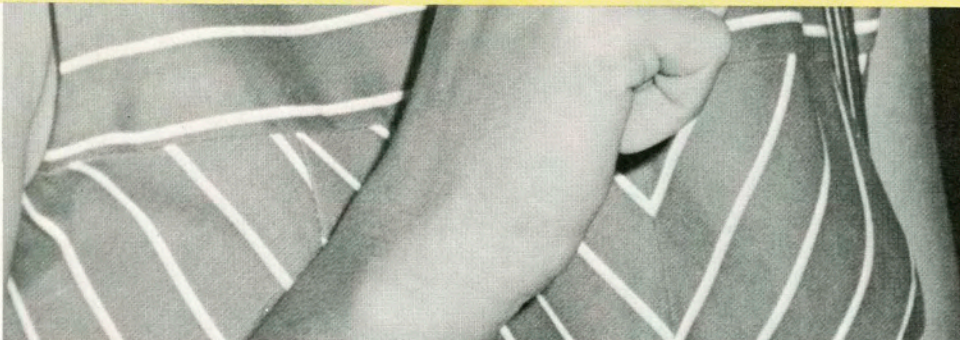

Custodians began the operations of spring cleaning and repair as they brought out the lawn mowers and sprinklers. Perched in their woody homes, the squirrels surveyed the activity with unending amazement.

Wide Variety of Duties Confronts FHS President

Being president of a college is a big responsibility, and Dr. M. C. Cunningham, FHS president, finds that it keeps him constantly on the move. With activities ranging from crowning queens to taking care of stacks of paperwork, the job of chief administrator would be too much of a burden for an ordinary man.

As president, Dr. Cunningham must speak at various meetings or preside over important functions such as the dedication of the library. He must achieve the cooperation of all those who work under him, and above all, he must gain the respect of the students whose presence makes his job important.

Jellison Is Hays Mayor; Two New Men Join Staff

Dr. Bill Jellison, FHS dean of students, was elected in April by the Hays City Commission to the position of Mayor of Hays. Jellison, a guidance and student personnel specialist, has been serving as dean of men since 1966. He is the first college administrator to hold a public office in the city of Hays.

Two new faces in the administration office are those of Robert Maxwell and Milford Messer. Maxwell, former Hays police chief, has taken over the position of associate dean of men and Messer is director of placement.

Board of Regents Sets Policy for Six Schools

Fort Hays State College is one of the six tax-supported colleges and universities administered by a Board of Regents appointed by the governor. This group sets policies, approves budgets and requests legislative appropriations for the institutions of higher learning in the state of Kansas.

Democratic governor Robert Docking visited the FHS campus in the winter when, accompanied by State Democratic Leader Norbert Dreiling, he witnessed a basketball contest between the Tigers and the Cavaliers of St. Mary of the Plains in Dodge City.

In his capacity as chairman of the division of applied arts, Dr. C. Richard Cain oversees three departments.

Sharing facilities on the ground floor of Davis Hall, industrial arts students and art students perform their daily activities in different wings of the building.

Art Facility Is Replaced For Applied Arts Division

Art facilities which were destroyed by fire last year were replaced for art students this year. In early May students were able to move their utensils and art work from temporary facilities in Lewis Field to the recently completed art annex near the greenhouse. Products of artists in the department were displayed at the student and faculty art shows in the spring.

On the industrial arts side of Davis Hall, students planned from September to April for the highlight event of the year, the Industrial Arts Fair. Exhibits from high school industrial artists in the area were on display during the fair. FHS students judged the entries which ranged from cutting boards to complete dining room sets and television-stereo combinations.

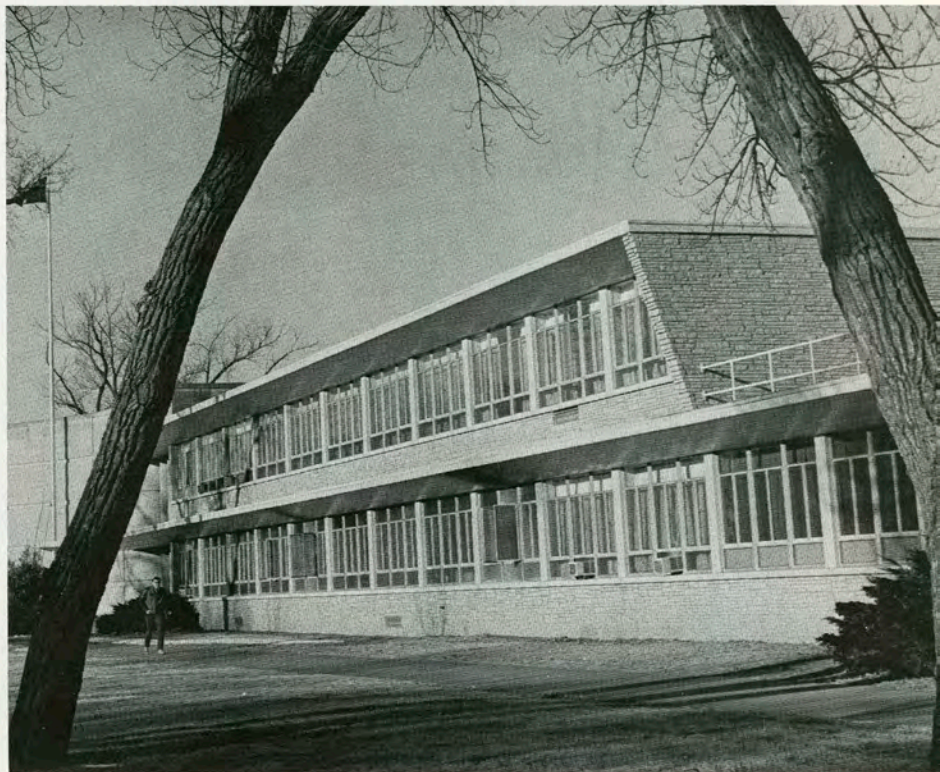

Home Economics, the third department in the division of applied arts, also catered to high school students at its annual Home Economics Day which was comprised of demonstrations and conferences.

Home economics students train for teaching positions, extension workers or homemakers.

Art exhibits and industrial art exhibits fill Davis Hall in the spring of the academic year.

New Methods Sought For Biological Study

Repeating its theme of modernization, the division of biological science strove this year to meet growing enrollments and increasing knowledge of the world.

Because of expanding enrollment in biology classes, the faculty has been encouraged to evaluate the possibility of audio-tutorial laboratories as a teaching method.

Change has also been noticed in the agriculture curriculum which is being modernized to meet growing demands of the program.

Research conducted within the division this year resulted in the publication of eight scientific articles. This makes a total of 196 papers published by the division in the last 51 years.

Honor Fraternities Sponsor Econ and Business Week

Highlight of the year for students in the division of economics and business is the annual "Econ and Business Week" in May, which is planned and sponsored by Alpha Kappa Psi, Pi Omega Pi and Phi Beta Lambda. One feature is an honor banquet at which all students who have received honors in the division during the year are recognized. Representatives from business areas are available for conferences and interviews through the week.

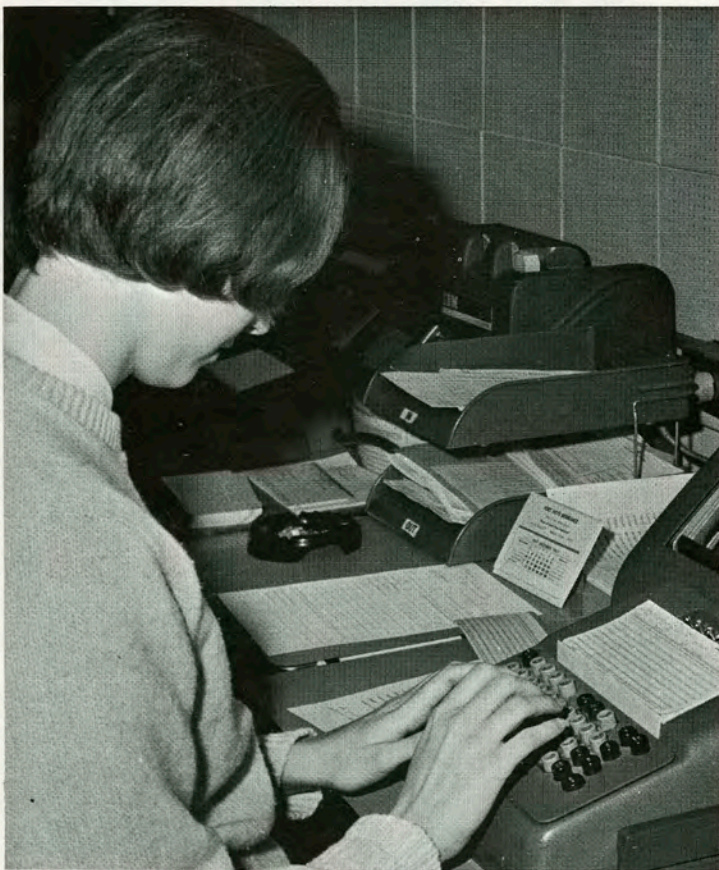

Several seminars and speakers, including a representative from the AFL-CIO and from the Federal Reserve System, were sponsored by the division.

Six accounting majors participating in the internship program worked for six weeks with a CPA firm.

Machines that add, subtract, multiply and divide are all a part of the businessman's world.

Courses on the operational procedures of computers are a recent addition to the business and economics curriculum.

IBM punch cards produced in the data processing center are used to keep student information records.

Division Chairman, Dr. Calvin E. Harbin, published a book entitled "Teaching Power" which expresses his philosophy of the art of teaching.

Newly Acquired Equipment Enriches Division's Classes

Key developments in the division of education, philosophy and psychology have been expansions through new programs and projects along with the addition of new equipment.

VTR, video-tape recording equipment and the drivacator are probably the most outstanding pieces of equipment that have been added. Fort Hays State is the first campus in Kansas to boast the drivacator as an on-campus teaching aid. Other equipment such as the overhead projectors, wireless microphones, walkie-talkies and the Edex system are included in the move toward computerized presentation of classes in this division along with the whole campus.

Specialized education has been enhanced through the continued development of the Hays Day Care Center for Exceptional Children and the opening of the H. B. Reed Center, as well as by the designation of five students for senior-year traineeships in the field of special education.

Rarick Hall, constructed in 1911, is the center of activities in the division of education, philosophy and psychology.

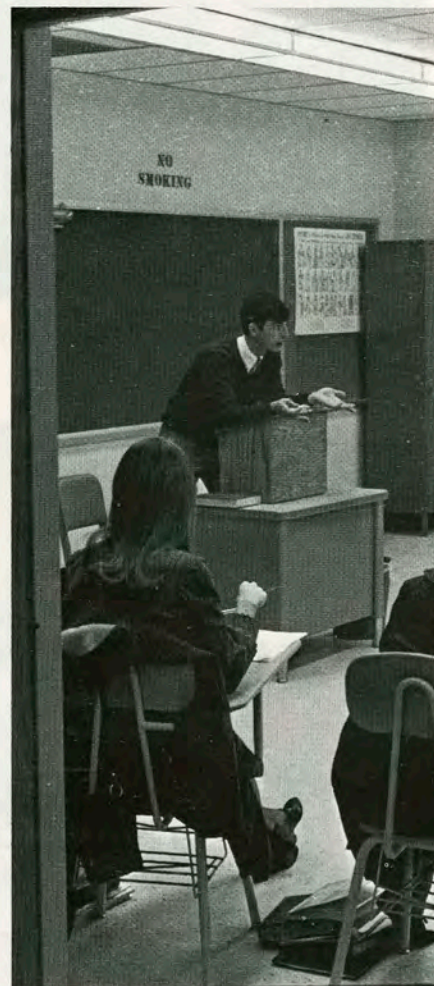

FHS is one of the first colleges in this area to have a drivacator unit for preparing driver education instructors.

Video-tape recording equipment is used in many classes in education and psychology. It has proved especially useful in the block courses.

Established during the past year, the H. B. Reed Center provides experience for students preparing to work with the mentally retarded.

Graduate students conduct required discussion groups in psychology classes.

Square dancing prepares the student to participate in a pastime which is gaining popularity.

Physical Fitness Fostered By Faculty in Physical Ed.

Physical education majors, as well as students in other academic fields, can benefit from the opportunity to participate in sports and develop physical and mental skills. Both men and women students are encouraged to participate in intramural sports programs or in one of the nine varsity sports.

As a result of recent stress on youth and adult physical fitness, the demand for professional people in the field of Health, Physical Education and Recreation has increased. This year, for the first time, the health education staff was reinforced with a full-time athletic trainer, Ralph Johnson. His concerns are the care and prevention of athletic injuries in varsity sports and the rehabilitation of injured students in order that they may eventually return to athletic competition.

With architects working on details, a new H.P.E.R. complex is presently in the preliminary planning stage.

Dr. James Belisle heads the health, physical education and recreation department at Fort Hays State.

In times of warm weather the use of the campus lawn as a meeting place for classes and discussions increases. The fountain in front of Picken Hall provides seating for students as David Ison conducts an open-air English class.

Dr. William R. Thompson completes his third year as head of the division of language, literature and speech.

New Literature Program Goes on Trial in the Fall

One of the largest divisions on campus, the division of language, literature and speech, prepares students to communicate effectively through speaking and writing either in English or in any of five foreign languages.

Announcement was made this year of a new introduction to literature course which will be employed on an experimental basis next fall. Students will be allowed to choose their own methods of achieving the goals of the course as there will be no regular class meetings. Study aids will be provided by the teaching staff with taped lectures, prepared essays, films, discussion groups and group tutorials available to the students.

Newly developed in the language department is the masters degree program in Spanish.

Forsyth Library Boasts Additional Study Space

With the opening of the new Forsyth Library during the summer of 1967, students now have readily available an excellent study and reference center. The library has a more than 300,000-item capacity and is a depository for U.S. and Kansas documents. Over 300 individual study carrels are included in the total seating capacity which exceeds 1,000.

Among the items on file in the microfilm lab at Forsyth are a complete run of the New York Times, history and news concerning the Fort, magazines and the Hays papers.

Although FHS does not grant a degree in library science, several courses are offered and students can complete up to 20 hours in the division. Growth in class enrollments is seen as a result of increased interest in the need for librarians in all levels of schooling and public facilities.

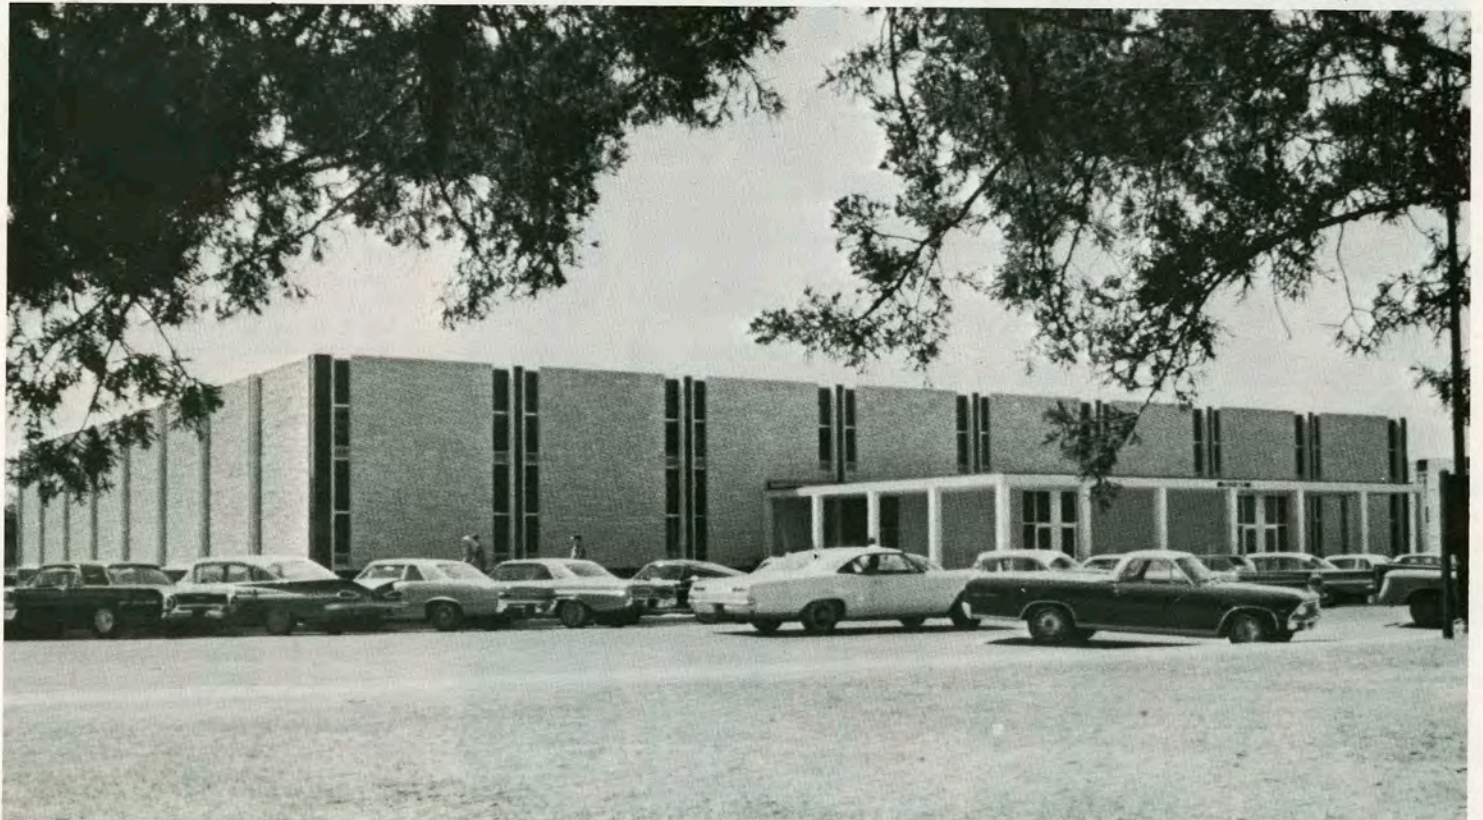

Extensive remodeling is in store for the old library which provided limited classroom space during the 1967-68 school year. With the museum retaining its position on the first floor of the building, the remodeling on the other two floors would open 12 classrooms, 25 faculty offices and two secretarial stations.

Marc Campbell, chairman of the division of library science, guided the library move.

Along with its service of loaning books, pamphlets and documents, Forsyth Library provides typing rooms, film and record loans and a photostatic copying service. Located behind the library is a parking lot for students and staff.

Individual study carrels in the all-new Forsyth Library provide isolation and good lighting for serious students as they undertake the daily task of studying. Three hundred carrels line the walls and some of the aisles of the library.

Moving equipment to the new library entails the use of an outside elevator.

Christopher, Rachel: Asst. Prof. of Library Sci.; Gross, Erna: Instructor in Library Sci., Circulation Librarian.

Harkness, Margery: Asst. Prof. of Library Sci., Cataloger Librarian; Powell, Bettie: Instructor in Library Sci., Acquisitions Librarian.

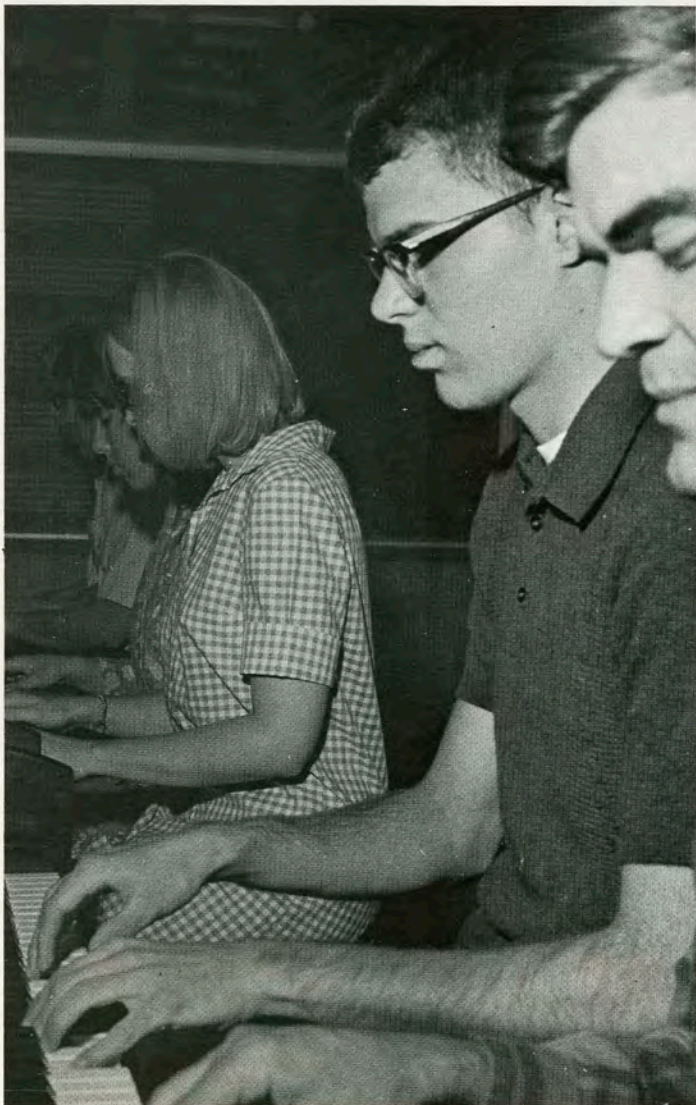

Reed, Lawrence "Mac": Instructor in Library Sci., Reference Librarian; Riley, Esta Lou: Asst. Prof. of Library Sci., Serials Librarian.

Schmidt, Fred C. Jr.: Instructor in Library Sci., Documents Librarian; Smith, Robert: Instructor in Library Sci.

Making an innovation in music instruction at FHS, non-piano majors form a class for group piano lessons.

Youngsters pack the Coliseum on a rainy day for a children's concert presented by the Civic Symphony.

Group Piano Instruction Started in Music Division

An addition to the division of music during the past year was the organization of group piano instruction. Being more practical for teaching piano to the non-piano major, group piano instruction emphasizes sight reading, harmonization and transposition of melodies, chords and accompaniment as well as the repertoire and technique emphasized in private instruction.

Increasing interest in all areas of music has been evident from the growth of classes throughout the division. Freshmen comprised an unusually large number of promising students in the division.

Dr. Leland Bartholomew combines the roles of administrator and participant by augmenting teaching with performances.

Home for music majors, speech majors and the radio station, Malloy Hall is also one of the newest campus structures.

Located in the east half of the building, the music department echoes with vocal and instrumental music.

receive practical experience at local hospitals while they continue to study on campus.

Nursing Endowment Means Accreditation for Program

One of the largest gifts ever given to Fort Hays State will provide the college's first endowed faculty chair and clear the barriers for national accreditation of the nursing program. Estimated at more than $400,000, the bequest is from the estate of Floyd J. Wagner, a railroad official from Pratt.

After receiving their caps at a ceremony in February, sophomore nursing students began their student nursing program in the two Hays hospitals. This year the student nurses used the facilities of St. Anthony Hospital as well as Hadley Memorial Hospital.

Senior nursing students train in specialized fields of nursing during their affiliations in Topeka and Chicago hospitals. In charge of the students in obstetrical and pediatric nursing at the University of Chicago Hospital is Mary Edwalds, instructor in nurse education. Psychiatric nursing is studied in Topeka.

Climaxing a year and a half of hard work and study, the moment arrives when each nurse receives her cap.

Professors, Students Help With Research Projects

Student enrollment, graduate as well as undergraduate, has increased in the entire physical science division with especially high increases in the field of geology.

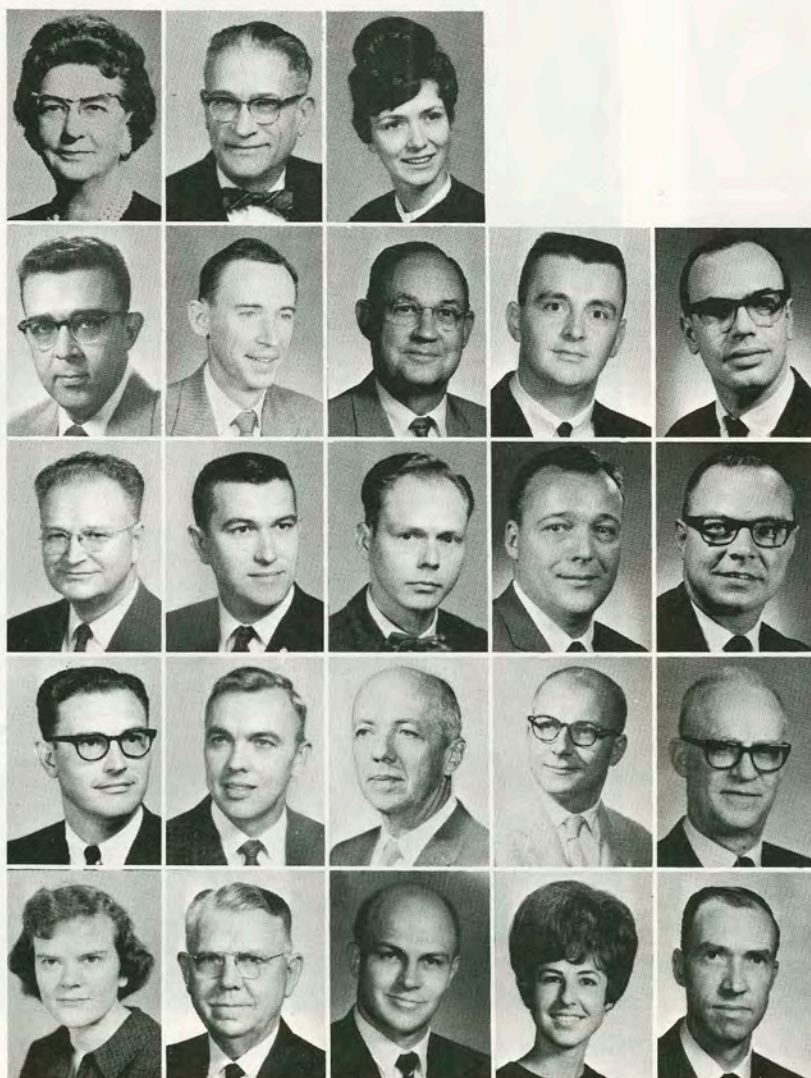

Students aided three faculty members working on state-and nation-sponsored research projects. One project was sponsored by the Kansas Heart Assn. and the other two were supported by the National Science Foundation.

During the summer of 1967, Dr. Harold S. Choguill and Wilmont Toalson were with the USAID program as consultants in the Teacher Institutes in India. In the spring of 1968, Dr. Choguill returned to India for his third year but returned to FHS in time for the summer session.

Classes in this division include courses in the fields of mathematics, chemistry, geology and physics.

Dr. Harold S. Choguill, chairman of the division made his third trip to India in the spring of 1968.

Offices and classes in the division of physical science are located in Albertson Hall, a combination of the old and new.

Knowledge of the geographical regions of the world provides a necessary background for the study of history and sociology.

Documents Vital In Social Science

Among matters of significance to the division of social sciences this past year was the completion of the new Forsyth Library which made available an excellent documents library of particular importance to students studying pre-law and legal training.

Responsible for the first documents library on campus in 1936, Dr. W. D. Moreland, chairman of the division of social sciences, has maintained an active interest in its development throughout the years.

Included in the division of social science are history, political science and sociology. Faculty offices and classes in these areas of study are located in two buildings, Picken Hall and Sheridan Coliseum.

Two faculty members in this division were selected as professors of the month and one was nominated for outstanding faculty woman of the year.

After more than 30 years in various teaching positions at Fort Hays State, Dr. Moreland will retire at the end of the 1968-69 academic year.

Flanked by a student from the division and the documents librarian, Dr. W. D. Moreland, chairman of the division of social sciences, stands in the documents library which he helped to establish at FHS in 1936.

Students completing the pre-law program at FHS may qualify to enter law school at Kansas University or Washburn on the basis of their grade point average and the results of the Law School Admission Test.

Students can work individually or in pairs or with the aid of a professor as they study the varied fields offered in the curriculum of the honors program.

Natural science field trips are major sources of information for students participating in honors.

Besides her duties in the English department, Dr. Verna Parish, professor of English, heads the honors division.

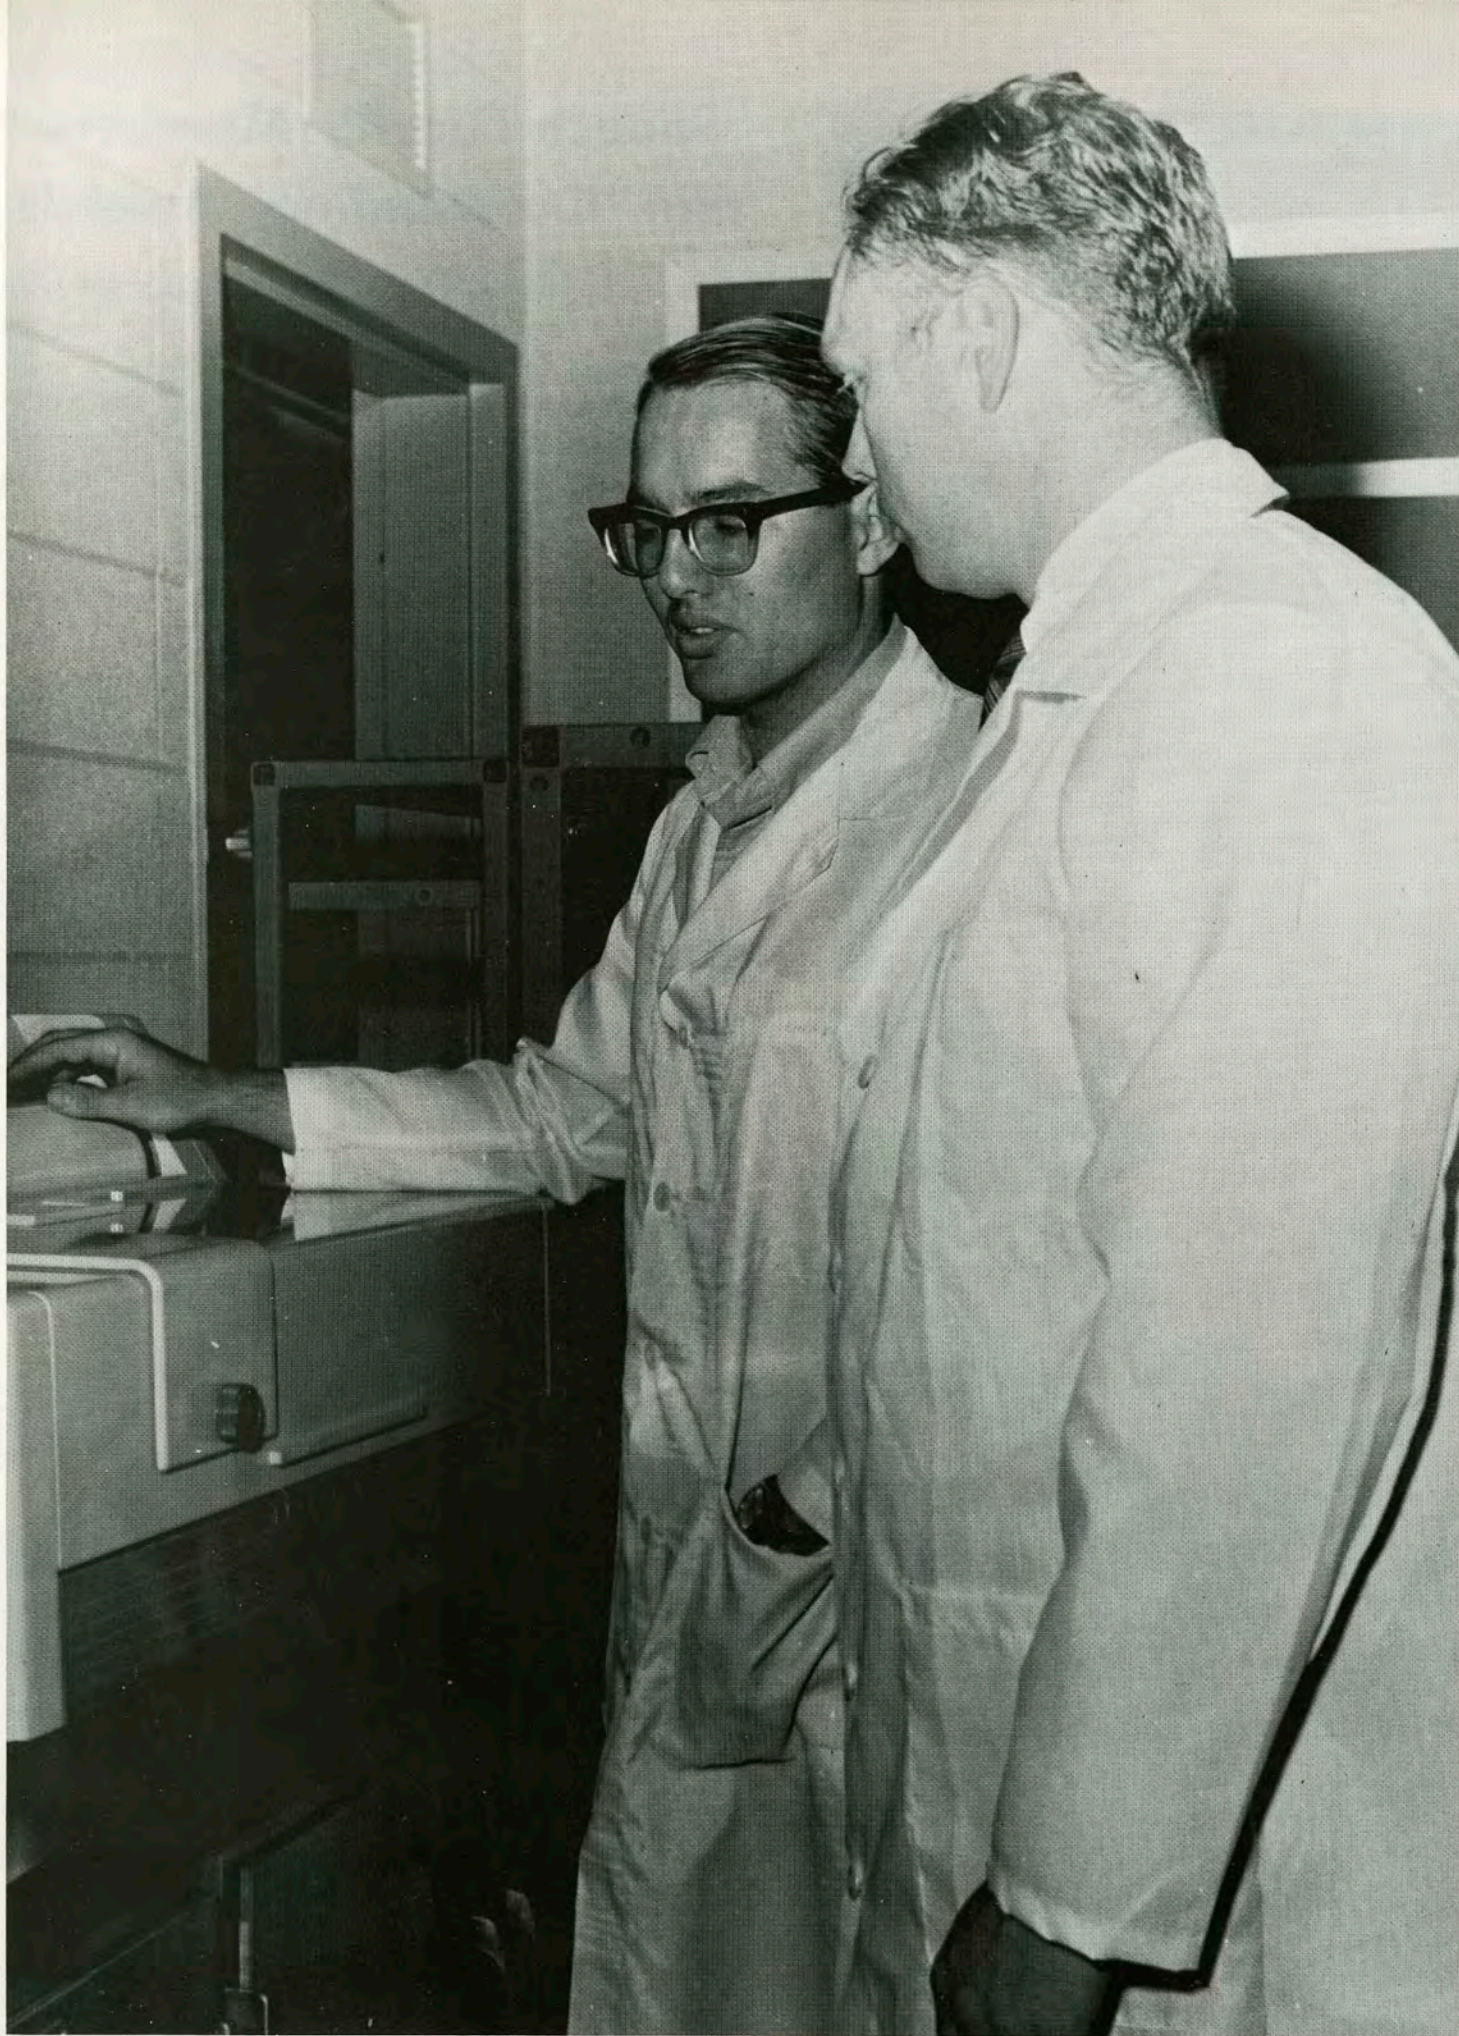

Honors Students Tackle Special Study Program

Presented by a selected faculty for students of outstanding intellectual ability, the Honors Program is a special curriculum offering colloquia and seminars.

Such study is designed to develop interpersonal relations and understanding and skill in coping with a wide variety of problem situations in small groups.

Begun in 1963, the program is becoming more stable and is increasing in enrollment. In order to graduate from the division, a student must complete 24 semester hours of work which take the place of the basic studies requirements. Entry into the program is by invitation based on intellectual achievement.

Provisions for adjustment are made if a student enters the program after his first semester or leaves it prior to graduation.

Students participating in the Honors Program find that individual instruction as well as colloquial sessions enhances their learning experiences. Forest Graber works on an honors project with his instructor, Dr. James McMechan.

Speech Faculty Members Win 'Outstanding' Awards

Two faculty members in the speech department were awarded the titles of the Outstanding Faculty Woman and the Professor of the Year for 1968.

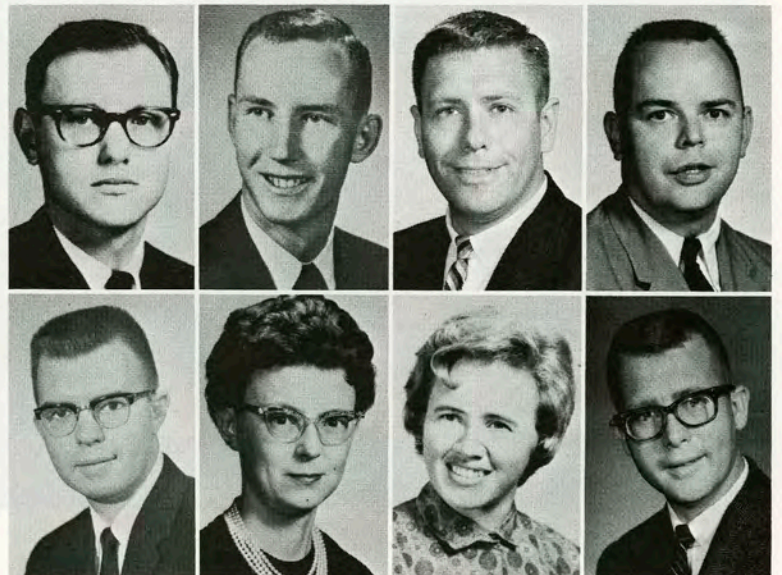

One of nine candidates chosen by the All Student Council for Professor of the Month, Dan Miller, assistant professor of speech, was selected for the yearly title by the entire student body. Nominated by various campus organizations and chosen by a panel of women students, Harriet Ketchum, associate professor of speech, was named outstanding Faculty Woman on the basis of personality, teaching ability and concern for students.

Joining the faculty in 1966, five-foot-six-inch Miller was to fill the shadow of six-foot-six-inch Jim Costigan as debate coach. Costigan is on sabbatical leave. Miller's debate teams have an enviable record and for the first time in history, FHS hosted two debate tournaments.

As a result of Miss Ketchum's efforts in 1948, her first year at FHS, the campus radio station was begun. After only a year in radio instruction, however, Miss Ketchum returned to speech and drama where she has since remained.

Legal Board Reviews Cases for Students

As a branch of Student Court, Legal Board received the power to hear cases involving FHS students in trouble. The board is qualified to hear cases concerning incidents on campus or in the city of Hays. As a disciplinary body, the board decides appropriate action for individual cases. Attempts are made to counsel the student to insure a return to the proper college atmosphere. Also the board tries to be sure that the situation is not repeated.

All members have equal voting power. Students are represented by the Chief Justice and Attorney General while the Deans of Men and Women represent the administration.

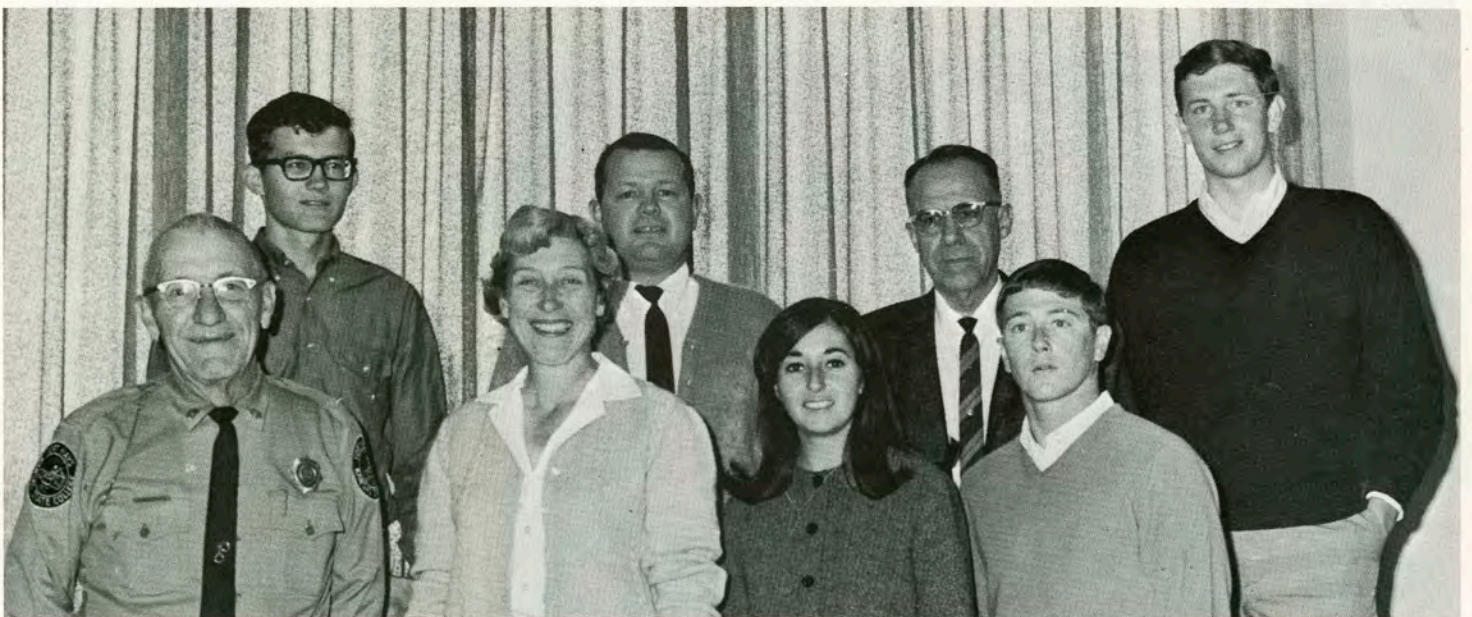

Traffic Tribunal Reviews Parking Ticket Complaints

Set up as a division of All Student Council, Traffic Tribunal hears appeals for non-moving campus violations. The tribunal is comprised of five students appointed by the ASC president, three faculty members and the chief of the campus security force. The committee passed a ruling that faculty members would have to purchase parking permits beginning in the fall of 1968. Each semester the group hears between 50 and 60 appeals. Mark Giese served as presiding officer of the group.

Stouffer, Jo Anne Tedesco, Mark Giese.

All-Student Council—BACK ROW: E. Jay Deines, Clark Chipman, Richard Stahl, Lynda Bongartz, Randy Bane, Trudy Holler, John Wheeler. SECOND ROW: David Zwink, Bill

Rogers, Lois Ruder, Sharla Barber, Rex Cooper. FRONT ROW: Don Whittecar, Randall Baxter, Paula Murphy, Mark Giese, Sylvia Havner, Faye Gilchrist.

Student Representation Considered Goal of ASC

Representing the desires of the student body and attempting to exert pressure for proper action are considered goals of All Student Council. Clark Chipman served as president and Randy Baxter as chairman. The group sponsored professor of the month, student-faculty retreat, controversial speaker series and other activities. Cheerleaders and persons representing the college at professional meetings received funds.

SOC Promotes, Approves Student-Faculty Groups

Promoting, coordinating, and evaluating student organizations associated with the college headlines Student Organizations Committee activities. This group grants initial approval and continued recognition to all student and student-faculty organizations. When a group receives approval, a certificate is awarded. Jean Stouffer served as chairman of the organization. The committee had six faculty members and five students.

Student Organizations Committee—BACK ROW: Bob Maxwell, Dr. Gordon Price. FRONT ROW: Dr. Benito Carballo, Jean Stouffer, John Eck.

AWS Establishes Guidelines for FHS Women

Second only in membership to the All Student Body, Associated Women Students is comprised of all women students enrolled at Fort Hays State.

Representatives from the various living districts are elected in the spring and serve on the AWS council which establishes guidelines for FHS coeds. Sharla Barber was president of the organization.

AWS sponsored an all-campus sing out on the banks of Big Creek in the fall. This year's Reveille Queen received her crown at the AWS-sponsored Snowball dance.

Capping off the year's activities for AWS was Honor's night at which were announced the Outstanding Faculty Woman and the Outstanding Senior Woman.

Students Direct, Present Campus Radio Programs

KFHS Radio student personnel broadcast regular programs to the residence halls and the Memorial Union. With a revised program suited to the listeners, the station featured NASA tapes on the U.S. space program along with all types of musical programs from classical through modern and popular.

Radio programs were broadcast from 3:30 to 10:30 p.m. daily and featured such shows as Happy Hour, Classical Hour, Showtime, the Jazz Show and the Star Personality Show. Making its annual appearance in the spring, Tiger Talent Time was transmitted from McMinder Hall. Campus talent participated in the program in which the audience chose the top talent.

Terry Keenan served as station manager at KFHS for the fall semester and John Kreighbaum took over the duties for the spring. Jack Heather, associate professor of speech, is the faculty adviser.

Plans are in the making for innovations and improvements in the present facilities in Malloy Hall. Further additions to the operations include television equipment for extended and more complete study of the television industry along with the radio.

Terry Keenan, Seward senior, takes part in radio broadcasts as well as serving as first semester station manager.

John Kreighbaum, second semester station manager, and Jack Heather, adviser, confer on record selection.

Students in radio operations learn to operate the equipment, to compile material for broadcast and to announce programs.

Leader Circulation Moves From Thursday to Friday

Leader distribution day changed from Thursday to Friday in 1968 in order to give the staff more time to gather and compile the week's news stories for more complete campus coverage.

Gordon C. Henry assumed the position of adviser and Rick Schwein served as editor-in-chief as the State College Leader experienced a year of "re-building." Under their leadership the publication earned a first-class rating from the Associated Collegiate Press for the fall semester.

Although relatively inexperienced in newspaper production, the new staff managed to turn out a Leader that covered the wide variety of campus activities from sports events, through campus politics, to Artist and Lectures programs.

Left without an editor, the Reveille Staff was forced to begin anew at mid-year. Taking over the reins in January, Kathy Walters and the members of the staff brought the book to completion in time for its fall delivery.

Once again the Reveille earned an All-American rating from the Associated Collegiate Press. Edited by Ron Fischli, the 1967 edition of the Fort Hays State yearbook received the honor, the third for the publication in as many years.

Covering campus activities from September through May, the Reveille staff became acquainted with personnel in all departments and organizations. Regular salaries are offered to top staffers with bonuses available to assistants.

thought and to itself.

Phaedrus

Increased traffic reflects the activity on the day that students move into their residence halls or apartments. With an increase in enrollment, the college's five residence halls reached their capacity housing 1,236 students.

With aid of boxes, baskets, and carts, students move into their housing unit.

Recruited to help carry in possessions, men provide valuable assistance to a McMinder Hall resident. Parents also aid students with the task.

Students Undertake Biannual Enrollments

Feelings of anticipation and frustration often greet students as they prepare for each semester of college life. Schedules, moving in, books and tuition are but a few of the problems confronting enrollees.

Similar emotions are felt by administrators at FHS at enrollment time as they try to arrange classroom space for the ever increasing number of students.

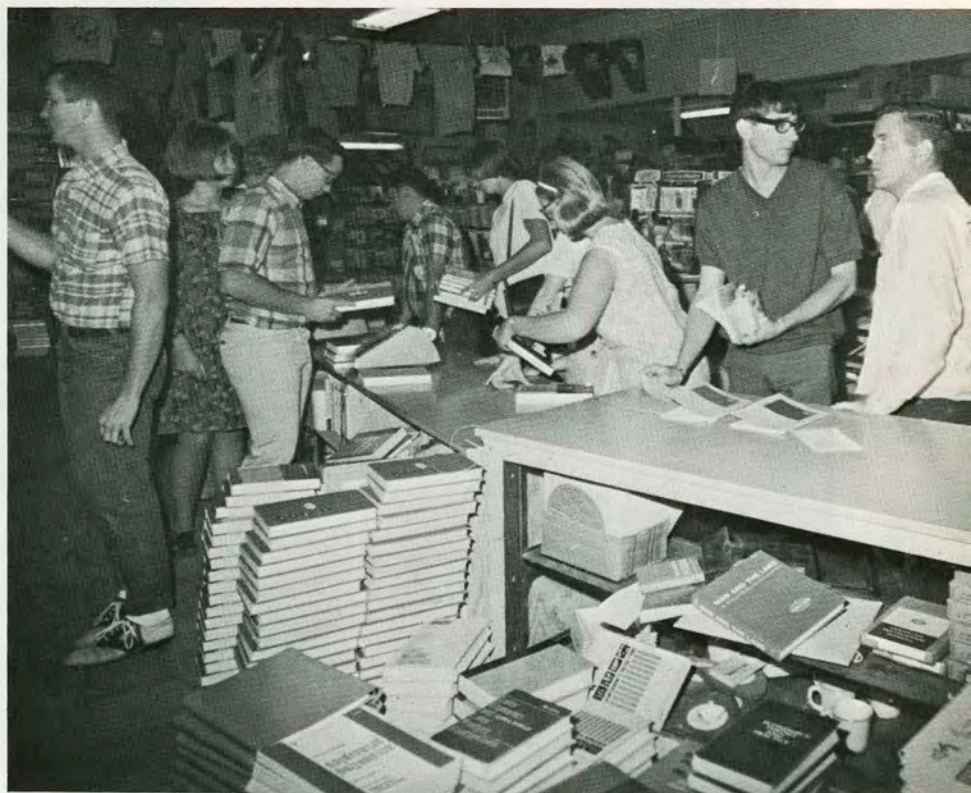

Efforts to accommodate the fall semester's record enrollment of 5,115 included the remodeling of the old library building into classrooms. Residence halls also experienced the squeeze of the student increase as they filled to capacity first semester.

Sorority women help Sigma Phi Epsilon men distribute cigarettes, matches, and refreshments at their smoker.

Fall Schedule Provides Wide Scope of Activities

Cool days, falling leaves and a bustling campus set the scene for the busiest season of the academic year.

One of the first events of the fall is marked by a visit from students' parents who tour FHS. Selected students and faculty met at Camp PECUSA for the annual student-faculty retreat in late September.

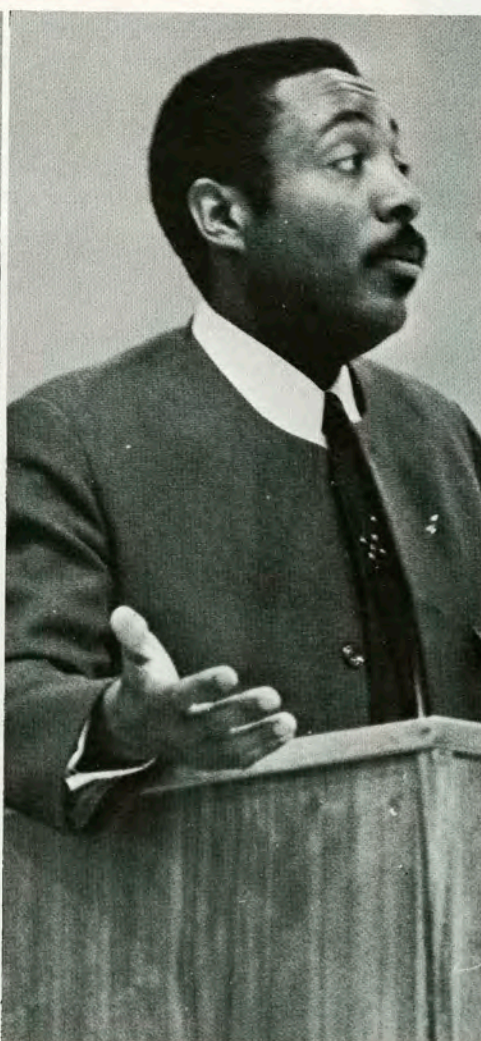

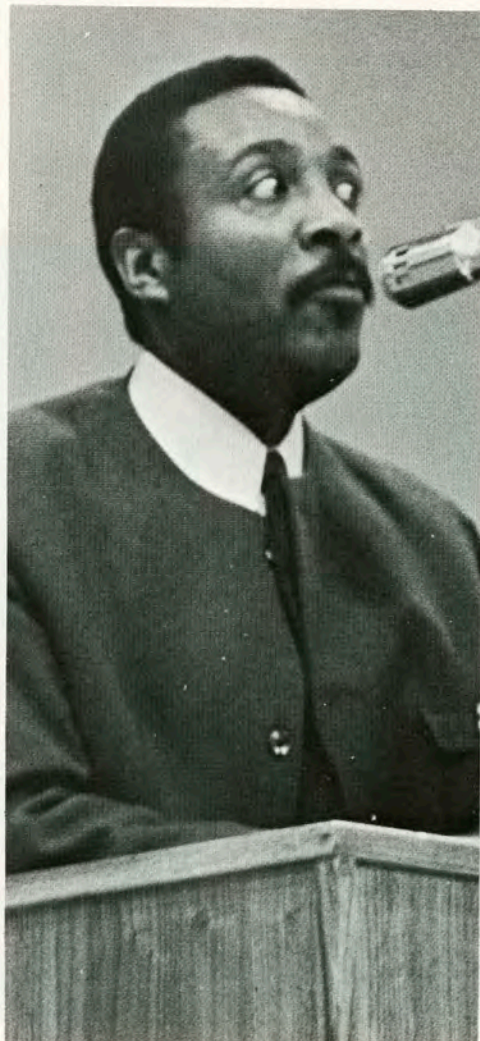

Greek organizations participated in fall activities with fraternity smokers for prospective members.

Voter turnout for fall elections was quite small. Freshmen chose class officers while representatives for All Student Council and Associated Women Students were elected by particular electorates.

Besides the regular Artists and Lectures entertainment, other programs were scheduled for the fall. Civil rights worker Dick Gregory and Nicky Cruz, a former juvenile delinquent, addressed FHS audiences.

Brought to campus by All-Student Council, comedian Dick Gregory presents views on the racial situation in the United States. Gregory warned that unless white America learns to adjust, American cities will explode with riots.

Parade, Game Highlight Homecoming Activities

Homecoming Day 1967, with its bonfire, tug-of-war, parade, crowning and football game has been relegated to photo albums, scrap books and memories.

Tonya Biggs reigned over the activities after being selected queen in a student body election. Her attendants were Pat Wess, Jan Morris, Bernice Polifka and Judy Marcotte. Queen Tonya was robed at the bonfire and was crowned during halftime ceremonies at the game.

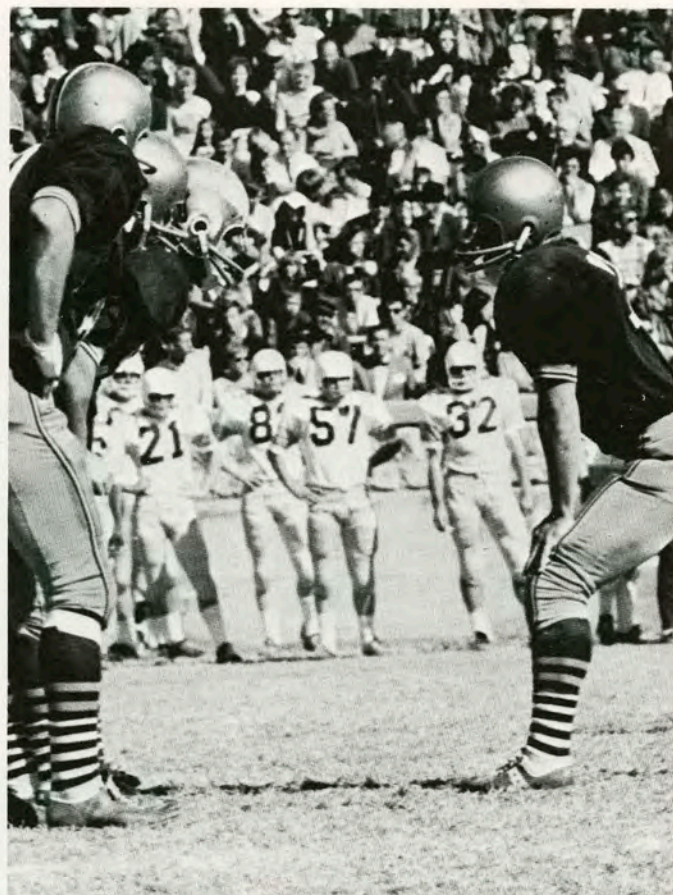

Sophomores emerged victorious in the annual tug-of-war after drenching the freshmen in the muddy waters of Big Creek. The battle lasted only 40 seconds.

In float competition during the parade Alpha Kappa Lambda won its fifth consecutive sweepstakes trophy. Other winners were: men's—Men's P.E. Club, first, Prometheans, second; women's—Sigma Kappa, first, Delta Zeta, second; Independents'—Newman Club.

Tugging to victory, the sophomores give the rope one last pull and send the freshmen into the waters of Big Creek.

Tonya Biggs Wins Title; 15 Hopefuls Seek Crown

Amid the excitement of bonfire activities, Tonya Biggs received the red robe of 1967 Homecoming Queen. Sponsored by Wiest Hall, Miss Biggs, a resident assistant at Custer Hall and a member of Associated Women Students, was elected by students from a field of 15 candidates. Miss Biggs, who enjoys sewing, swimming and water skiing, listed people as her main interest, her hobby and her job.

After viewing tug-of-war activities from the Big Creek bridge and riding in a gala parade, she was crowned by President M. C. Cunningham at halftime of the football game. Other queen finalists and their sponsoring organizations included first runner-up Pat Wess, Sigma Tau Gamma; second runner-up Judy Marcotte, Prometheans; Bernice Polifka, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Jan Morris, Delta Sigma Phi.

Performer Al Hirt presented his program to a SRO crowd in Sheridan Coliseum.

To present a rendition of one of his favorite songs, Hirt teams up with his two saxophonists who include Pee Wee Spitelera.

Members of "The Young Set" provide background music and accompaniment for "The King" as he performs his New Orleans swing music. Hirt's program, the first in the Artists and Lectures Series, combined comedy and music.

Top Artists and Speakers Featured in A&L Series

Spotlights shone on a variety of artists and lecturers at Fort Hays State in the fall. Trumpeter Al Hirt, along with featured artist Pee Wee Spitelera and "The Young Set," filled Sheridan Coliseum with strains of "Java," "Sugar Lips" and other Hirt tunes.

Conductor Lt. Col. W. N. Trumbull led the U.S. Army Field Band and Chorus in October for another A&L show. Presenting a different form of band music the Preservation Hall Jazz Band brought its Dixieland music directly from New Orleans to conclude October's schedule.

Former U.S. Senator Barry Goldwater was the only lecturer to appear before FHS students in the fall A&L Series. Goldwater spoke to a full house.

Mezzo soprano Christiane Van Acker and lutenist Michel Podolski combined efforts in an unusual performance for the November A&L feature. The Belgian duo offered a program of lute music and songs from the Renaissance and early Baroque periods.

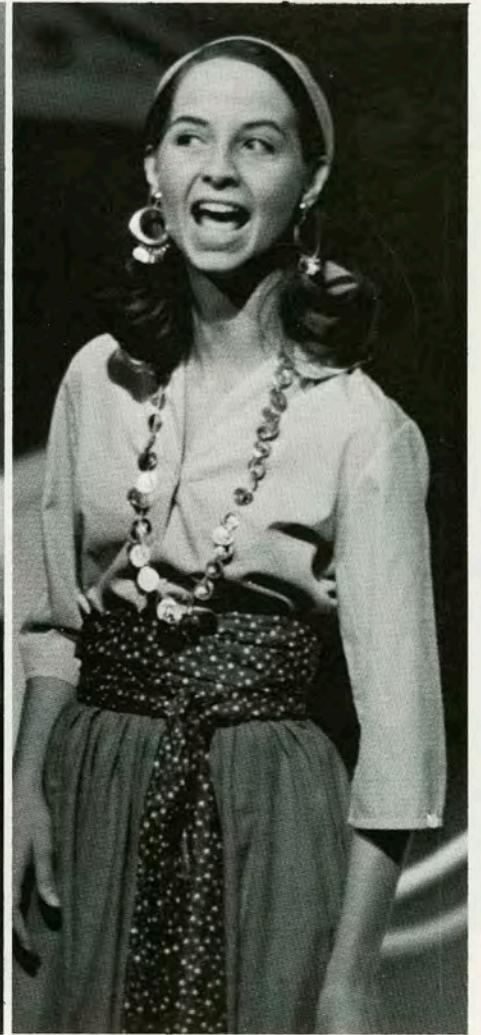

Concluding the Artists and Lectures Series for the fall semester was McHenry Boatwright who presented a program of spirituals, oratorios and biblical songs. Boatwright is a bass-baritone singer.

Former Sen. Goldwater notes that "this generation is the best I've ever seen" in his A&L Series speech.

Drummers of the U.S. Army Field Band add rhythm to the band's variety of music at the A&L performance. Also featured in the entertainment for the evening was the Army chorus which teamed with the band for several musical numbers.

Playing major roles in the play "The Skin of Our Teeth" were Sharon Loomis as Sabina, the maid for the Antrobus household; Gary Walsh as Henry, the son in the family; and Sue Ostrander, a fortune teller who foretells Mr. Antrobus' future.

Mrs. Antrobus (Laura Scott) comforts her daughter Gladys (June Robinson) and her son Henry (Walsh) before the ice storm.

'The Skin of Our Teeth' Is First Stage Production

Members of Little Theatre made their stage debut in the first fall production as they presented their interpretation of Thornton Wilder's play, "The Skin of Our Teeth."

According to Perry Schwartz, director, "The play is a very funny treatment of a very serious subject—the willingness of man to begin again." Three different situations were under scrutiny during the program, and in each event man was oppressed, yet he started over.

Technical aspects of the comedy were undertaken by Schwartz in direction, Robert E. Reinecke in set design and lighting, and Marie F. Reinecke in costume design. There were 26 actors cast in the 31 roles—five of the minor characters were double-cast. Nineteen members were on the technical crew.

Actors Stage Inge Drama For Final Fall Production

Director Perry Schwartz termed the show a "highly dramatic play concerned with the loneliness in our lives presented in warmly comic and emotionally tragic situations."

Original music composed by Lewis Miller, assistant professor of music, preceded each act to set the scene for the coming action.

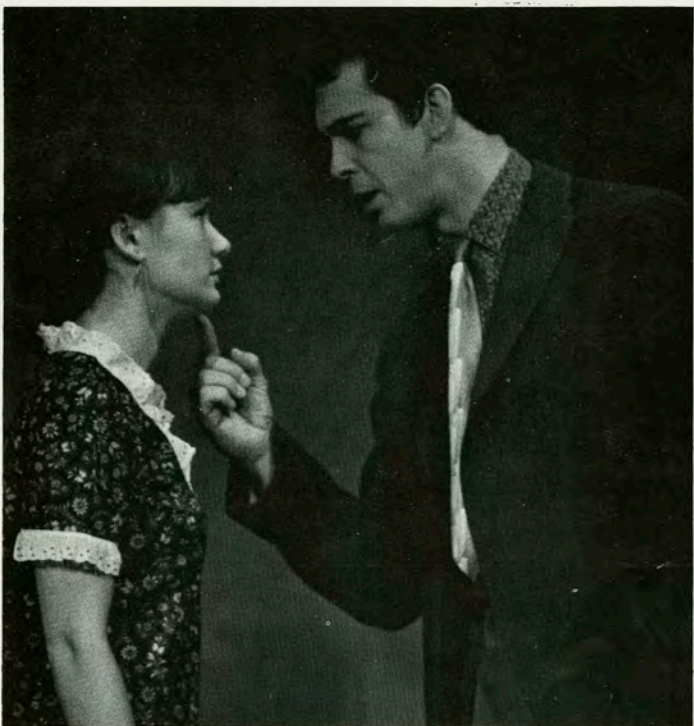

Character portrayal in the production included an overly shy young girl, an introverted little boy, an arguing married couple and a Jew in an alien community.

Morris and Lottie Lacy (Harold Befort, Calene Boyer) discuss their family problems in front of their nephew Sonny.

Sonny (Bobb Meckenstock) throws a tantrum when things don't go his way in the play "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs."

Cora Flood (Linda Ray) starts a fight with her husband Rubin (Phil King) which results in his leaving home.

Rush Week in November Keeps FHS Coeds Busy

For one week in November, sorority girls are busy planning and giving a series of parties. Rushees are kept on the go, attending first parties, preference parties, observing quiet hours, signing cards stating their preferences and waiting for bids.

Any girl attaining a 1.0 grade average at the nine weeks is eligible to go through Rush Week. Individual sororities pledge girls with 1.0 grade averages but may require a higher grade point for activation.

After a long week of constant smiling, making new friends, establishing good impressions, coping with restless nerves and making that tough final decision, the new pledges are welcomed by their new sisters and look forward to learning about their chosen sorority. Instruction in the social graces, encouragement in scholastic achievement and development of leadership potential are some of the benefits of their new life.

the women on their introduction to Greek life in the four social sororities at Fort Hays State.

Rush Week activities feature programs of various cultures. Sigma Sigma Sigmas entertain rushees with their interpretation of the affluent Roman society of long ago as prospective Greeks acquire information from active members.

Polynesian maidens in native costume and setting are on hand for the Delta Zeta rush party where they encouraged coeds to go Greek.

Sigma Kappas present a "Sound of Sigma" skit for the women attending their preference party.

Performing during the third part of the program, "That's Jazz," brothers Earl and Gary Blauer play Ernest Bastin's arrangement of "Taste of Honey."

Accompanied by the band, Rita Rasmussen sings "More Than You Know."

Guest trombonist Earl Hoffman displays equal skill on the tuba with a solo in Act II, "Concert in the Park."

Musicians Pool Abilities For Varsity Band Show

Various areas of the FHS music department combined efforts again this year to perform at the annual Varsity Band Show which was staged in November.

All phases of talent were featured in the show in which the Tiger football band, the Jazz ensemble, the Varsity-Symphonic Band, the Tiger Debs precision drill team and a barbershop quartet were among the performers.

Earl Hoffman, trombone soloist, was the guest instrumentalist. Sheryle Simmons displayed her twirling talents for a session of the program and Karen Anderson was presented in a vocal number. Rita Rasmussen, vocalist, and Ernest Bastin, trumpeter, also performed.

Lyle Dilley, assistant professor of music, directed the Varsity Band Show with the assistance of Huffman and Bastin. Some of the parts which were staged in the show included "Gridiron Glory," "Concert in the Park," "That's Jazz," and the "Finale."

Newly crowned Reville Queen, Karen Anderson, receives her trophy from Deanna Miller.

After her coronation, Queen Karen, her court of attendants, and their escorts lead dancers in the coronation waltz.

Amid the pine trees of the "Snow Castle," students dance to the music provided by the Ray Hempler orchestra.

Reville Queen Crowned In 'Snow Castle' Scene

Decorations depicting the theme "Snow Castle" provided the atmosphere for the coronation of the 1968 Reville Queen at the annual Snowball formal dance in mid-December.

Presenting Karen Anderson with the crown and title of the queen was her predecessor, Nancy Ann Ward. Miss Anderson was selected for the honor by Miss America for 1968, Debra Dene Barnes of Pittsburg, Kansas.

Area weather conditions were in harmony with the theme of the formal with an ice storm providing a preview of the setting for those attending. Queen Karen and her court danced amid the array of colorfully clad couples to the music of Ray Hempler and his orchestra.

Sharing the spotlight with Miss Anderson were the members of her court, Barbara Bickford, Linda Donahay, Arlene Hamburg and Donna Synovec.

Miss America's Selection Is 1968 Reveille Queen

Chosen by Debbie Barnes, Miss America 1968, Karen Anderson won the title of 1968 Reveille Queen. Sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta, Miss Anderson was crowned at the AWS Snowball by Nancy Ward, 1967 Reveille Queen. The queen and her sponsoring organization were presented with victory trophies.

Miss Anderson's campus activities included membership in Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and Gamma Delta, singer for the college Jazz Ensemble, and leader and organizer of "Tiger Debs" drill team. Representing her state, Miss Anderson was Kansas Junior Miss 1966 and Miss Kansas of Baton Twirling 1963. Her talents include singing, dancing, and twirling. She plans to become an elementary school teacher.

Judging on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, grades, and activities, a five-member faculty panel interviewed 13 candidates and named five finalists. Pictures of the five were sent to Miss America who chose the winner on beauty alone.

Yule Vacation Highlights

December's Activity List

During the short month of December, various activities including a play and a jazz concert provided campus entertainment. The annual presentation of Christmas Vespers ushered in the Yuletide Season.

Sheridan Coliseum bulged at the seams as Fort Hays Staters cheered the Tiger cagers to victory in the early part of the season. The Tigers closed out the year with the Holiday Tournament in Greeley, Colo.

Several honors were bestowed on students and faculty members in the last month of the year. Glen Stockwell was presented with All-Student Council's Professor of the Month title, Karen Anderson received the Reville Queen crown and Jean Depperschmidt was chosen by the Leader staff to be December's Leader Lass.

Cold but mild weather encouraged skaters to put Big Creek to use for winter sport. But, through all the excitement and activity, student attention and anticipation was concentrated on the upcoming Christmas vacation with its abundance of Christmas cheer.

Students spend part of December decorating for Christmas as they trim trees in many campus buildings.

Dancers at the AWS-sponsored Snowball formal witness the crowning of the 1968 Reville Queen. They provide a court of honor for Queen Karen, chosen for the title by Miss America, Debra Barnes.

Weather permitting, ice-skating is one of the activities in which sports enthusiasts engage. Ice-covered Big Creek, which winds its way through the campus, comes in handy during the cold December days for those who relish the sport.

Inside, in the warmth of the Coliseum, cheerleaders encourage victory to ...

... basketball players who do their best to win and keep the fans and ...

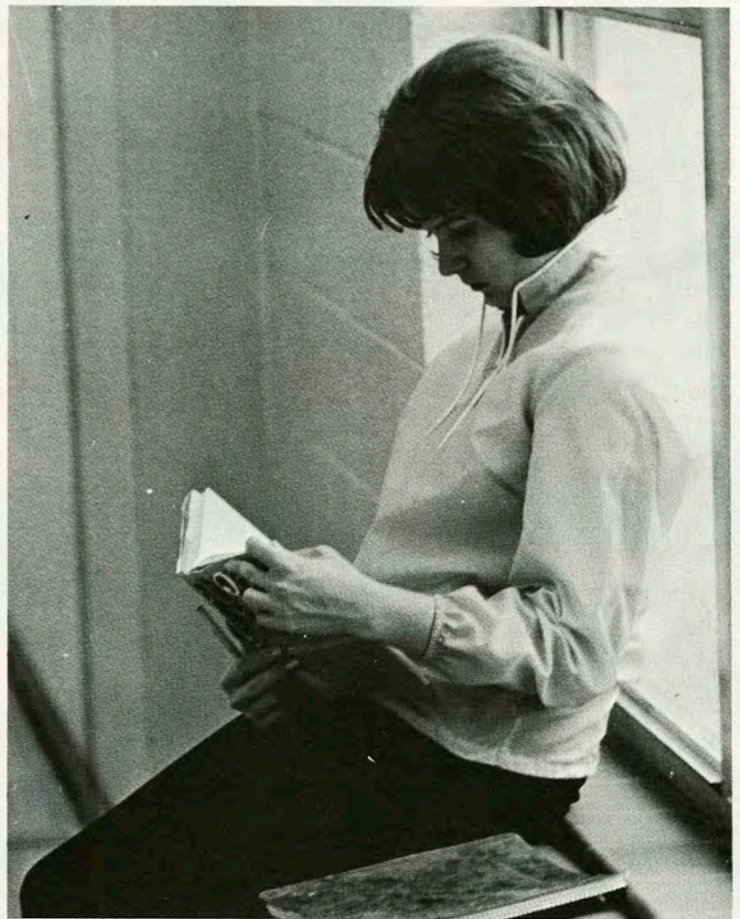

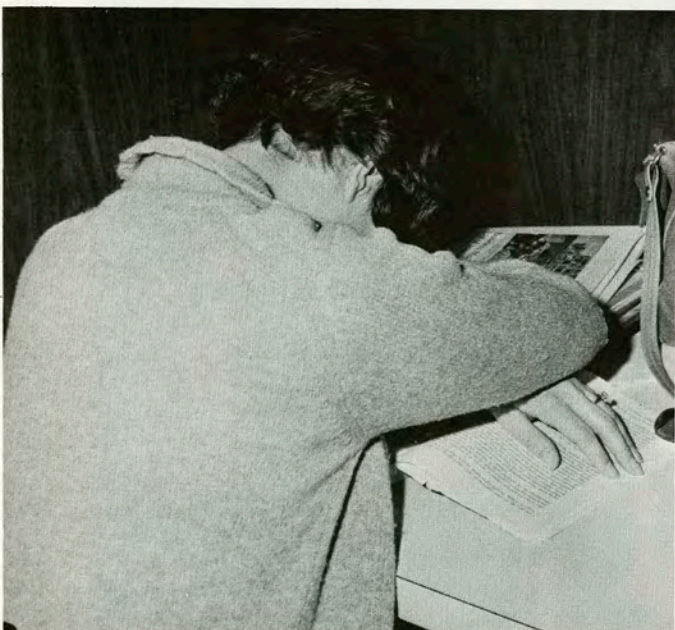

... the Tiger mascot in good spirits. But, they can't always do that.

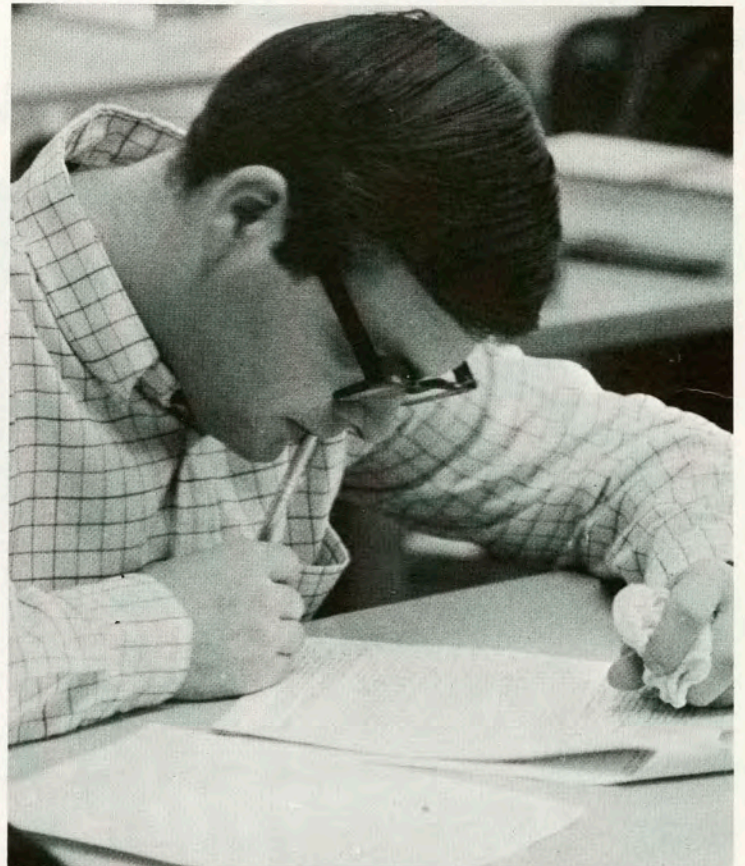

Practice makes perfect and perfection is the goal for students who face oral exams in foreign language courses.

As zero hour nears, mental fatigue sets in and the need for immediate rest takes precedence over that review session.

Forsyth Library is not the only study area on campus during finals. Students make use of every spare moment for preparation.

Time has come for the test, not only of the knowledge supposedly acquired, but of the study techniques employed.

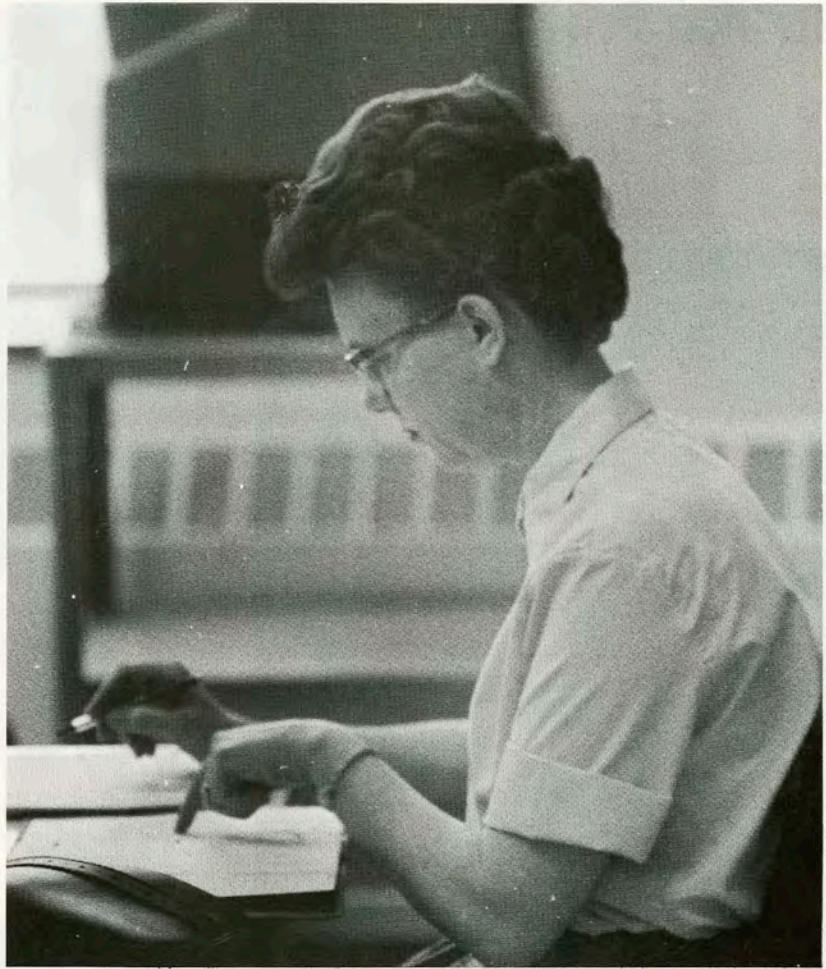

Final Tests Motivate Varied Study Habits

From the first day of classes to the last, there lingers the threat of final examinations in every course. Preparation for this haunting experience entails maintaining up-to-date class notes, regular class attendance and, most of all, excellent cramming techniques.

Finals are not only bad news to students, but they also take their toll in instructors who must compile and correct the exams and report grades before the deadline.

After that final final, which definitely is the worst ever given, there comes a feeling of relief—maybe exuberance—and the student files another semester's knowledge into his already-cluttered mind.

For some, the semester's end meant graduation and a new life, while others merely gathered their belongings and headed for home and a week's vacation. But the end of finals provided an incentive for celebration for all students before they undertook the tedious task of enrollment that began another education cycle from first class to final.

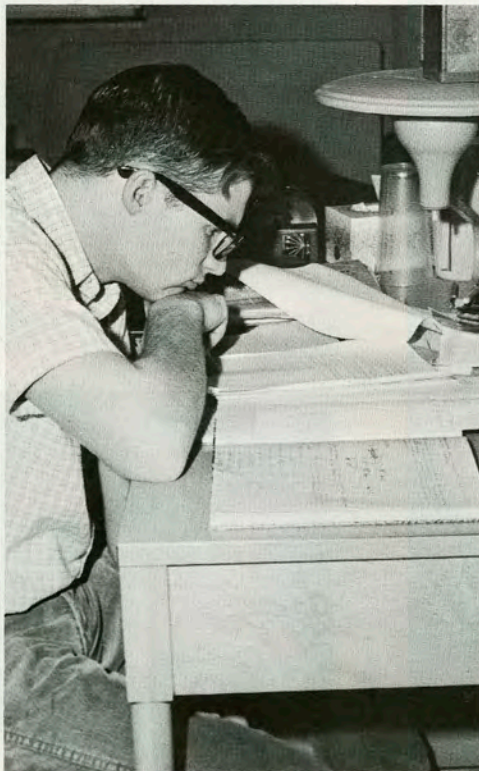

While it seems they are unbothered by the entire situation, the faculty also faces finals with a sense of anxiety about getting them graded.

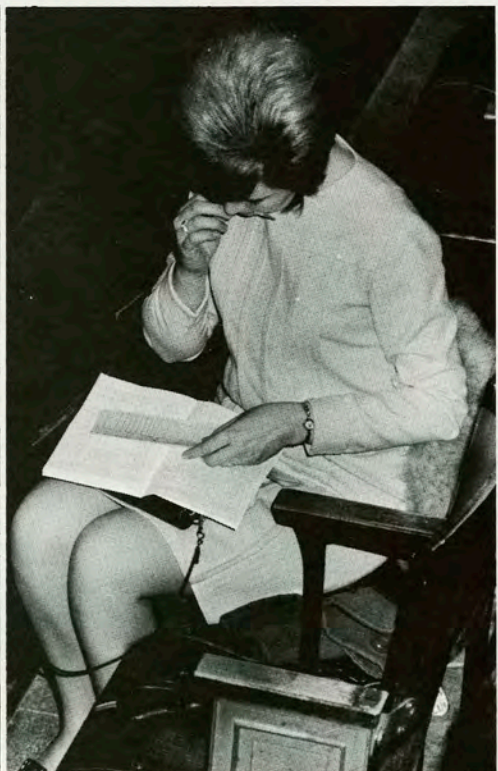

Finals bring out the best in some students and make them happy . . .

. . . while others survey their results with sorrow and disdain . . .

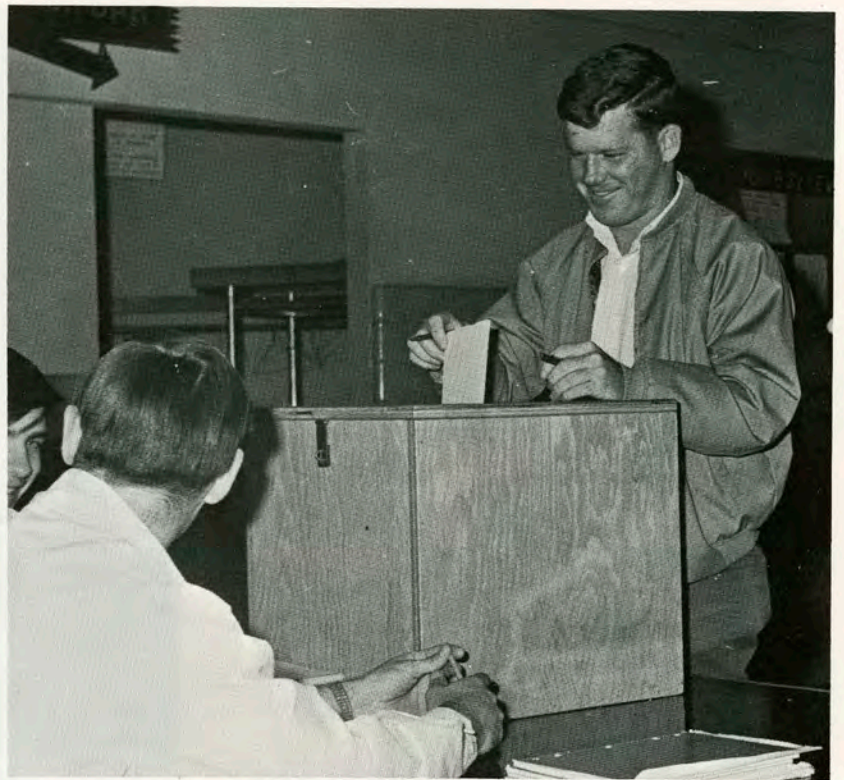

. . . and still others file them to memory and look for new horizons.

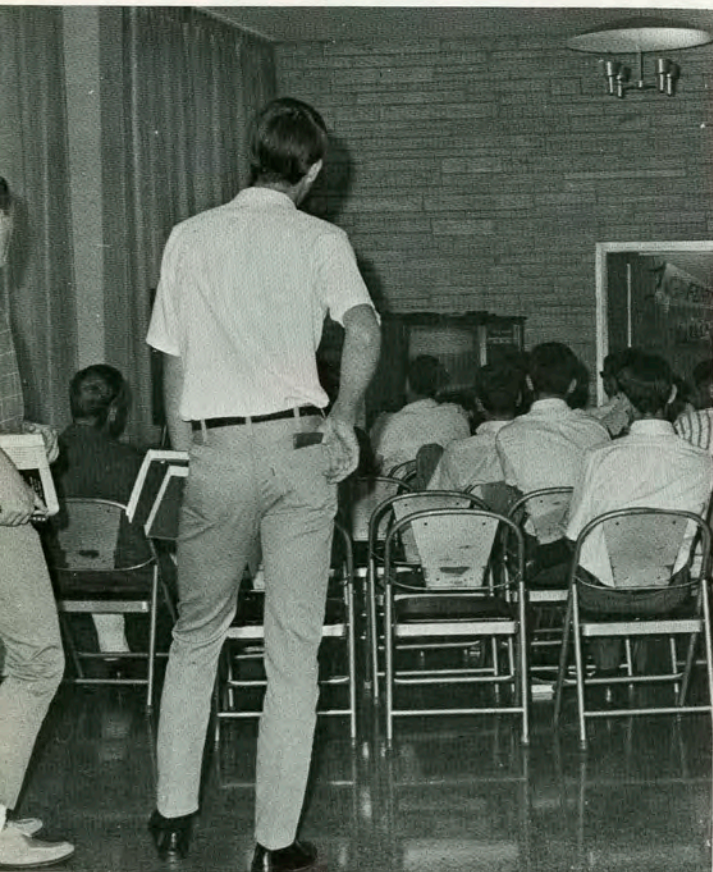

In the Fall . . .

... we came to campus, acquainted ourselves with our new surroundings, made new friends and renewed former friendships.

We chose some of these friends to be our class leaders, to perform the job of officials in the student government at Fort Hays State.

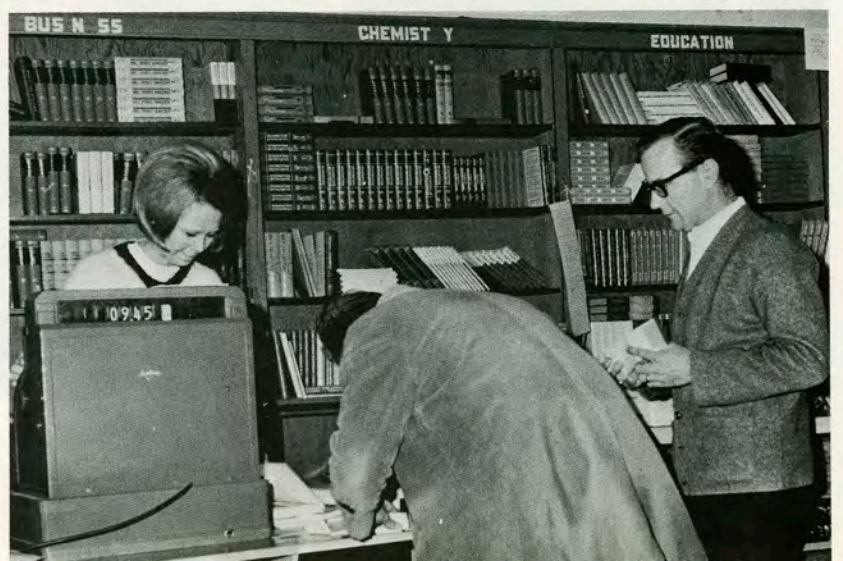

In September we stationed ourselves strategically in the Union to watch our team win or lose the World Series.

Anytime was a good time for rest and relaxation and the cool, green lawns and tall shade trees were often too inviting to pass up.

We stood in lines and spent money, too, in the fall. One of our many reasons for spending was the need for texts, notebooks and equipment.

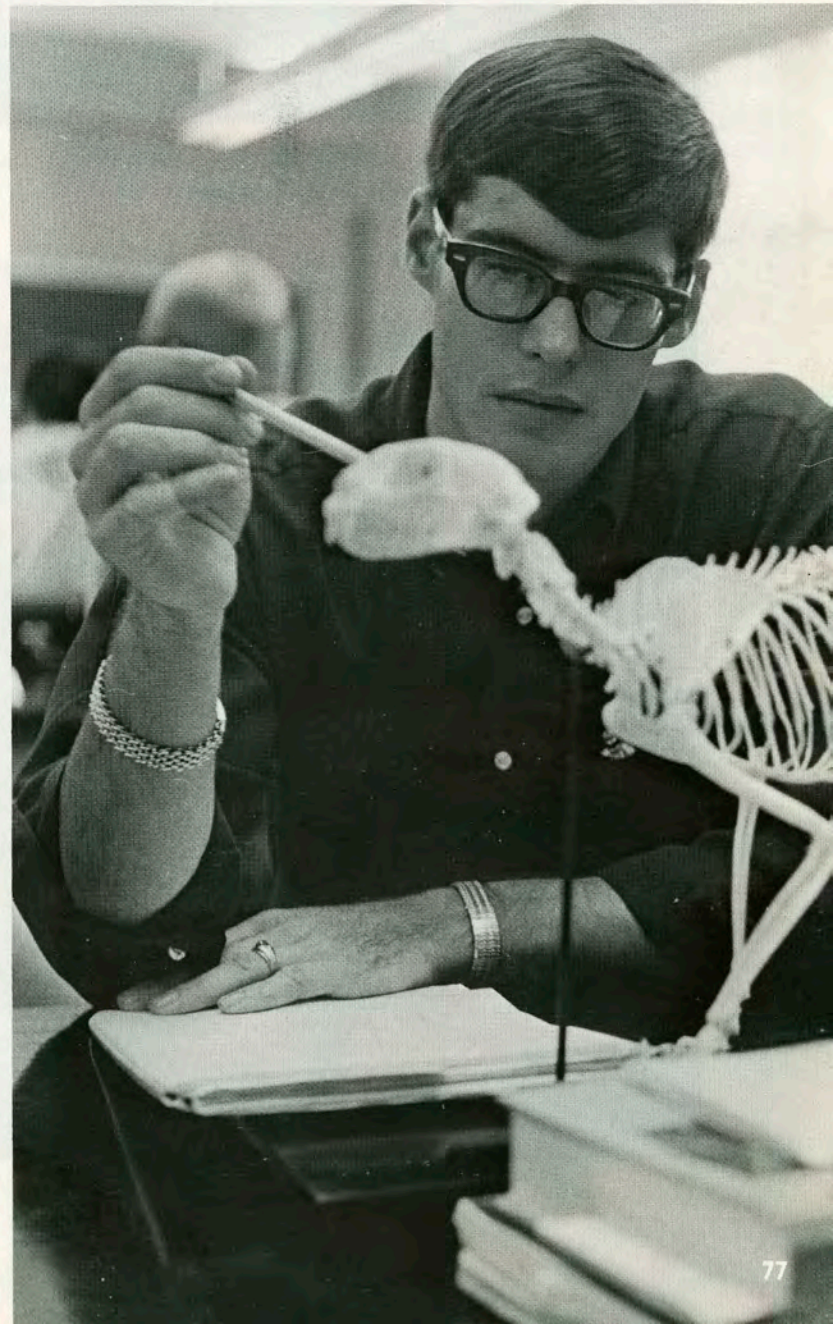

We also took time out for celebrations in the fall. We wanted this Homecoming to be the best yet, so we worked up some enthusiasm and headed for the bonfire on Friday evening.

But most of all we came to Fort Hays State to get an education and widen our scope of knowledge through the efforts of study.

We also wanted to show off our surroundings to our parents. We invited them to campus on Parents' Day for a guided tour of FHS.

Sweetheart Ball Royalty Awarded Titles, Crowns

Dick Cole and Vickie Kaiser reigned over Valentine festivities as King and Queen of Cupids at the annual Sweetheart Ball in February. Sponsored by Custer Hall and Tau Kappa Epsilon, respectively, the royalty were elected by those attending the dance from a group of eleven nominees.

Displaying their musical talents, the Four Sharps provided arrangements to fit the theme of "The Queen of Cupids."

Queen Vickie is a McPherson freshman and a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma. King Dick is a Larned senior and a Delta Sigma Phi member. Other candidates for king and queen were: Jay Heckman, Martyn Howgill, John Mason, Jim Murphy, Chuck Warden, Barbara Brungardt, Joan Griesse, Judy Sothers, and Fawne Winter.

Sophomore Captures Title In Best-Dressed Contest

Lynn Corn, Lawrence sophomore, took top honors in the Best-Dressed Coed Contest on campus thus becoming eligible for the national competition. The contest was sponsored by Glamour Magazine.

Miss Corn was nominated for participation in the contest by residents of Agnew Hall. Runners up were Vickie Kaiser and Rose Ann Cox. Winners were selected from among eight coed contestants by the audience. Finalists were chosen by a panel of judges.

Along with her entrance into the national competition, Miss Corn will receive a trip to New York City and a special gift from the magazine. Miss Corn and other winners will be pictured in Glamour Magazine.

Leap Week Activity Nets $350 for Scholarship Fund

Fort Hays State took on an atmosphere of Dogpatch U.S.A. during the last week of February as the role of gentlemen was taken by the campus coeds for Leap Week.

Chivalrous ladies opened doors, carried books and treated their men to snacks while the boys enjoyed the attention.

In a People-to-People sponsored contest, Laah Hachmeister and Steve Helman were selected Daisy Mae and Bearded Joe. The couple was named at the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Voting at a penny-a-vote netted $350 for a scholarship for a foreign student.

Music, Speeches Included In Spring A&L Series

Artist and Lecture talent for the spring semester at FHS included a symphony orchestra, a former U.S. Congressman, a U. S. Senator and a singing group.

Former Minnesota Congressman Dr. Walter H. Judd addressed an open assembly March 1 in Sheridan Coliseum and marked the opening of the spring A&L season. Dr. Judd's topic of discussion was the Vietnam War.

Also elaborating on the situation in Southeast Asia, Wyoming Senator Gale McGee presented his views on April 10. The two speakers agreed on basic war policy.

Stanislaw Skrowaczewski conducted the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra to open the musical portion of the A&L Series with a program combining classic as well as romantic and contemporary masterpieces.

Closing out the spring list of artists and lectures was the modern singing group, Harper's Bizarre, performing such of their hit tunes as "The 59th Street Bridge Song," "Chattanooga Choo Choo" and "Anything Goes."

Dr. Walter Judd, well-known authority on world affairs paid a return visit to campus under the auspices of A&L.

Presenting its interpretation of a combination of music types, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra was the first of two musical presentations of the spring A&L Series. Maestro Stanislaw Skrowaczewski conducted the Symphony.

Combining humor with their popular songs, the four members of the Harper's Bizarre sing, dance and clown their way through their two-hour A & L performance. Three additional accompanists provide background music for the group's songs.

Sen. Gale McGee explains his point of view on the Vietnam War in a lecture before an Artist and Lectures audience.

People in the crowd clap hands and join in the singing to a well-known song performed by the Harper's Bizarre.

"This is Greek Week," comes the shout from mouths and signs as campus Greeks parade through Hays.

Friendly coaxing from the Greek Week crowd encourages Lou Skubal in her race to become the FHS pizza-eating champion.

Members of campus fraternities and sororities test their skills in games throughout the week. Chariot, sack and toilet paper games are only a few of the games which climax a week of banquets, teas and parties planned by and for Greeks.

Busiest Week on Campus Occurs During Mid-April

One of the busiest weeks of the school year occurred April 15 to 20. Named Greek Week for its annual appearance, not all the activities of the week were limited to Greeks. All students were involved in the election of officers. Campaign posters covered the campus as candidates for office made themselves known to voters.

Contests were also conducted in connection with blood donations to the Blood Mobile. KFHS radio broadcast the Tiger Talent Time which selected the top Tiger talent for 1968.

Tuesday the campus was invaded by high school seniors who came for Career Day. During three days of the week, campus organizations sponsored Vietnam Days to present both sides of the Southeast Asian controversy. A lecture by Dr. Timothy Leary was canceled due to his imprisonment on a narcotics charge.

Dr. William Boyer, one of three speakers on the topic, points out the policy of the U.S. in the Vietnam War.

Campaign posters and speeches help campus politicians gain seats on the All-Student Council. Pulling in the most votes for the top two ASC offices were Mike Finnin and Lois Ruder.

Two Rainy Days in April Set Scene for Furloughs

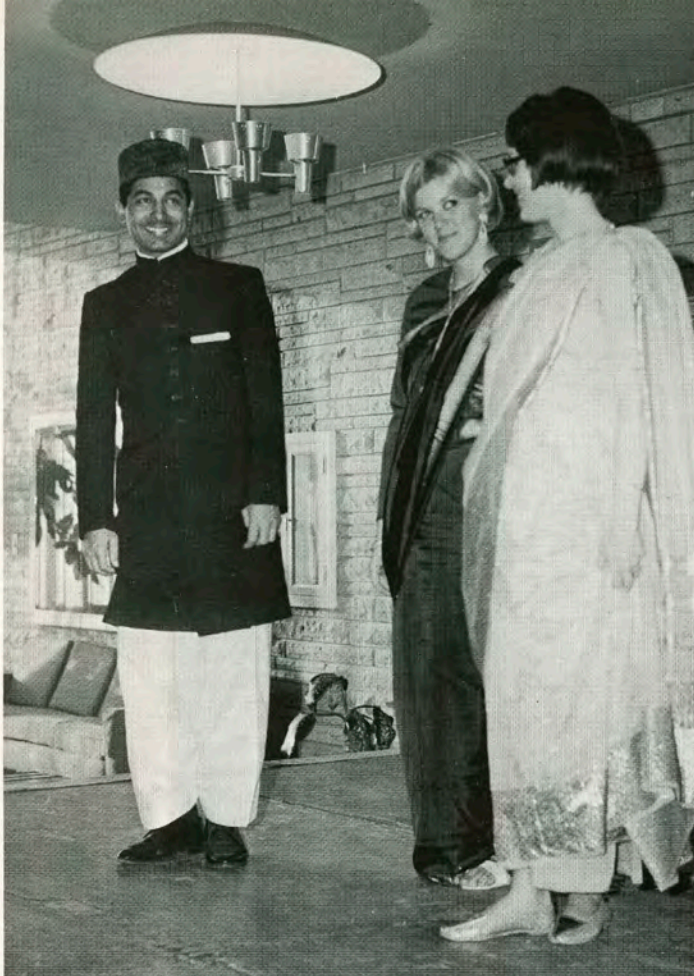

Furlough Weekend came and so did the rains.

Rainy weather is not the exception during the weekend of the Fort Hays Furloughs but neither does it dampen the spirits of the bicycle teams or the on-lookers yelling encouragement during the races.

Black and white teams of Tigers tangled in the annual intra-squad football game Friday evening with the Blacks downing the Whites 26-13. During half-time activities at the game, Miki Dreiling received the title of Furlough Queen. Sponsored by Sigma Chi and elected by the student body, the Hays freshman was crowned by President M. C. Cunningham.

In racing competition at the State Park, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes out-peddled their 11 opponent teams and won the first place trophy. Bringing home the cup on the distaff side of the roster was Women's Recreation Assn. Number 2.

Faculty members were sold to the highest bidders at the faculty slave auction. Members of the Veterans Club managed the Fifth Annual Furlough.

Foreign Students Share Their Homeland Customs

Displays of international customs and art work filled the Memorial Union for the International Art Festival sponsored by the foreign students.

Dressed in native costumes, the international students hosted a meal which consisted of Oriental, Near Eastern and European dishes.

In the program following the dinner, the students performed in talent numbers of music, dancing and sports events. Varieties of stringed and woodwind instruments were used for solos and accompaniment. Judo and Thailand boxing were the two sports demonstrated for the guests. Narrators and models participated in a style show which displayed native costumes.

In the upper level of the Union the students showed art work and other items from their homelands.

Boxing gloves mean little to the fighters in Thailand boxing where the feet are the main weapons of attack.

Voting in the 1968 Leader Lass election resulted in a tie between two of the nine beauties selected by the State College Leader staff. Sharing the title were Susan Nielsen, Russell sophomore, and Gwen Beebe, Wichita freshman.

Campus Men Unable to Choose One Leader Lass

Chosen on the basis of beauty and photographic quality, nine Fort Hays State coeds reigned as Leader Lass during the year. Members of the State College Leader staff nominated and selected a coed each month of the academic year to occupy the featured spot on the front page of the college weekly.

Unable to pick just one winner from the group of lasses, FHS men, voting as the final judges, narrowed the field to two women but could go no further. So, for the first time in the history of the annual contest, two coeds were awarded the title of Leader Lass of the Year. Sue Nielsen, January's Leader Lass, and Gwen Beebe, Leader Lass for the month of March, were 1968's winners. Taking third place honors in the election was Cheryl Fort, Ulysses freshman and October's Lass.

Penny Ryan, Scott City freshman, headed the list of Leader Lasses with her election in September. Sharing November's spotlight with Thanksgiving was Susan McClaren, Lewis freshman, while Jean Depperschmidt appeared during the Christmas month. Miss December was a sophomore from Park.

Teresa Potts, Haysville freshman, was the Leader staff's February Valentine and John Clawson, Gorham, and Mary Edwards, Wellington, held their tilts during the spring months of April and May. Both were freshmen.

Bewildered by the entire situation, this poor billy is everybody's—at least the coeds'—goat at the Rodeo. Determined coeds work with all their might to down the goat and bind three of his legs to win in this competition.

Willa Thompson, Talmage freshman, was chosen by members of the Rodeo Club to be queen of the Rodeo.

FHS Girls' Team Takes Winning Trophy at Rodeo

Two weeks after the Furlough came the annual Rodeo and, not unlike the Furlough, the Rodeo brought much-needed rains to the Hays area. Besides the normal man against beast aspect of rodeo action this year, as in years past, there was the added battle of man and beast against the elements. However, the skies did clear for Saturday night, the second night of action.

FHS's girls' team took top honors in the Third Annual Rodeo and the men's team placed second.

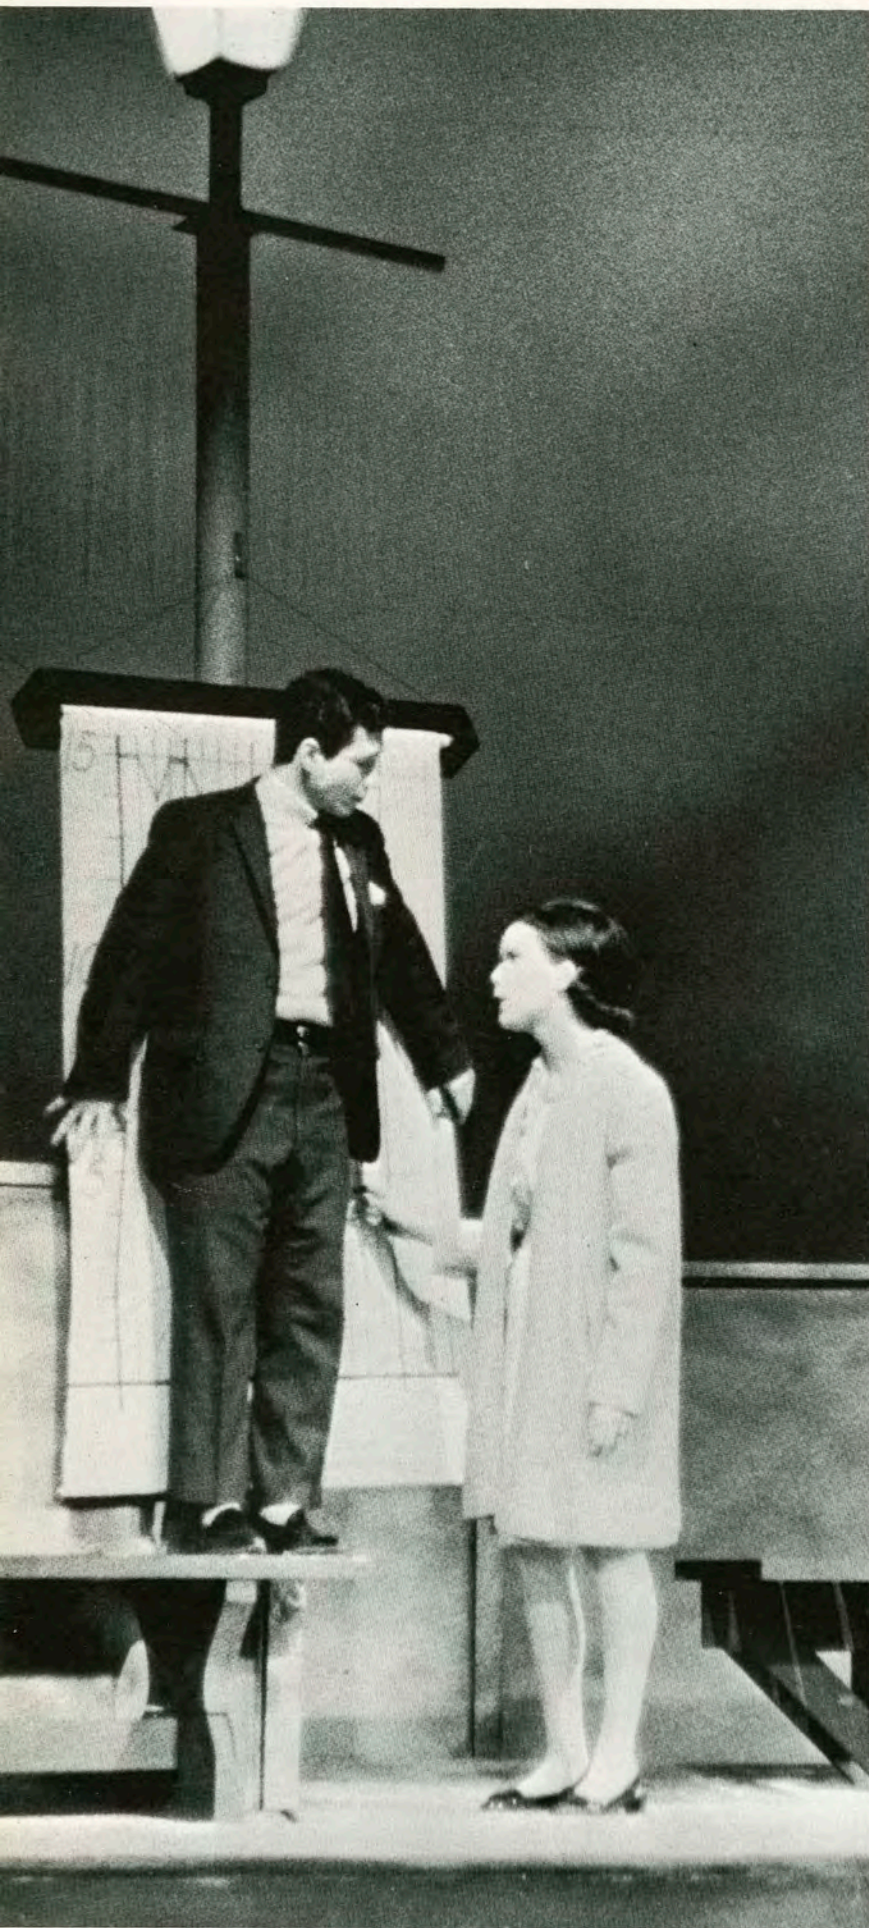

Events at the Rodeo included bareback riding, calf roping, bull riding, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, barrel racing and goat tying.

Joe Hedrick, former Fort Hays State student and rodeo star, performed as clown for the event. Now a teacher, Hedrick's act included a trained mule, Susie, and two trained performing llamas.

Brahma bull riding is one of the highlights of any rodeo and certainly brings excitement to the crowds as the rider hangs onto the rope in hopes of outlasting the bull. Livestock and cowboys both fight elements of rain and mud this year.

Ellen Manville complains to her husband Milt that something has gone awry in their formerly happy marriage.

Three Actors Comprise Entire Cast of Play 'Luv'

Theatregoers witnessed Fort Hays State's rendition of Murray Schisgal's comedy "Luv" in March.

Comprised of only three actors, the play was filled with physical and verbal comedy which is concerned with absurd exaggerations of problems that face mankind. One of the major concerns of the play was "the meaninglessness of it all."

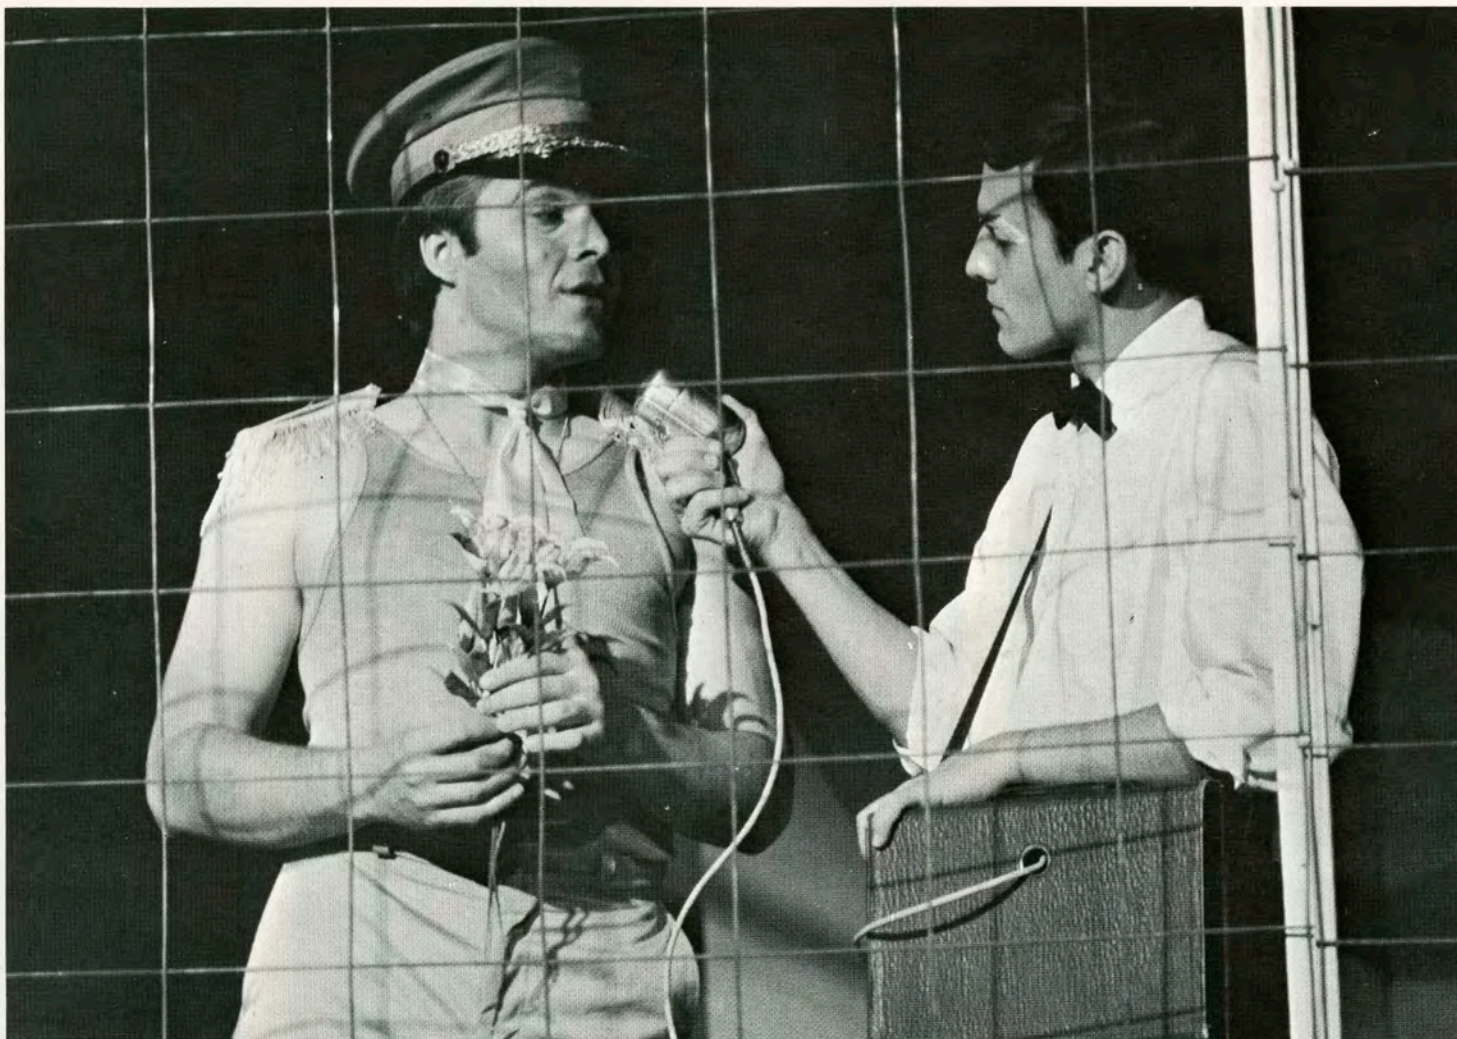

Dr. Lewis Miller, assistant professor of music, composed a song to match cliches in Schisgal's lyrics. Perry Schwartz, instructor in speech, directed the third little theatre production of the year, and Robert Reinecke, instructor in speech, designed and engineered construction of the scenery.

Dorothy Welter, Norton freshman, portrayed Ellen Manville, the only female character. Ellen's husband, Milt, was played by Art Dirks, WaKeeney senior.

Completing the cast was Phil King, Albuquerque, N.M., senior, who played Harry Berlin.

In one manner or another newlyweds Ellen and Harry Berlin attempt to prove their love for one another.

Short scenes and quick changes brought the effect of cinema to the stage in Felten-Start Theater for the production of "The General Returns From One Place to Another." Wayne Madison, Council Bluffs, Iowa, freshman, was the general.

"Tiresias" deals with what was a serious political problem to France in 1917—repopulation and emancipation of women.

One Act Plays Close Out Little Theatre Productions

Closing out Little Theatre productions for the year were two one-act plays, "The Breasts of Tiresias" and "The General Returns From One Place to Another."

"Fragment," by Kurt Schwitters, symbolizes the usual rejection of the new, the radical and the foreign. This short play preceded the two one-acts.

Written by Guillaume Apollinaire, "The Breasts of Tiresias" is one of the first surrealistic plays. In the play Tiresias is a young woman who revolts against child bearing and denies her sex to enter into a number of masculine activities.

"The General," by Frank O'Hara, uses over 20 scenes to portray a revolt against the military mind and a plea for a return to the human arts and the value of beauty.

Perry Schwartz directed the plays.

Tough Competition Holds Tigers to Third in CIC

Coach Wayne McConnell's 1967 fighting Tigers, lacking experience to do the difficult, finished a season of tough competition with a third place finish in the Central Intercollegiate Conference. The Bengals were 2-2 in league play and 3-5 overall. Statistically, Fort Hays State was a better team, but bad breaks cost the Tigers games against Southwestern Oklahoma State and Colorado State College.

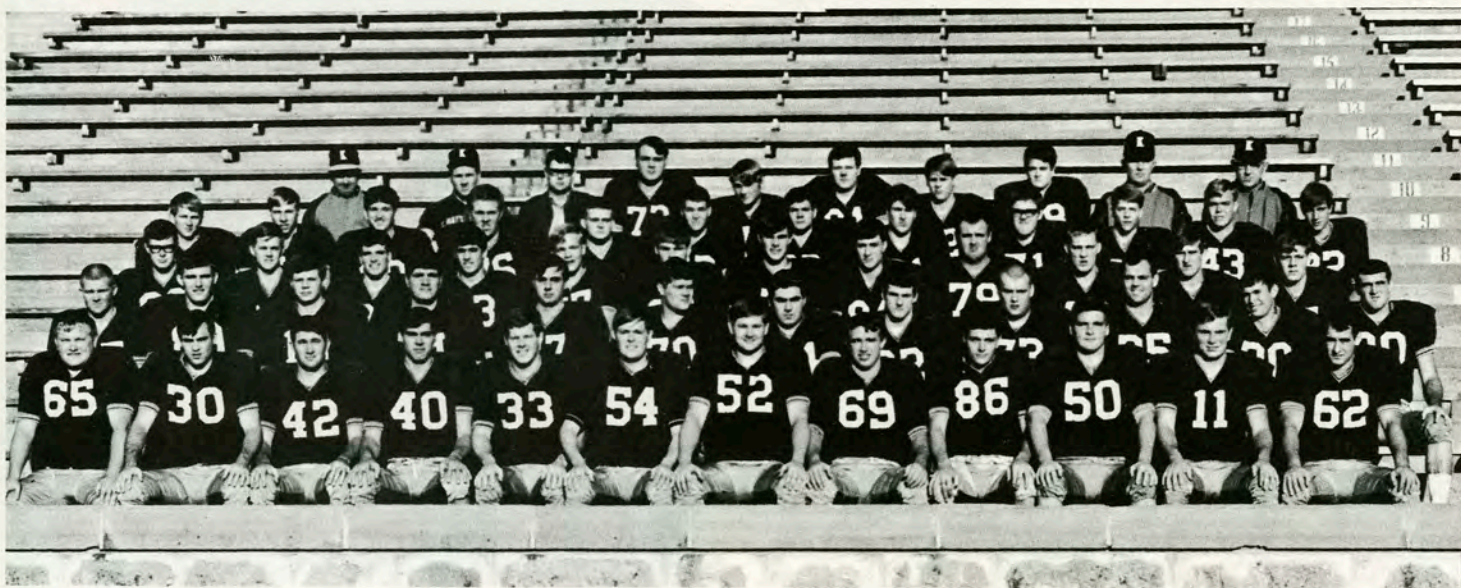

FHS did set six new records as a team and tied one. Tigers set four individual marks and tied four other individual records. Passing of Leo Hayden teamed with catching of Dennis Spratt tied or broke seven records. Opponents of FHS were out-classed in everything except the final score and standings.

Competition Makes Wins Hard To Get for Tigers

Eight teams from four states provided stiff competition for the 1967 Tiger football squad which ended the season with a 3-5-0 record. Coach McConnell's Bengals started off slowly by dropping the first three encounters of the season. They lost to Southwestern Oklahoma 27-20, Kearney (Neb.) State 27-7, and Colorado State College 10-7.

Making a bid for the CIC crown, the Tigers succeeded in winning the next three games, the first two being conference clashes, downing Washburn University 35-0, Emporia State 26-7, and Southern Colorado State 14-0.

Two final games of the season were conference games and the Tigers evened their league record by losing to Pittsburg State 7-13 and Omaha University 28-41. FHS finished the season posting a 2-2 in league play, ending up third place in the CIC behind Omaha and Pittsburg.

Tiger Offensive Statistics Are Proof of Good Year

Tiger aerial attack, with quarterback Leo Hayden throwing, and ends Dennis Spratt and Ken Caywood doing the biggest share of the receiving, proved an effective weapon in the FHS offensive arsenal during 1967.

Four offensive team standards were set—season passing yardage was 1,099 yards; 172 passes were attempted during the season of which 79 were completed; and fewest fumbles in a season with only 11 dropped.

Hayden established individual marks for the season—his passing yardage was 978. He attempted 152 passes of which 70 were completed, and season scoring passes thrown totaled 11. He also tied records for game passes attempted with 23 in games against Southwest Oklahoma State and Omaha University, and game scoring passes with four against Washburn.

Tiger defense set marks for the lowest season rushing yardage allowed with only 1,078 yards.

Spratt tied a record for game scoring passes received with three touchdown receptions in a game against Washburn University. The team tied the mark for fewest fumbles lost in a season with only seven.

Bengals Place Nine Men On All-Conference Teams

Four FHS football players earned berths on the Central Intercollegiate Conference 1967 all-star squad. Rich Dreiling, junior fullback, won the honor of being selected to the CIC first team for the third consecutive year. Also named to the first team on offense was James Powell, sophomore tackle.

Defensive first team honors were awarded to junior end Jon Mastin and senior linebacker Terry Claycamp. Tigers named to the second team unit included sophomore end Dennis Spratt and junior end Ken Caywood. Junior halfback Ron Goates completed the list of Bengals on second team offense.

This year's squad members selected to the CIC second team on defense included Frank Tappan, sophomore tackle, and Roger Faulkender, sophomore safety.

Several outstanding members of the Tiger squad received recognition in the conference. Rich Dreiling (above), junior full-back, captured the honor of first team all-CIC offense. Defensive end on the all-CIC first team went to junior Jon Martin (below).

Men making first team positions in the CIC are considered the best by other conference members. First team all-CIC at the offensive tackle position went to sophomore, James Powell (above). Terry Claycamp (below), a senior, held down the position of first team all-CIC defensive linebacker.

Tiger Harriers Chalk Up Fourth Conference Title

For the fourth straight year, the Fort Hays State cross country squad has captured the Central Intercollegiate Conference title. Under the direction of Coach Alex Francis, the Tigers also came out fifth in the NAIA Championships at Omaha.

Paced by the strong running of John Mason, who remained undefeated during the ten meets of the season and set records at many of them, the harriers fared well in every meet they attended. Altogether the squad racked up five firsts, two second place finishes, a fifth place and seventh spot in the always-tough Oklahoma State University "Jamboree" at Stillwater.

Coach Francis, who founded cross country at FHS 12 years ago, started the season with a few veterans and some young, eager freshmen and sophomores. Two of the inexperienced runners came through like veterans by trailing Mason across the line and receiving second and third spots on the squad.

With the great effort put out by the returning squadmen as well as promising freshmen, the Tigers succeeded in closing out one of the finest showings in cross country history at Fort Hays State.

John Mason shows the style that made him undefeated during the season and led him to the CIC and NAIA championships.

Harrier Coach Alex Francis has directed his team to one of the most successful seasons in cross country history at FHS. Under his direction, the Tigers have won the CIC title four times and finished as runner-up seven times.

Roger Carlin, trailed by a string of Bengals, sprints down the home stretch to the finish line in a dual meet with Emporia at the Hays course.

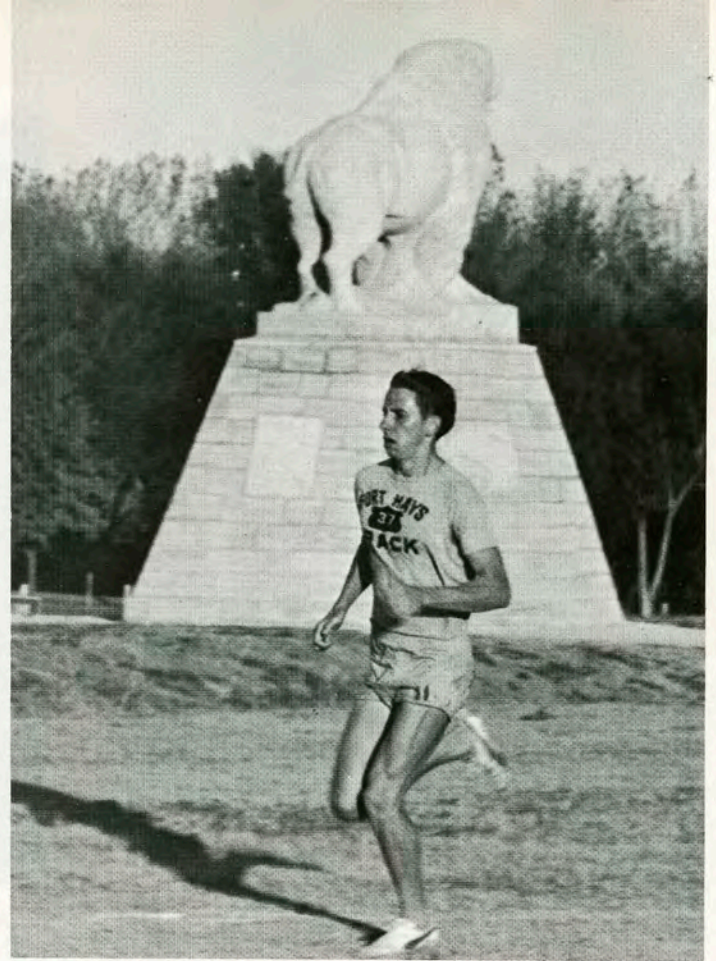

Central Intercollegiate Conference cross country champions were Jerry Shelly, Roger Carlin, Bruce Zamrzla, Steve Boeh-mer, Jerry Duran, Dave McLeland, Dick Bruin, and John Mason. The Tigers have captured the title for four straight years.

Wrapped up in a discussion of an upcoming race with Coach Alex Francis, John Mason takes a break from the rigorous training that occupies a large part of his spare time.

John Mason Paces Cross Country Team To Fourth CIC Title

John Mason, Fort Hays State's outstanding distance ace, set a record-shattering pace to lead the FHS cross-country squad to its fourth CIC title in a row.

The Phillipsburg junior, who has run since the eighth grade, went undefeated and broke five records during the ten meets of the season. He holds the school record for the mile, two-mile and 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Mason has been selected twice as NAIA All American in cross country and was named "Most outstanding athlete in 1967 in the sport of long distance running" by the Missouri Valley Association of the Amateur Athletic Union.

By winning the NAIA meet, Mason succeeded in achieving the first of the three goals he set for himself at the beginning of the season. The other two are breaking the four-minute mile and being a member of the 1968 U.S. Olympic team in Mexico City.

Roger Carlin, Bucklin freshman, finished well up front at most meets and was number three on the Tiger squad.

With a last burst of speed down the straightaway, Mason puts another win into the record books and leads the Tigers to another victory.

Cagers Tie for Third With 3-5 Mark in CIC

Finishing out the year with an 11-11 season record, the Tigers battled to a tie for third place in the Central Intercollegiate Conference. At the start of the season, head coach Chuck Brehm welcomed back eight lettermen, two provisional lettermen and three junior college transfers, which meant that the FHS lineup saw many different faces.

Outstanding performers in the Tiger ranks included Fred Andregg, Bill Greving and Gene Rider. Andregg, a senior, finished out his career with the Tigers with an average of 20 points a game and was awarded the Ashleman-Walters Most Inspirational Player Award. Mike Miller, senior center, also ended his college basketball career at FHS.

Three new records were set during the season. Andregg tied the mark for points scored in one game with 41 against Rocky Mountain College and set a new record of 20 field goals in the same game. Bill Greving set the other for highest percentage of shots made from the field with 54.1 per cent.

Tiger Cagers Beat Six Of First Eight Opponents

The first game of the season saw the Tigers roar over Southern Colorado State before an enthusiastic FHS crowd. In road contests, the Rangers of Northwestern Oklahoma State went down to the Tigers but the Southern Colorado State Indians redeemed themselves for their earlier defeat and handed FHS its first loss.

Omaha University was the next victim as the Bengals broke the 100-point mark to down the defending CIC co-champs. Southwestern Oklahoma State's Bulldogs fell under the Tiger attack in another home game.

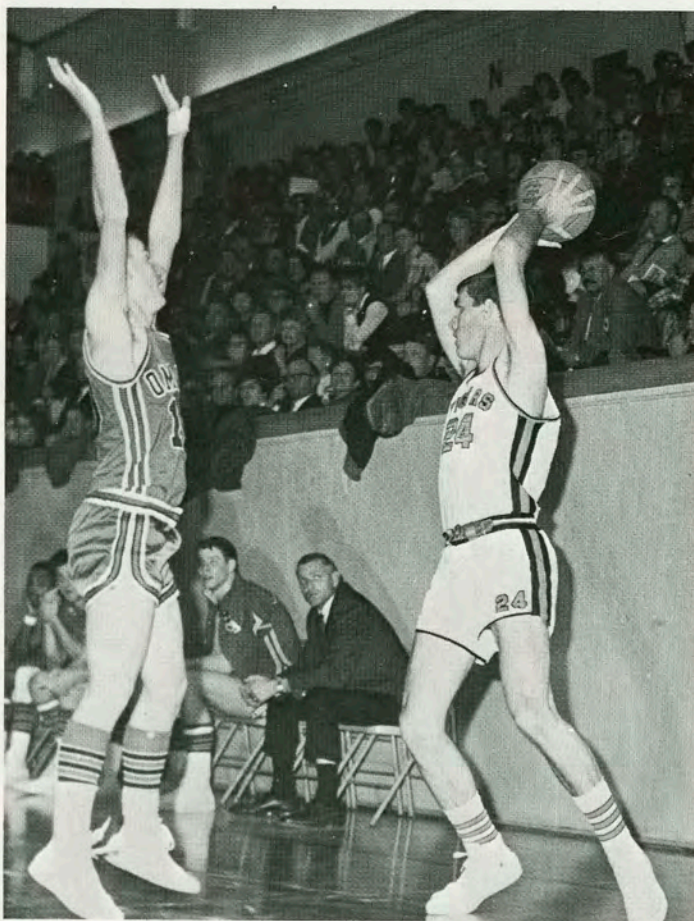

St. Benedict's two All-Americans seemed to do them little good as a determined FHS squad defeated the Ravens on their home court. The Holiday Tournament at Greeley, Colorado, saw the Tigers go down in defeat to Abilene Christian College and come out victors over Rocky Mountain College to bring the 1967 part of the season to a close.

Emporia State cagers think twice about trying to take a rebound away from Mike Miller, 6-5 senior center.

Cage Squad Evens Count With 11-11 for All Games

Getting the new year off to a good start, the Tigers downed Hastings (Neb.) College on the FHS court. However, the Hastings game was a blow to the FHS squad with the loss of Mike McAtee who suffered a wrist injury. The next contest was also at home with Emporia State, in which the Hornets handed the Bengals their third defeat and signaled the beginning of a string of losses.

In the first out-of-town game of the new year at Kearney (Neb.) State, the Antelopes came out on top. Three traveling losses followed: Pittsburg State, Hastings College, and Washburn University.

Back on the home court once again, the Tigers defeated Northwestern Oklahoma State. This victory was followed by losses to Emporia State and St. Mary of the Plains.

Traveling to Omaha, the Tigers beat the Indians on their own stomping grounds and then returned home to snow under Pittsburg State by 30 points.

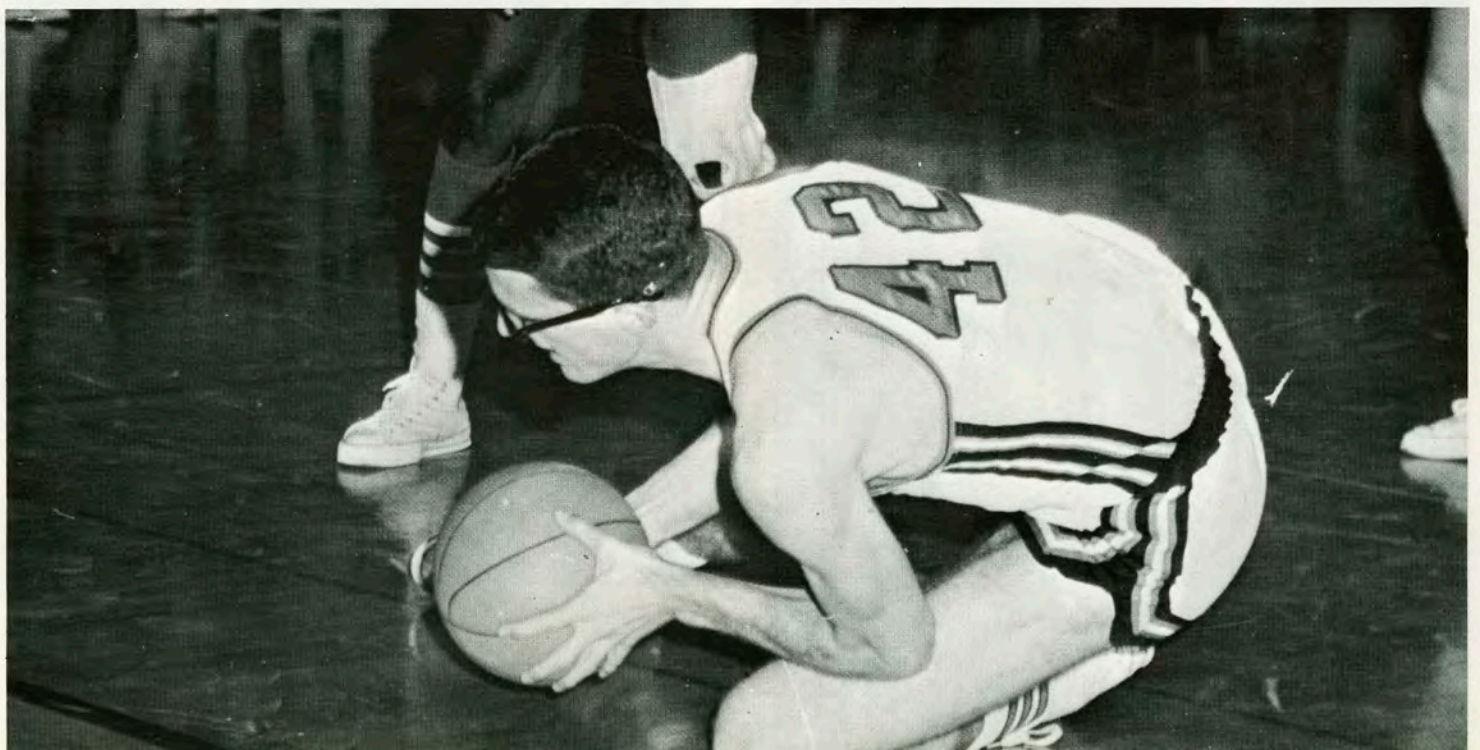

Another meeting with St. Mary of the Plains in Dodge City saw the Cavaliers put down the Tigers for the second time as the end of the season approached. The last two games were at home—the first with Washburn ended in a heartbreaking defeat for the Tigers, but the second was a victory over the St. Benedict's Ravens, whose squad included two All-Americans.

Ending the season with an 11-11 overall and 3-5 in the CIC, the Tigers tied for third in the conference and placed three men on All-Conference teams.

Mike Miller eyes the basket as he drives through Southwest Oklahoma defenders for an easy basket.

John McEwen, sophomore forward, looks for someone to help him out after diving on a loose ball.

Mike McAtee, junior guard from Ellsworth, fires from the corner over the heads of a determined Southwest Oklahoma team. McAtee missed a lot of action at mid season due to a wrist injury but came back to play in the last few contests.

Three Men Find Spots On All-Conference Teams

First-team honors on the All-Central Intercollegiate Conference basketball squad went to Fred Andregg, senior from Hoxie. Second-team spots went to Bill Greving, Prairie View junior, and Gene Rider, Hays junior.

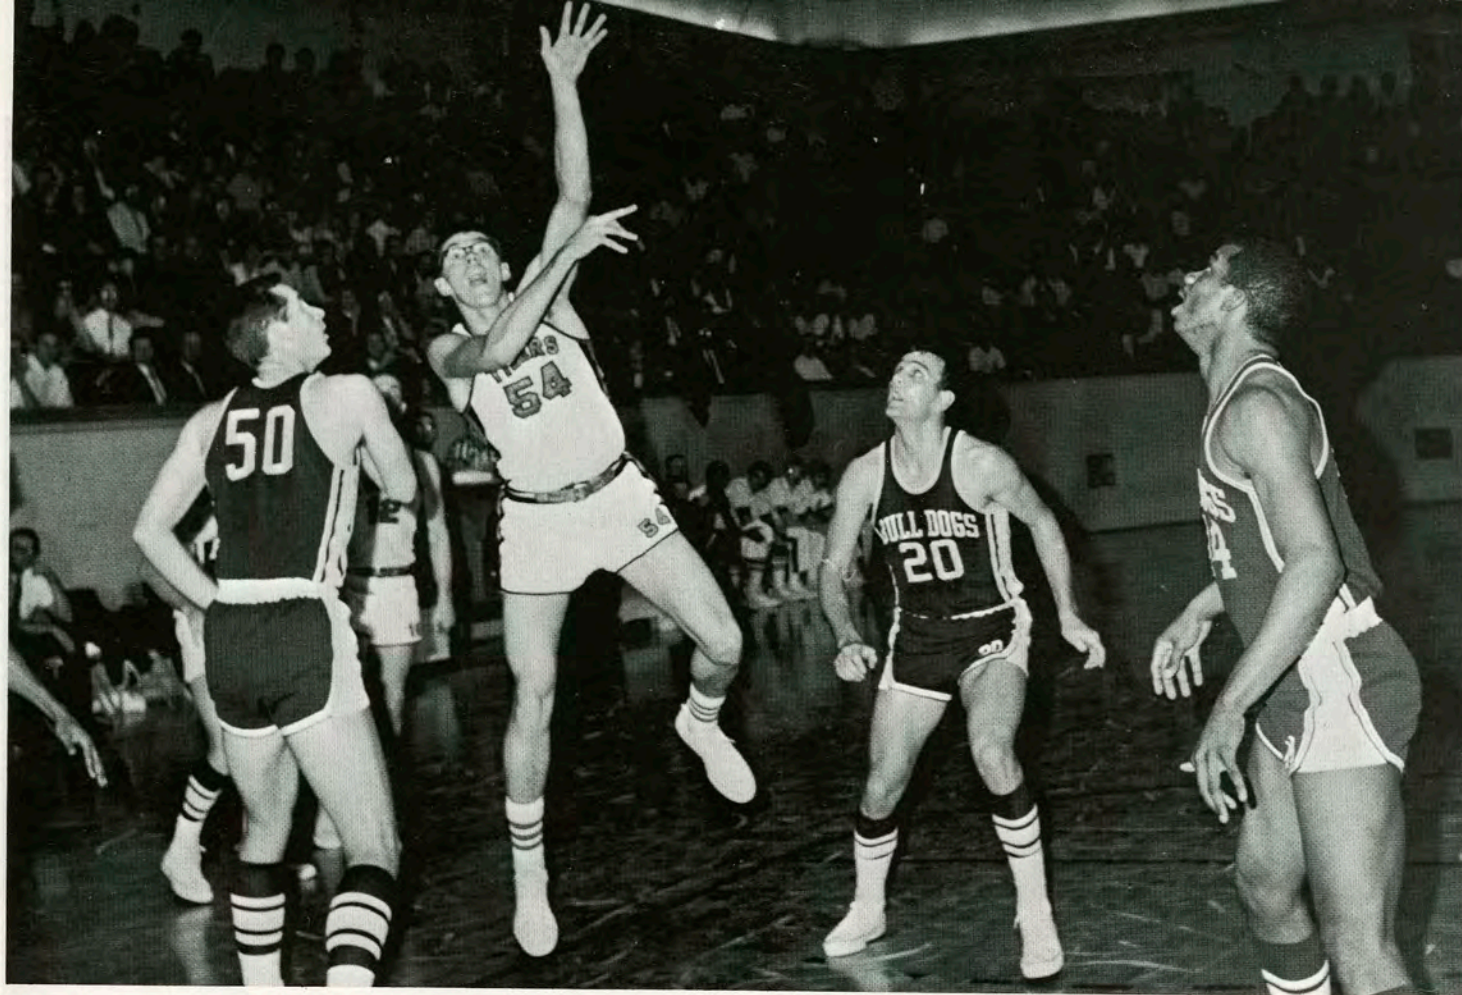

Andregg, who made the first-team spot last year, led the Tigers in scoring throughout the season and ended his college career as the seventh highest scorer in the history of FHS. He also held the top spots in free-throw shooting and rebounding.

Greving paced the Tigers as the best field-goal shooter, and Rider came on strong during the last part of the season to finish among the top field-goal and free-throw percentage shooters.

Jayvee Squad Ends Year With 6 Wins-3 Losses

Fort Hays State's junior varsity basketball team, coached by Duane Channell, racked up six wins against three losses. The jayvees defeated both Concordia Juco and the Washburn University jayvees twice. Other victories came against Colby Juco and the Emporia State jayvees. The three losses were attributed to Emporia State jayvees, Garden City Juco and Colby Juco, which was played into an overtime. John McEwen had the highest scoring average for the Tigers. He was followed by Mike Gaskell and Jim Ater.

Bill Greving, junior from Prairie View, hoists another ball toward the basket during a game with Southwest Oklahoma State. The 6-6 center helped the Tigers defeat the Bulldogs in the non-conference thriller.

Tiger Gymnasts Mark Up 7-3 Record for Season

Directed by Coach Ed McNeil, the FHS gymnastics team marked up a season record of seven wins and three losses. The Tiger gymnasts participated in ten dual meets and hosted the NAIA Gymnastics Championships.

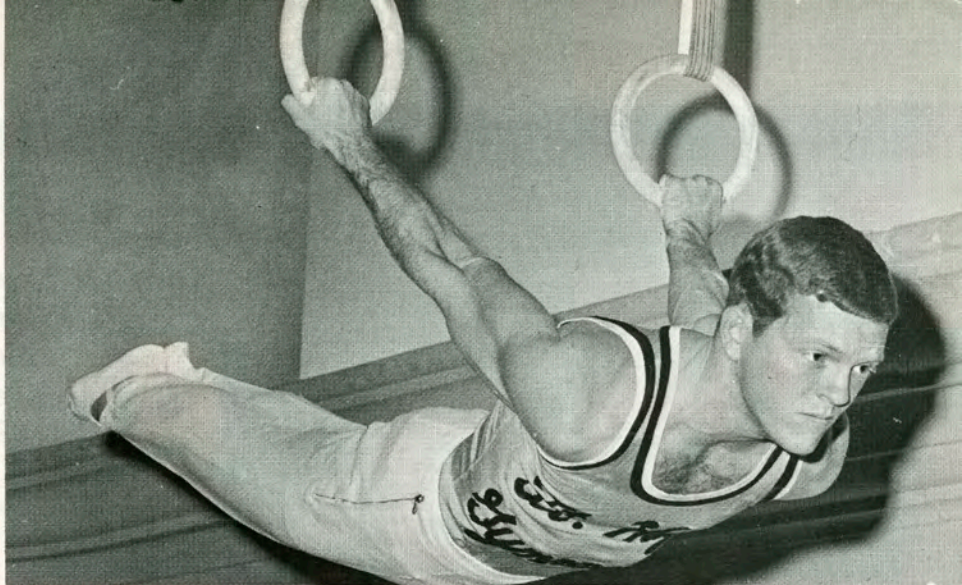

Sam Houston State supplied the Tigers with their first victory as the Tigers squeezed by and won by less than a point. The next win came more easily as the FHS squad snowed under Central Missouri State. Nebraska University dished out the first Tiger loss in a tough contest at Lincoln, but a home meet with Wichita State racked up another Tiger win.

Boosting their win-loss record to 4-1, the Bengals brought down the Mules of Central Missouri State, and a double dual at Sam Houston State saw the Tigers down both the host team and Odessa (Tex.) College. The Bears of Colorado State then downed the Tigers for their second loss. The Tigers split the last two dual actions by defeating Wichita State and coming out second best to Mankato (Minn.) State.

Three FHS gymnasts reached the finals of the NAIA meet and Warren Teasley took third on the long horse to give the Tigers a tie for 13th place.

High above the trampoline is Bob Fussell, Medicine Lodge sophomore and second-high scorer for FHS.

Working out on the still rings is Warren Teasley, the only Tiger to place in the NAIA Championships.

FHS Grapplers End Season With 5 Wins and 8 Losses

Fort Hays State's wrestling squad, coached by Dave Winter, finished off the 67-68 season with a record of five wins against eight losses in dual meet competition. The Bengals began the season with three victories as Southwest Missouri State, Central Missouri State and Emporia State fell to the Tiger attack. Traveling to Maryville, Mo., for the Northwest Missouri State College Tournament, the Tigers came out with a tie for sixth place.

Falling into a slump, the Tigers ran up a long string of losses as they dropped their next eight dual meets. Kansas State University, Omaha University, Adams (Colo.) State College, Northwest Missouri State, Nebraska University and Eastern Illinois University pinned losses on the grapplers as the season moved toward a close. The last two meets with Southeast Missouri State and Kearney (Neb.) State saw the Tigers regain their winning form by downing the two teams.

Seven wrestlers made the journey to Salina to represent the Tigers in the Missouri Valley AAU Tournament and returned home with a first, a second and three third places. The NAIA National Wrestling Championships at Alamosa, Colo., saw three Fort Hays State wrestlers, Stormy Johnson, Leland Tresner and Bill Ramsey, represent the black and gold. Johnson captured fifth place in the 137-pound weight bracket and Tresner nailed down the sixth spot at 145 pounds. Johnson, who compiled 11 wins to four losses for the season, and Ramsey, who racked up 11 wins, five losses and a tie, were the only seniors lost from the squad.

First Year for Beardslee Is Title Year for Tigers

In his first year at the helm of the Fort Hays State golf squad, Coach Carroll Beardslee has directed his charges to the CIC championship. Paced by Kinsley junior Gene Pool and WaKeeney freshman Kelly Deines, the Tigers swept through the CIC Meet in Omaha, Neb., and succeeded in winning the top spot in the Central Intercollegiate Conference. The golf title was the second CIC crown won this year.

The Tigers started off the season with only two lettermen returning from the 1967 squad which took the runner-up spot in the CIC. Of these two, only John Engel, a junior from Liberal, saw much action. Another freshman, Mike Schaefer from Wellington, came on strong to place high in meets all year long. Pool, Deines, Engel and Schaefer succeeded in coping four of the top six spots in the tough CIC contest.

The Tigers ended their outstanding season with 10 wins and four losses. Three losses came in the first three matches with Wichita U., Kansas State and Kansas University and the fourth loss came later in the season in the second match with Wichita.

Tiger Netmen Take 2nd In CIC Tennis Tourney

Four lettermen with a total of 11 letters between them were among the 10 candidates who greeted head coach Duane Channell when tennis got underway. Channell, in his first year at the helm of the tennis squad, coached the Tigers to a 4-7 season and a second place finish in the CIC tennis meet at Emporia in which two Tigers won singles championships.

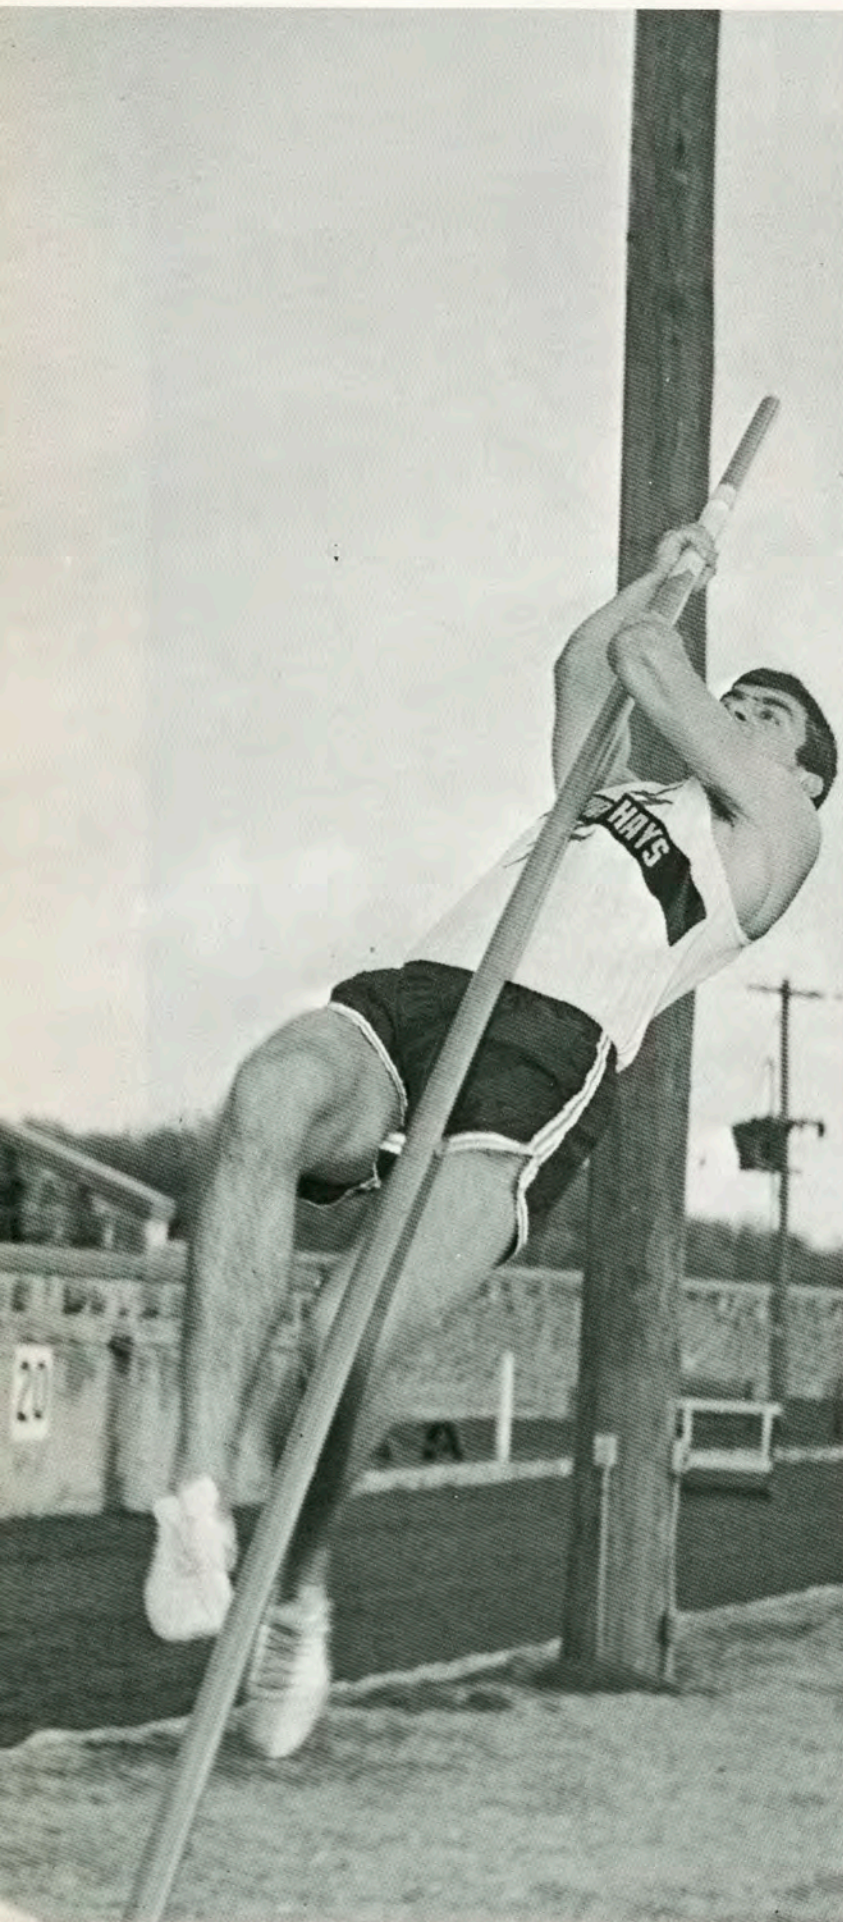

The victories came against St. Gregory's College, Kansas Wesleyan and twice against Bethany. They were defeated by Oklahoma Christian College, Kearney State, Washburn U., twice by Northwestern Oklahoma State and twice by Emporia State.

Outstanding netmen on the 1968 squad were Allan Mai, Kim Gottschalk, Terry Cleveland and Mike McAtee. The first three were seniors who leave FHS with four tennis letters apiece. McAtee, who had earned three letters, will be around another year.

Mike McAtee, displays the form that won him a singles championship in the Central Intercollegiate Conference tennis meet. The three-year letterman shared the spotlight with Terry Cleveland who also copped a singles championship.

Jack Georgeson, sophomore from Lenora, works out to perfect his form in pole vault competition.

FHS Makes Clean Sweep Of Dual Meets at Home

Fort Hays State's indoor track squad opened its season at the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics indoor track meet at Kansas City. The Tigers, spurred by a first place showing of John Mason in the mile run, took fourth in the third annual meet.

In a dual with Kearney the Bengals netted their first dual win and a triangular with Omaha and South Dakota University saw the Tigers again come out on top. Third place in the Kansas State University Invitational at Manhattan wrapped up the indoor season for another year.

Outdoor track and field season got underway with a good showing at the Texas Relays in Austin. One week later a 217-foot javelin throw by Joe Haverick led the squad on to a first place in the Emporia Relays. At the Kansas University Relays Dave McLeland won the 3,000-meter steeplechase, and Bill Manning threw the javelin 218 feet to take two first places. At home with Kearney State, the Tigers netted another win, and for the first time in five duals with the Hornets, the Tigers defeated Emporia State at home in Lewis Field. The Colorado Relays in Boulder saw an injury-ridden squad take fourth with the help of John Mason's record-breaking mile run. Several tracksters also made the trip to the Drake Relays at Des Moines, Iowa.

Second place was the best FHS could do in the Wichita Triangular with Wichita State coming out on top of Southwestern and FHS. The Central Intercollegiate Conference track and field meet at Pittsburg brought the Tigers a third place. The Tigers wrapped up the season with the Missouri Valley AAU in Ottawa and the NAIA track meet in Albuquerque, N.M.

Mason's Running Shines; Ayers Sets CIC Record

Directed by Coach Alex Francis, the Fort Hays State track squad made a fine showing during the 1968 season. Assisting Francis in coaching duties were Art Ridgway and graduate assistant Jack Horn.

John Mason, FHS distance ace, placed high in several of the most famous indoor track meets in the nation. He took first in the Sugar Bowl mile at New Orleans and set a record-breaking 3:47 in the 1,500-meter run with the AAU track squad at the Sports Palace of Moscow, Russia. Mason racked up two second places in the Hunter mile in Boston and the Los Angeles Times indoor mile. The Phillipsburg star also claimed fourth place in both the Wanamaker mile in New York and the Milwaukee Federation mile.

Marvin Ayers, one of the Tigers' leading dash men and hurdlers, set a CIC record in the 220-yard dash during the CIC meet at Pittsburg. Although hampered by a long string of injured men, the squad placed high in several big meets and succeeded in winning both home dual meets.

Tigers Garner 15 Wins; Best Season on Record

Ending the best season of baseball's three-year history at FHS, the Tigers posted a 15-12 season record. Fielding a young and inexperienced team, the Bengals started out the season in a big way by downing their opponents in the first seven games.

Rains throughout Oklahoma brought cancellation of a road tour and three doubleheaders. This brought the Tigers home where they won both games from Northwest Oklahoma State. Two more home games followed in which Eastern Montana State and Kansas Wesleyan dropped both games of their doubleheaders to the Bengals.

Salina's Tournament brought FHS its first losses of the year. After downing Kansas Wesleyan in the opener, the squad lost to Washburn U., Wichita State and the once-defeated Kansas Wesleyan team. FHS boosted their record to 9-3 by sweeping a doubleheader from Kearney State, but a trip to Colorado saw the Tigers drop two contests to Southern Colorado State and split a doubleheader with the Air Force Academy.

Bob Kitts, senior from Formoso, set a new individual school record by making appearances in 13 games.

Bill Schrum, FHS catcher from Norton, and a Kansas Wesleyan batter wait for the next pitch to cross the plate.

Baseball Season Finishes With Third Place in CIC

After their Colorado outing, the Tiger baseball squad returned to Kansas to split a doubleheader with Wichita State. Bad luck hit the team as they dropped both games of a doubleheader to the Hornets of Emporia State. Returning home to meet the Washburn Ichabods, the Tigers netted both a win and a loss. The final doubleheader with Friends University saw the Tigers come out on top in both contests.

To end the baseball season for the year, the Bengals traveled to the Central Intercollegiate Conference Tournament at Pittsburg where they finished with a third place.

Recording 15 wins this season, the Tigers broke a school record. Other records set by the team were most triples, 7; most home runs, 7; most hits, 153; most walks, 106; most strikeouts, 164; most doubles, 23; and most runs batted in, 80. The Tiger squad set a host of individual school records in baseball's third year at FHS. This sport was reinstated two years ago after an absence of about 40 years.

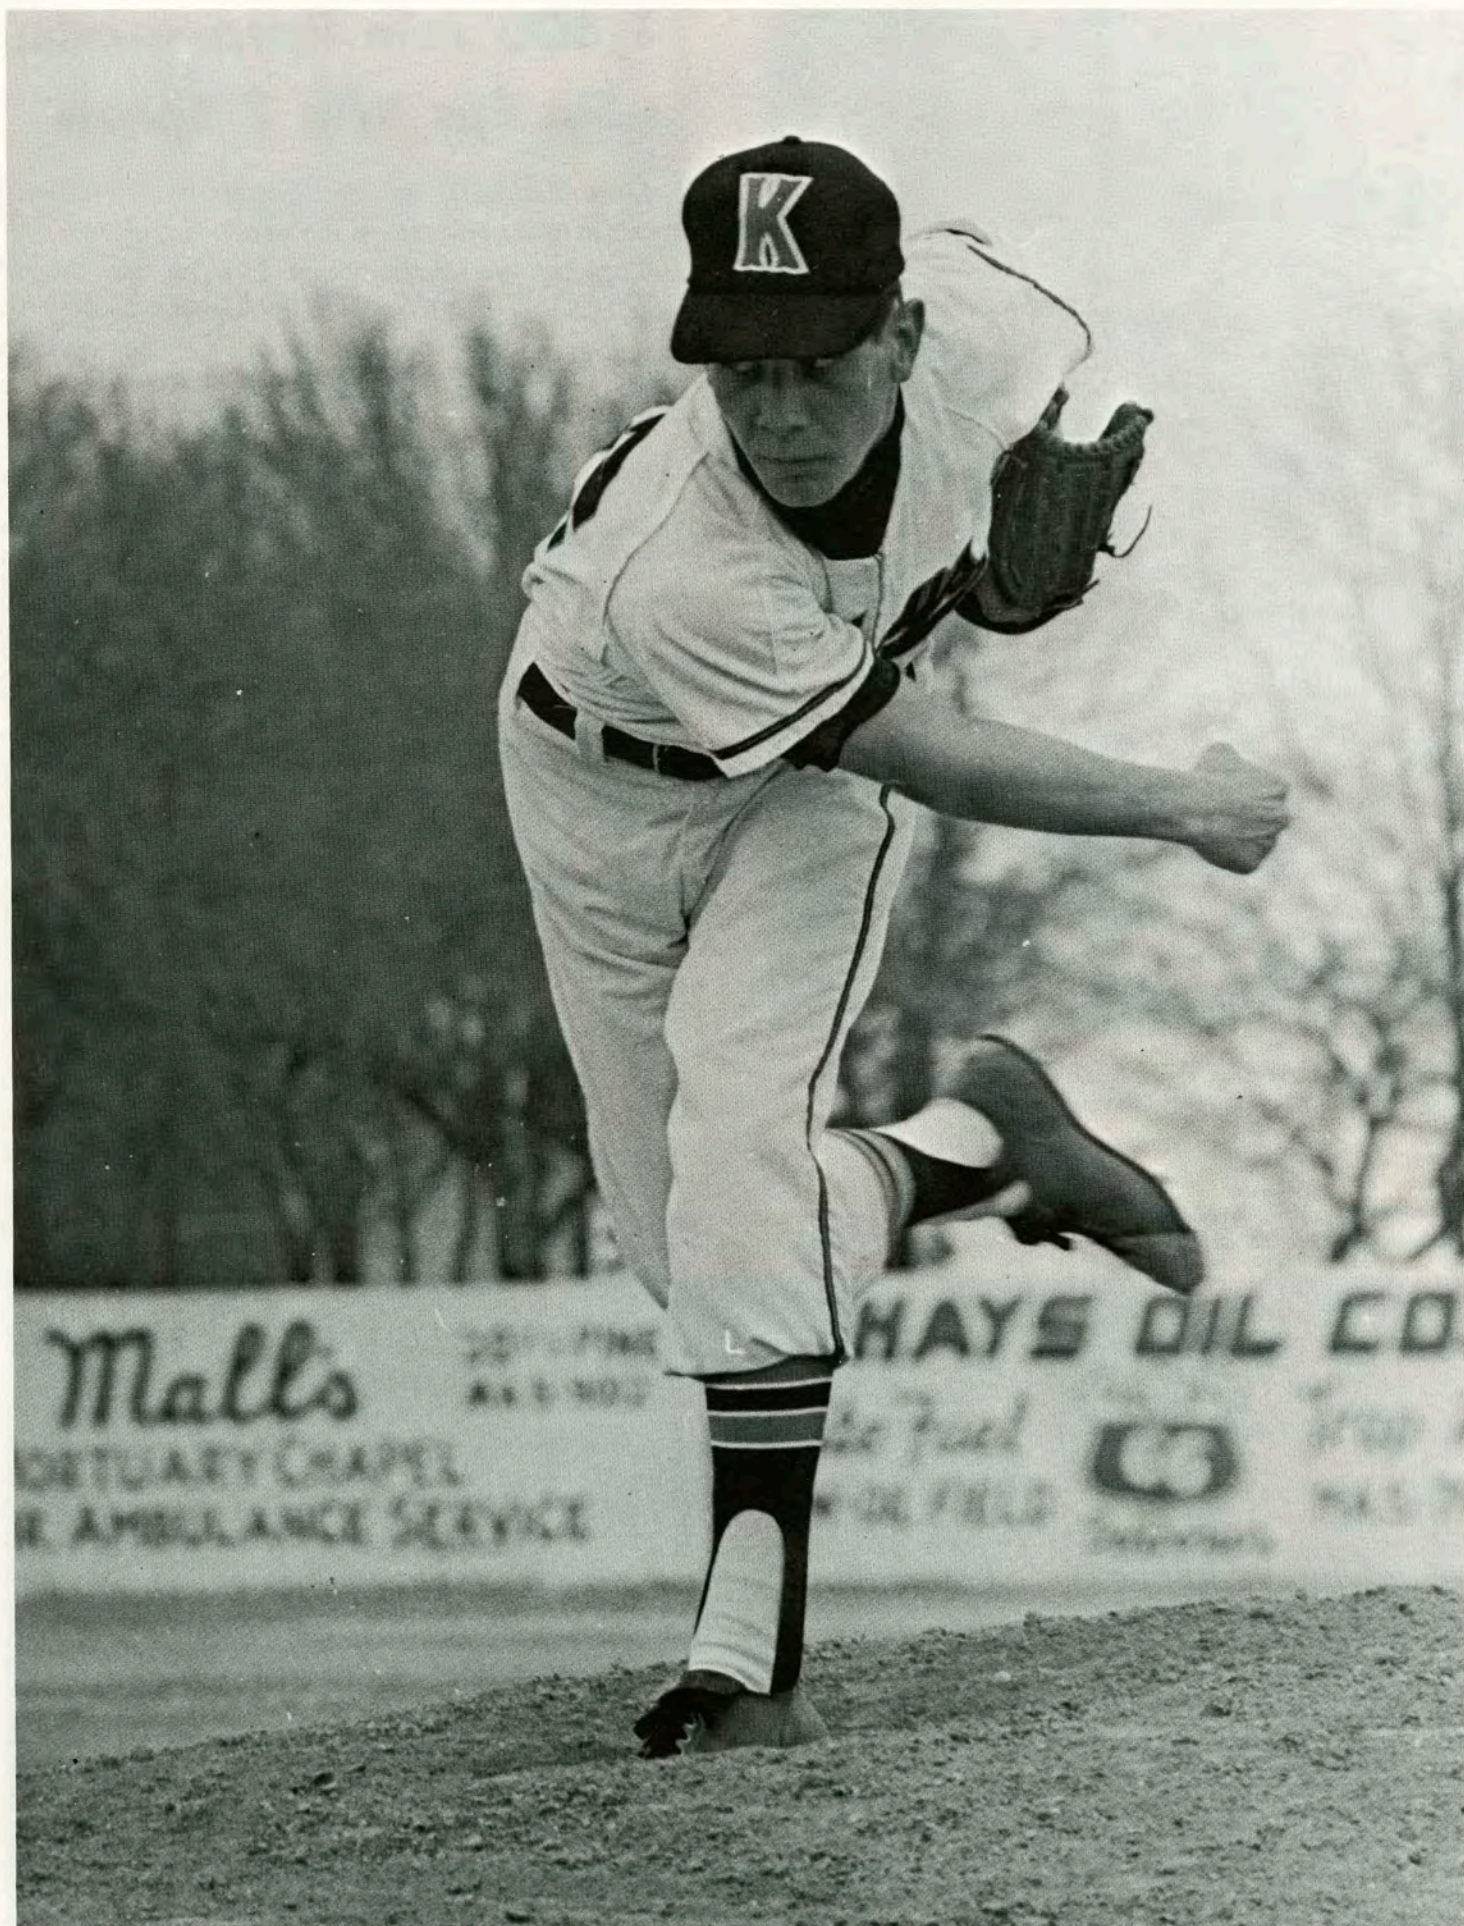

Holding a Kansas Wesleyan runner on first is Paul Simmons who chalked up three individual records this season.

Outfielder Jim Dinkel, senior from Victoria, heads for home plate after hitting a home run in Larks Park. The right-handed slugger set a new school mark with four home runs and also for total runs scored with 17.

Mike O'Kane, hard-throwing sophomore from Liberal, fires another strike across the plate. The righthanded pitching ace set a new school mark by winning three out of the four games he started in for a .750 percentage.

Football will still be under the CIC next year and will not join the RMAC until 1969.

Wrestling, track, swimming, cross country, golf and tennis will still compete for conference-wide championships.

Cade Suran, Fort Hays State's athletic director, is a veteran of 31 years of coaching, 19 of them at FHS under Central Intercollegiate Conference.

Kansas State College of Pittsburg and FHS, old rivals in the CIC, will still play against each other in the RMAC.

CIC Disbands to Form Plains Division of RMAC

After 40 years of service to Fort Hays State, the Central Intercollegiate Conference is to be dissolved, only to be remembered in the record books and by the athletes who were a part of it.

Central Intercollegiate Conference activities began in 1928 when the CIC was founded by Emporia State, Fort Hays State, Pittsburg State, Washburn U., Southwestern College, Wichita University and the College of Emporia. In 1933, Washburn withdrew from the conference and in 1937 St. Benedict's was admitted. The College of Emporia withdrew in 1939 and a year later Wichita U. followed suit. Washburn was readmitted in 1940. Rockhurst College was admitted in 1948 and dropped out in 1951. In 1958 Southwestern withdrew and a year later Omaha was admitted. St. Benedict's was the last to withdraw in 1963 and the CIC has remained the same up until now.

With the exception of Washburn U. all the schools of the CIC will merge with the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. The newly-organized conference will be made up of two divisions—the Mountain and the Plains Divisions. Making up the Plains Division will be Colorado State College, Fort Hays State, Kansas State College of Pittsburg, Kansas State Teachers College of Emporia, University of Nebraska at Omaha, and Southern Colorado State College. The Mountain Division will consist of Adams State College, College of Southern Utah, Colorado School of Mines, Fort Lewis College, New Mexico Highlands University, Regis College, Western New Mexico University, Western Colorado State College and Westminster College at Salt Lake City.

Cross country, a Fort Hays State specialty, is one of the conference sports in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference.

Others are football, basketball, baseball, track, swimming, wrestling, golf and tennis.

Chairmen Designate 35 Seniors for Who's Who

Determined by a vote of the division chairmen from a list compiled by the dean of the faculty, thirty-five seniors were chosen for "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Chairmen considered academic achievement, leadership and participation in campus activities and promise of contribution to society. Membership in this elite group is limited to not more than ten per cent of the institution's graduating class.

Seniors selected but not pictured are Jane Adams, Keith Bunselmeyer, Analee Robinson, Annabel Shiroky, Joseph Thomasson and Charles Vachal.

WLO Women Seek

Mortar Board Status

Women's Leadership Organization revised its constitution to meet Mortar Board standards and has filed for national affiliation with Mortar Board. Combining with Seventh Cavalry, the two leadership societies sponsored the annual spring Smarty Party for persons achieving a 2.5 gpa or above during the fall semester.

An on-campus tutoring program and ushering for Artists and Lectures programs aided the campus community. These women were also called upon to serve as hostesses and guides for campus visitors. Susan Goodwin was elected president. Alice McFarland served as sponsor of the organization.

Presenting a one-semester scholarship based on academics and need rounded out campus projects for the group. In the area of community service, the women contributed their time and effort to the Antique Show sponsored by Hays women's clubs.

Informal pictures on these two pages feature the Smarty Party sponsored by WLO and Seventh Cavalry for persons achieving a 2.5 or better.

7th Cav Awards Fee Scholarships

Presenting four one-semester scholarships was the motivating force behind Seventh Cavalry. Awarded to junior and senior students during half time of the Homecoming game, the scholarships were based on academic performance and financial need. Members of the honorary leadership organization raised funds for these scholarships by selling popcorn at all Tiger football and basketball games as well as Hays High and St. Joseph's football games.

Money also came in from assembling and distributing campus directories. As a service project the honorary fraternity provided ushers for college programs.

Ron Fischli served as president. Standlee V. Dalton sponsored the organization. Seven members of the honorary received membership in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Two men were nominated for Woodrow Wilson Fellowships.

Group Distributes Study Tips to Residence Halls

Striving to promote scholastic achievement by women students, Alpha Lambda Delta distributed pamphlets on "How to Study" and How to Take a Test" to the residence halls. As a scholastic honorary the group received freshman women earning a 2.5 gpa or better.

Ten senior members received certificates for maintaining a 2.5 gpa during their college career. Carolyn Gribben was elected president while Dean Jean Stouffer served as sponsor.

Phi Eta Sigma Receives Twelve Men Into Ranks

Organized to honor freshman men achieving a grade average of 2.5 or above, Phi Eta Sigma received twelve initiates during the spring semester. Early in the second semester the scholastic honorary teamed up with the women of Alpha Lambda Delta in serving as Muster Day guides. Dr. Bill Jellison sponsored the group. Warren Young was elected president.

During the year the honorary developed plans for sending two representatives to the 19th national convention at Purdue in October 1968.

SNEA Contributes Gifts To Rehabilitation Centers

Student National Education Assn. completed a round of holiday activities with gifts to patients at Larned State Hospital and children at the Day Care Center. While in Larned, members also caroled to the residents. Throughout the year, the club maintained a scrapbook of its projects and activities.

Outstanding sponsors of KSTA and FTA on college and high school levels received Dr. Clement Wood Awards. Representatives attended a Student KSTA-NEA conclave at Washburn University and the KSTA meeting here. John Strella was elected president. Dr. Gordon Price and Gerald Duncan served as sponsors.

P-t-P Accents Friendship, Promotes Understanding

With an exchange of ideas as the motivating force, members of People-to-People learned and taught customs of foreign lands. The American students helped orient foreign students to campus and American life. Held in the spring, an International Art Festival featured exhibits from foreign countries.

To provide scholarships for foreign students, the organization sponsored activities during Leap Week and an International Tasting Party. At Christmas, gifts and toys were donated to the Children's Day Care Center. Mary Schreiber served as president. Dr. M. Q. Sayed sponsored the group.

New Members Honored During Kappa Mu Dinner

During the spring semester Kappa Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics, held a banquet in honor of the initiates and members. Dr. Ruth Rebekka Struick of the University of Colorado served as keynote speaker. Dr. Struick also lectured to mathematics classes during the day. Gary Schmidt was elected president. Marilyn Wilson served as the organization's sponsor. Six members of the honorary were elected to Who's Who while seven were initiated into Phi Kappa Phi.

Music Ensembles, Choirs Provide Specialized Study

Specialized music groups provided students with an opportunity for concentrated study on a particular instrument. Many of the ensembles and choirs appeared in conjunction with other bands and orchestras.

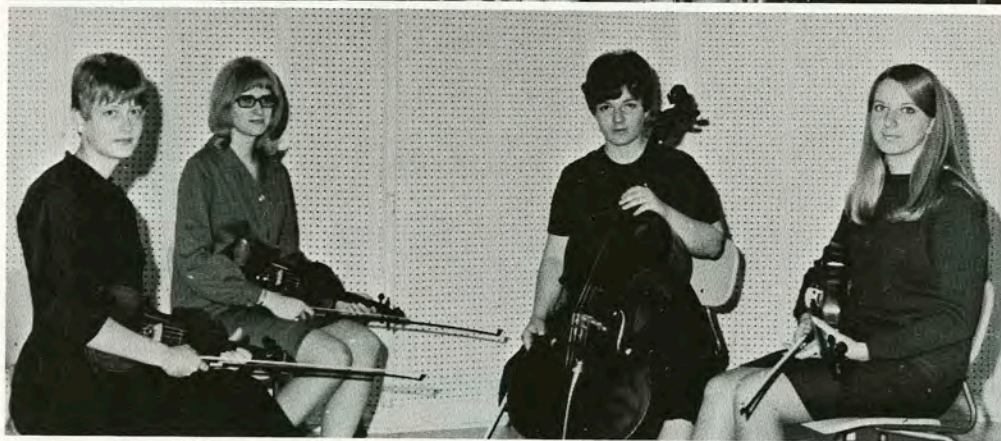

String Orchestra combined with Symphony Orchestra and vocalists in presenting "The Devil and Daniel Webster." During Christmas Vespers, they accompanied Collegian Chorale, then presented a special suite. The String Quartet accompanied a bassoonist and vocalist in the senior recital program.

State Band Tour Ends With KMEA Convention

Varsity Band's three-day tour to five Kansas high schools was climaxed by a performance for the Kansas Music Educators Assn. convention in Wichita. Varsity Band, which presented the Varsity Band Show in November, divided into many other instrumental groups—Symphony Band, Marching Band, Tiger Pep Band, ensembles and choirs. All these groups filled a specific need in the school and community. Directed by Lyle Dilley, the group sponsored a fall Band Day and marching contest for area high schools.

Woodwind Ensemble—Joyce Pennington, Carol Bailey, Donna Thompson, Louise Polcyn.

ROW: Bonnie Hemken, Dr. K Marie Stolba, Wendy Zelenka, Carol Zeman, Doris Swearingin, Bonnie Storm, Dean Angeles, Marilyn Monts.

Varsity Band presents a modern interpretation of instrumental music through groups such as Jazz Band and Brass Choir. Men of the Marching Band are selected from total band enrollment; women may volunteer to serve as alternates.

Choir Presents Concerts to College and High Schools

Selected by audition, Concert Choir was the top large choral group on the Fort Hays State campus. Composed mainly of upperclassmen, the company presented concerts for high schools and administrators on their two-day Kansas tour. In January the group presented its campus concert. During the spring semester the Choir performed for area high schools at the Choral Clinic. Dr. Donald Stout served as conductor of the group first semester. For the second semester Patrick Goesser was conductor.

For special events, such as dedication of the library and commencement, Concert Choir is summoned. Members of the choir and other vocalists joined with instrumentalists in presenting the spring opera, "The Devil and Daniel Webster."

hoff, Roann Harmon, Nanci Thiele, Shereen Perry, Linda Shaw, Yvonne French, Peggy Tedford, Eileen Rogers, Jan Deines.

Clarinet Choir Employs Seldom Used Instruments

Under the direction of Harold Palmer, the Clarinet Choir has been part of the FHS music department since 1952. First organized as part of a band camp, the choir utilizes the seldom found A-flat Soprano Clarinet and F Bass Horn along with normally found instrumentation. On the two-day concert tour of six Kansas high schools and during college concerts, the majority of music was in manuscript form having been arranged by Palmer. FHS boasts the largest library for clarinet choirs in the country.

Musicians Stage Concert Of Modern Entertainment

Teaming up with Clarinet Choir, Percussion Ensemble presented a first semester recital. Percussion ensembles are a Twentieth Century product. Only within the past 25 years have these ensembles been playing outside of organized bands. In concert and on tour the FHS group presented such modern compositions as "Nonet" by McKenzie and "Introduction and Fugue" by Buggert. The ensemble is under the direction of Ernest Bastin. A concert tour of six Kansas high schools was made with Brass Choir.

Percussion Ensemble—BACK ROW: Carolyn Preedy, Jeannette Evans, Candace Young, Clinton Raynes, Susan Merklein. FRONT ROW: David

Eppinger, Michael Treu, Darlene Knox, Cynthia Gray, Ernest Bastin (conductor).

Jazz Concert Premieries Student-Faculty Numbers

Combining with John Chambers Trio, an area entertainment group, Jazz Ensemble presented a December concert performing such numbers as "Joe", an original composition by Gary Blauer, an FHS student. Arrangements of "A Taste of Honey" by ensemble conductor Ernest Bastin and "Got a Lot of Livin' to Do" by Blauer made up part of the group's repertoire.

Jazz Ensemble—Personnel: Ernest Bastin (conductor), Karen Anderson, Gary Blauer, Art Buehler, John Burley, David Dudrey, Jeannette Evans, Rhea Foster, John Francisco, Ron Frank, Mike Johnson, Terry Karlin,

Civic Symphony Orchestra Performs Classical Works

Changing the name from College-Community Orchestra to Fort Hays Civic Symphony Orchestra, the group presented works by such famous composers as Mozart, Hayden and Handel. Excerpts from Richard Wagner's "Lohengrin" closed the first semester concert. Lyle Dilley served as Orchestra director. The Orchestra includes students and area musicians.

Vince Landau, Gary Merklein, Ken Miller, Craig Ragan, Clinton Raynes, Robert Regier, Tom Schrieber, Michael Treu, Byron Westerman.

Fort Hays Civic Symphony Orchestra performs each semester in Felten-Start Theater. Made up of collegians, high school students and other area musicians, this orchestra serves as a link between the college and community.

Costumes, skits, refreshments and smiles prevail at formal rush parties given by the sororities each fall.

Long formals, white dinner jackets and smiling faces dominate the scene at fraternity and sorority formals.

Informal parties give fraternity and sorority guys and gals a chance to dance, drink, sing and to brand their dates. Informal parties range from the Blue Mountain Blast of one fraternity to the pajama party of another.

Panhellenic, IFC Make Greeks' Lives Interesting

Panhellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council headed Greek Week activities which included a banquet, meetings for organization officers, a tea for housemothers, a work day at Cedar Bluffs and an all-school dance at the Clydesdale. IFC was sponsor of the all-pledge dance again this year. Dick Cole was IFC president, Dr. Bill Jellison was sponsor. Panhellenic Council planned fall and spring rush activities. Barbara Bickford was the Panhellenic Council president, Dean Jean Stouffer acted as adviser.

This rather weird assortment of cheerleaders is cheering for favorite Alpha Gams at the Alpha Gamma Delta Powder

Puff football game. The intra-sorority match was a successful attempt to give a boost to the sorority's funds.

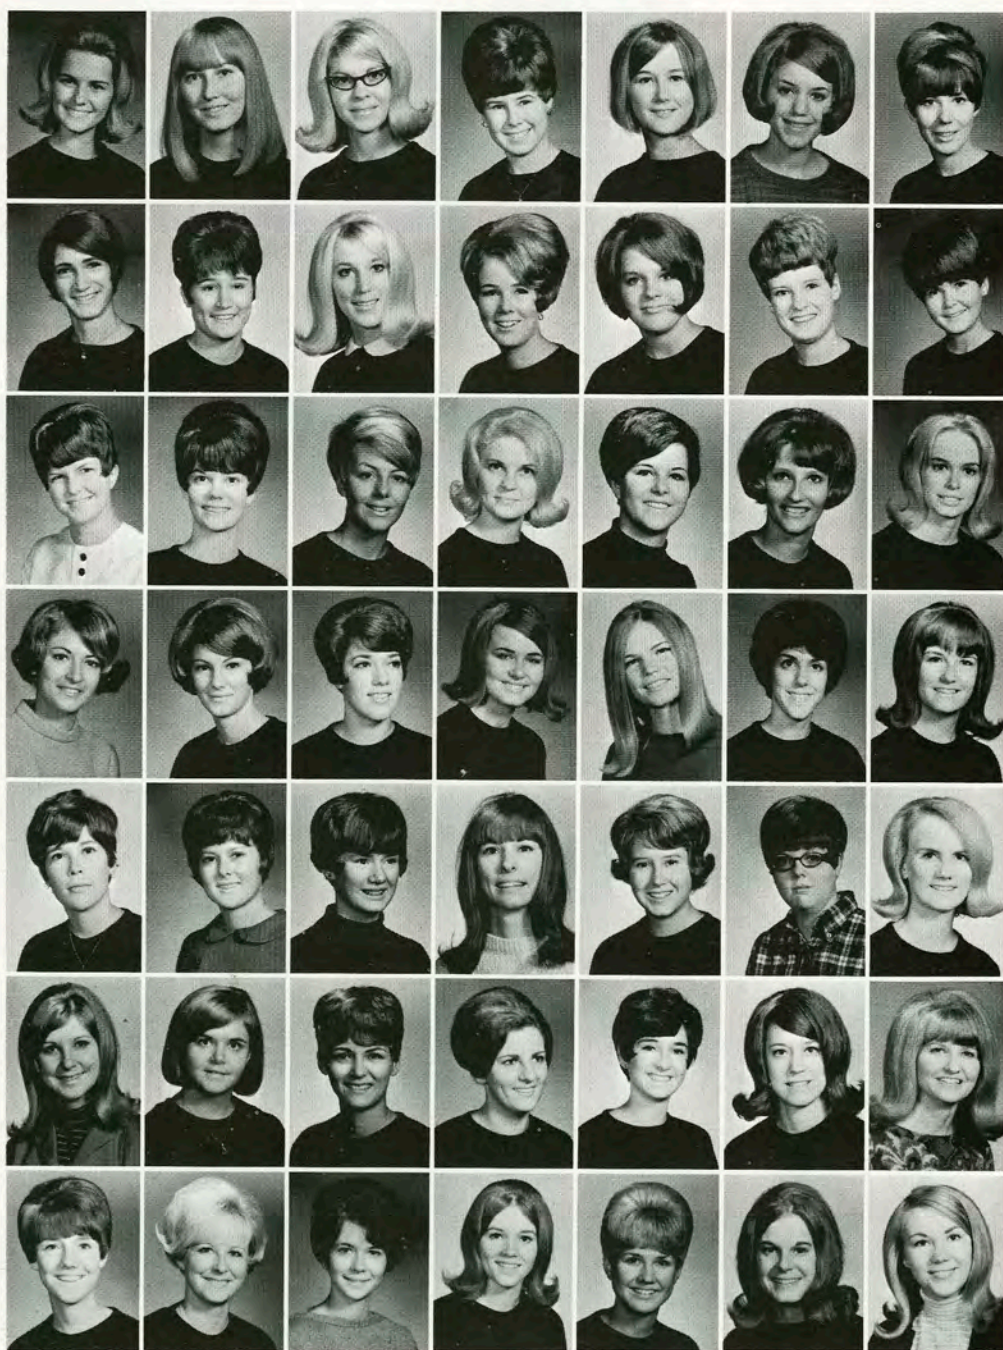

AGDs Well Represented In Campus Organizations

Alpha Gams were members and officers of Phi Beta Lambda, Alpha Lambda Delta, Sigma Alpha Eta, Spanish Club, Sophomore Women's Honorary and AWS. One Alpha Gam was chosen cheerleader and another was responsible for organizing and leading the Tiger Dëbs.

Social activities of Alpha Gamma Delta included an informal, the Rose Formal, functions with fraternities, and their Dad's Day on February 17. Alpha Gams were contenders for various crowns including those of Homecoming Queen, Pledge Queen, Sweetheart Queen and they won the Reveille Queen crown.

Epsilon Mu chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta was begun in 1959. Women of AGD were distinguished by their buff blazers. Mrs. Dorothy Denke served Alpha Gamma Delta women as housemother this year.

Delta Zetas Leaders Of Campus Activities

Delta Zetas had a good representation on campus with three cheerleaders, Panhellenic Council president and a Student Council representative. Members of the sorority were named to Who's Who, WLO and Phi Kappa Phi. DZ pledges took the pledge scholarship cup.

Social activities of Delta Zeta ranged from Pledge informal to a branding party to the Rose Formal. DZs participated in many intramural games. Women of Delta Zeta were named Pledge Queen, Homecoming and Reveille Queen finalists, Daisy Mae candidates and Leader Lass.

Delta Zeta has purchased land on which a new house will be built. Fund raising projects included their annual hat sale just before Easter. The sorority took jack-o-lanterns to the Greek houses at Halloween. DZs also sent clothes and toys to the Navajo Indians again this year as a service project.

Delta Omega chapter of Delta Zeta was established in 1925. Delta Zeta women wore white blazers. Mrs. Ollie Newcomer was the housemother.

At their preference party during November's formal rush, the Delta Zetas entertain the rushees with their version of the musical, South Pacific. Leis, bare feet and sailors' hats all add to the Polynesian atmosphere.

Napkins, napkins and more napkins pile up as the Delta Zeta women work on their homecoming float. Napkins are folded then twisted into chicken wire frames. It is a lot of work, but it is fun, too, and seems worth it all on Homecoming Day.

Candles are lit and passed to rushees as the meaning of life in the sorority is read by an active Sigma Kappa member.

This candle-passing ceremony and other similar programs climax Rush Week activities for campus sororities.

Scholastic Achievement Is Sigma Kappa Trademark

Women of Sigma Kappa earned permanent possession of the Actives' scholarship trophy in the fall of 1967 by winning three consecutive times. Sigma Kappas were members and officers of Sophomore Women's Honorary, Women's Leadership Organization, Pi Omega Pi, Sigma Alpha Eta, Phi Kappa Phi, Who's Who and other honoraries.

Social activities included functions with campus fraternities, a barn party pledge informal and the Pearl and Triangle formal. To help raise funds, mums were sold in the Memorial Union during Homecoming and two slave days were held.

Sigma Kappa sponsored candidates for Reveille Queen, Homecoming Queen, Sweetheart Queen, Daisy Mae, Ugly Man and Furlough Queen.

Delta Omicron chapter of Sigma Kappa was founded in 1959. Black blazers identify Sigma Kappa women. Mrs. Bernice Peck was housemother.

"Arrows to Atoms," the Sigma Kappa entry in float competition during Homecoming, won first place in the women's division.

Sigma Kappas entertain their dates with card games, pop corn stringing, tree decorating and dancing after their caroling party in December. Candy canes, mistletoe and holly added to the Christmas spirit in the house.

Customers of all ages took advantage of the Tri Sigma fund-raising project, and had their shoes shined.

Sigma Sigma Sigmas Net Several Royal Titles

Sigma Sigma Sigma was well represented in campus royalty contests. Tri Sigmas were candidates for Reville Queen, Homecoming Queen, Best-Dressed Girl and they captured the Sweetheart Queen and Daisy Mae titles. Their candidate for Sweetheart King came in as the first runner-up in that contest.

Social activities included functions with campus fraternities, an informal, and the Deep Purple Formal. Tri Sigmas held two shoeshines in the Union, with the proceeds going to the Robbie Page Memorial Fund. Valentines were given to the other campus sororities.

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Tri Sigma was founded at Fort Hays State in 1925. Navy blue blazers marked the Tri Sigmas. Mrs. Agnes Townley was the house-mother.

AKLs Take Home Prize For Fifth Straight Year

In keeping with the "Arrows to Academics" theme, the AKLs' "Arrow Express" won the sweepstakes trophy.

Service projects included a car wash to raise money for a food basket for a needy family, and their annual Easter egg hunt for the Day Care Center.

AKLs were officers of the senior class, ASC, and IFC, and directed the KFHS campus radio station.

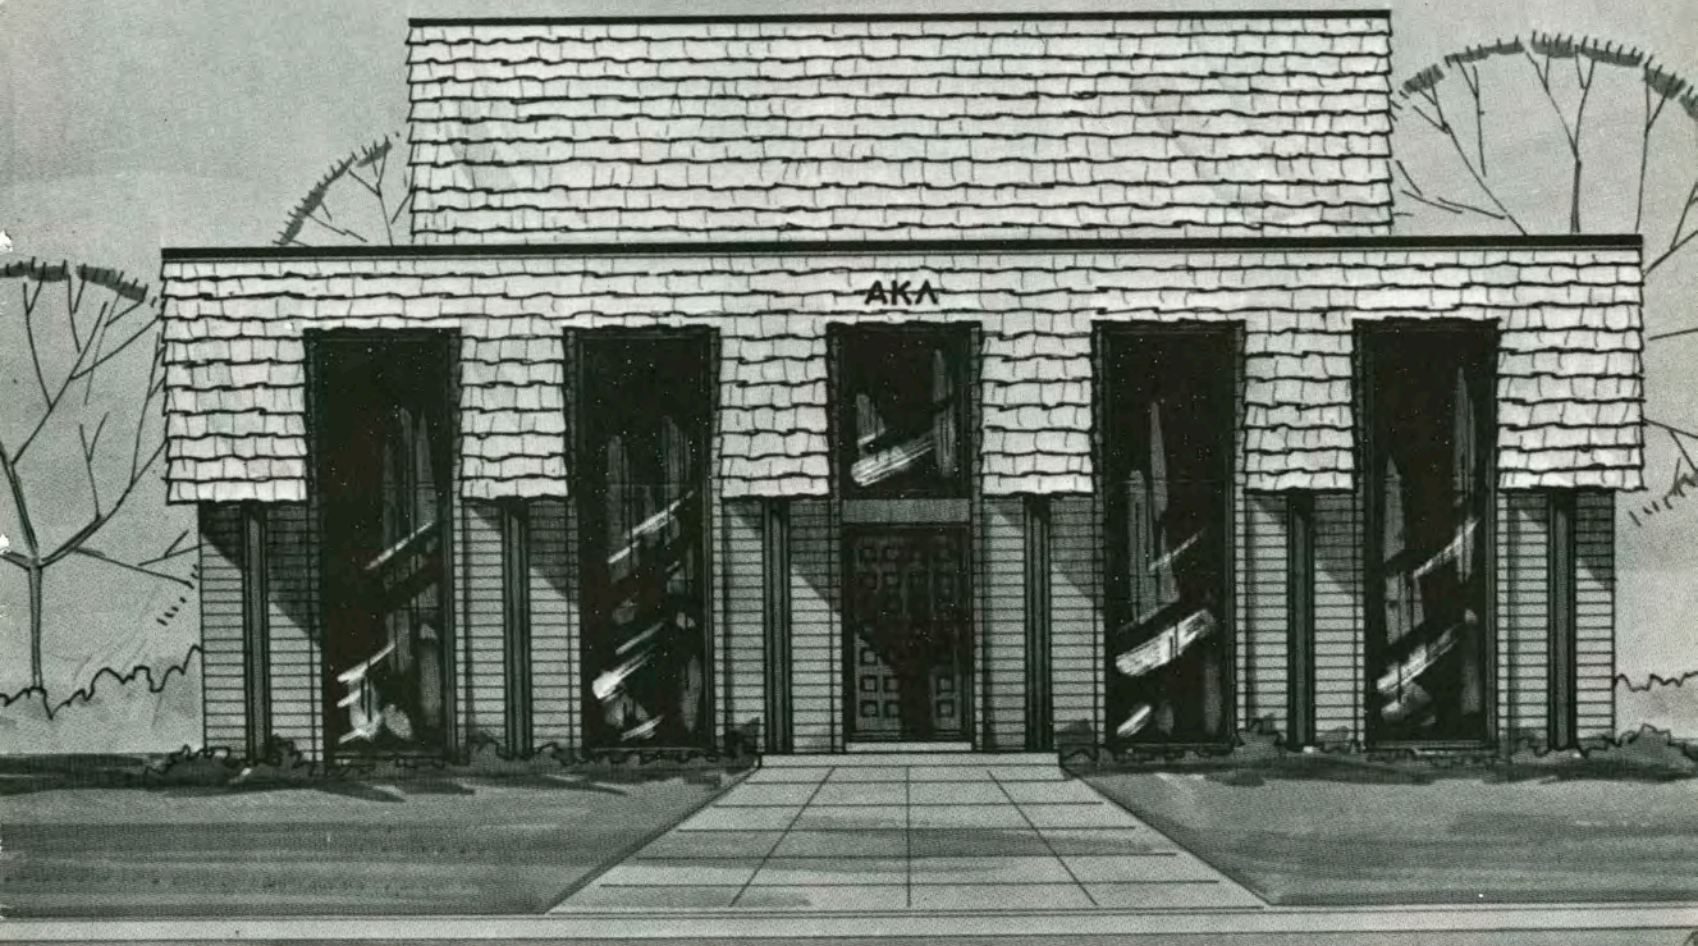

Social activities included parties with sororities, a Go-to-Hell party, and the Spring Splash Formal.

Delta Sigs Lend a Hand To Community Projects

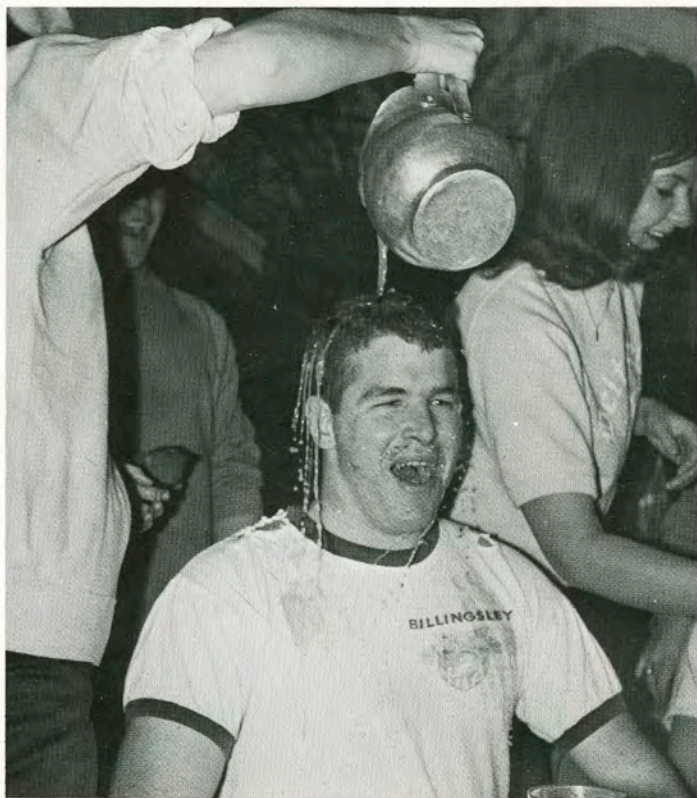

Pledges of Delta Sigma Phi helped raise $4,500 for the United Fund. They also helped Custer Hall in a charity drive to obtain a seeing eye dog for the blind.

Delta Sigs served as members and officers of Alpha Kappa Psi, SOC, IFC and other campus organizations.

One Delta Sig was a candidate for Bearded Joe and another won the Sweetheart King crown.

Activities of the Delta Sigs included the Sailor's Ball, get-togethers with sororities, a Valentine's Day party for sorority women and the Carnation Ball.

Gamma Omicron, which this year had the outstanding pledge class of District 15 of Delta Sigma Phi, was founded in 1953. The Delta Sigs wore green blazers. Mrs. Esther Steinle served as housemother.

This Delta Sig pledge expresses his reaction toward the Delta Sigma Phi "square meal" and Hell Week in general.

Phi Sigma Epsilon Men Add Trophies to Shelves

Phi Sigma Epsilon pledges were awarded the pledge scholarship trophy. The Phi Sigs grabbed first place honors in intramural football competition and placed high in other sports.

Social highlights were the Alumni Homecoming party, formal and informal pledge parties, the White Tea Rose formal and get-togethers with sororities.

Cream-covered faces and indigestion are all part of the game for contestants in the pie-eating race. Frozen cream pies are on the breakfast menu for participants in Derby Days as they race to see who can eat the most.

Feminine teams of tuggers fight to the finish in double elimination tugs-of-war across Big Creek.

Members of the teams coax their ducks with water and food to see which will cross the finish line first.

Practice pays off for Delta Zetas as they set the record in the Sigma Chi Derby Days skin the snake race.

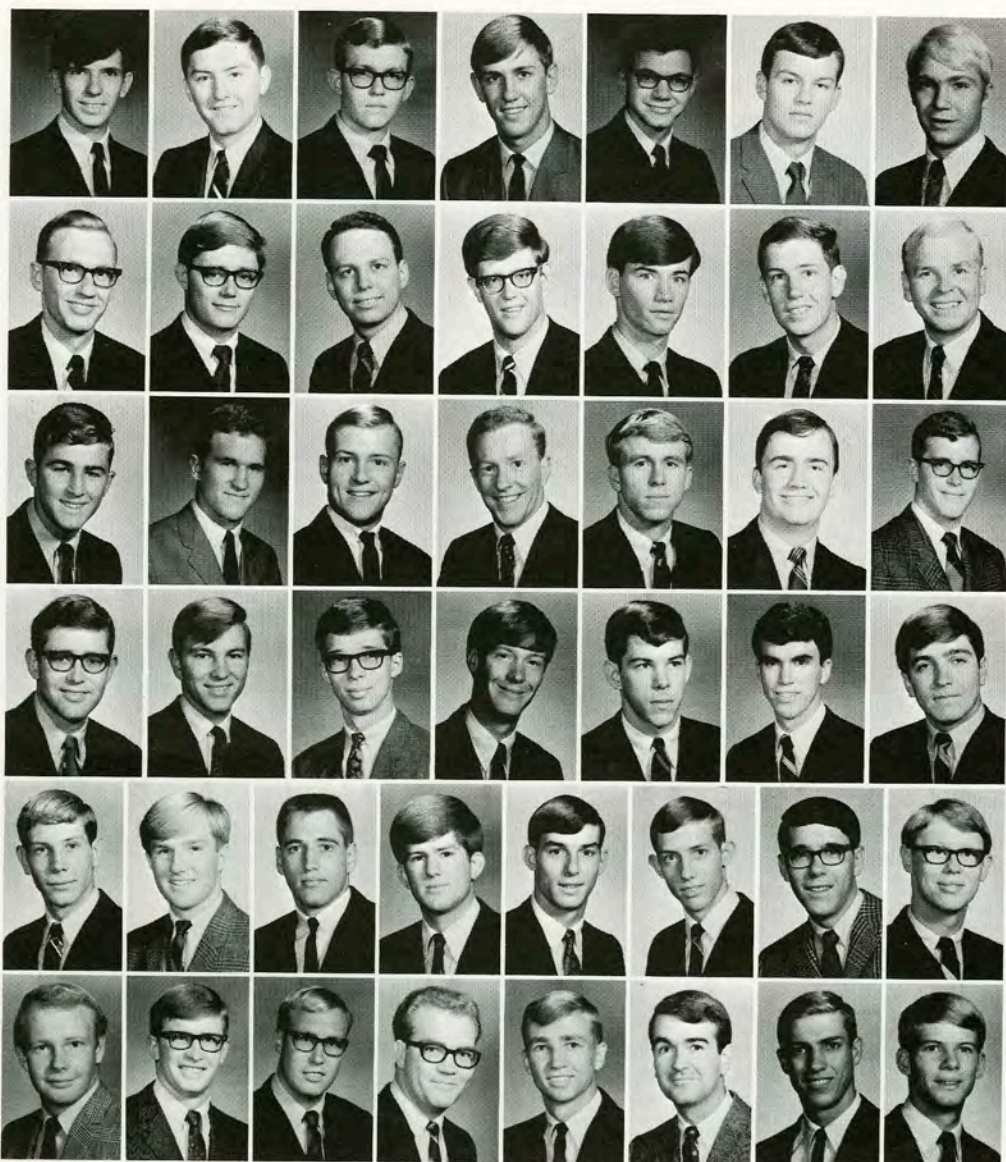

It takes teamwork as the former Prometheans proudly display the new Sigma Chi flag for everyone to see.

Prometheans Approved; Initiated Into Sigma Chi

After years of waiting and hoping, the local fraternity, the Prometheans, was accepted by the national fraternity, Sigma Chi. Representatives from other chapters of the social organization conducted initiation services in December and brought the national fraternity to campus. A Sigma Chi tradition, Derby Days, was a spring event in which sororities and residence halls participated in various games and contests of skill and excitement. Delta Zeta came out on top in the race. Other activities included informal parties, functions with sororities and a spring formal.

Men of Zeta Tau chapter of Sigma Chi, founded this year, were identified by their navy blue blazers. Mrs. Nina Stuart served as their housemother.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Earns Award from National

Sig Eps won the FHS active scholarship cup and were awarded a scholarship trophy by their national office for the highest national fraternity grade point. It was their eighth such award since 1962. In sports Sig Eps took a clean sweep in golf and won first in swimming, and table tennis doubles. Bearded Joe and the pledge king were Sig Ep men. Sig Eps sponsored the winning candidate for pledge queen.

Activities included the Blue Mountain Blast, the Golden Heart Ball and functions with sororities. They helped with the Lincoln Grade School carnival ticket sales as a service project.

Zeta Chapter, founded in 1956, wore red blazers. Mrs. Esther Eslinger was housemother.

Dr. Bill Jellison is on hand the night of the opening of the new Sigma Phi Epsilon annex at 403 West Sixth Street.

Getting into the spirit of things, Sig Eps and their dates join in a circle dance at the Blue Mountain Blast, the Sigma Phi Epsilon informal which is held each fall. Eating, dancing and branding make for an evening of fun.

With the help of pictures and information sheets, Sig Eps go over this list of men who attended their smoker and discuss their potentiality as good fraternity material. Those who qualify will be asked to pledge the fraternity.

Sigma Tau Gamma Men Sponsor BB Tournament

For the second year, the men of Sigma Tau Gamma of Fort Hays State have sponsored a basketball tournament with other Sig Tau chapters from Pittsburg, Emporia, and Kearney, Nebraska. They also participated in intramural sports activities.

Social activities included a Hippie Party, a Barn Party, the White Rose Formal and get-togethers with the campus sororities. To raise money, the Sig Taus again held a stereo raffle.

Members of the Eta chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma, established at Fort Hays State in 1926, were identified by their French blue blazers. Sigma Tau Gamma is the oldest existing fraternity on campus. Mrs. Ida Thomas served as housemother for the Sig Taus.

TKEs Have New Mascot; Dalmatian Called Apollo

Apollo, a Dalmatian pup, was acquired by the TKEs to be their mascot and to go with the firetruck.

Performing well in the field of sports, Tau Kappa Epsilon teams placed first in volleyball and second in touch football. TKEs had two teams participating in intramural basketball. Team A won first place in the Greek league and second in the all-school contest. Team B, playing independently, captured the all-school championship. The TKEs also won the annual TKE-Sigma Phi Epsilon pledge football game.

Activities of the TKEs included a pajama party, the Roman Toga Party, the Red Carnation Ball, functions with sororities, a public service weekend and Parents Day activities. They sponsored the winning candidate for Sweetheart Queen. TKE members served on Student Court and headed Greek Week activities.

Alpha Upsilon chapter of TKE was founded in 1942. Burgundy blazers identified members of the fraternity. Mrs. Marguerite Thompson served as housemother.

Agnew Hall Is Home For 170 FHS Women

Built in 1947 and housing 170 women, Agnew Hall is the smallest of the three women's residence halls. Taking advantage of its size, the hall affords an atmosphere of home for the girls. Mrs. Esther Biays was housemother for Agnew Hall, and Rose Mary Barron was president of the dormitory.

Residents sponsored candidates for royalty contests with such success as Lynn Corn capturing the Best Dressed Coed Title.

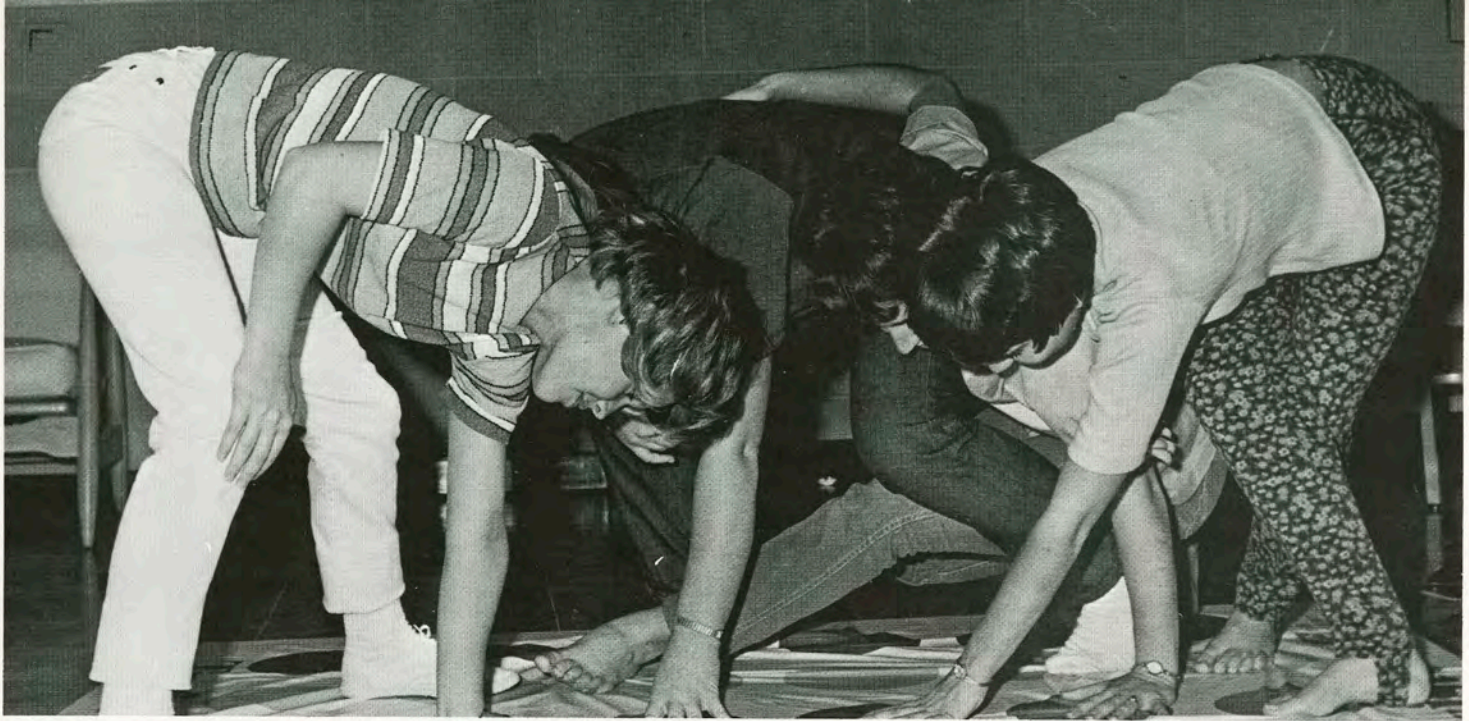

Activities were varied in the hall with open house on Parents' Day and during homecoming. Other social functions included a Little Sister Weekend, a Tot Watch and buffet dinners on special days of the year.

Agnew Hall, a home away from home for some 170 coeds, helps to make college life enjoyable and pleasurable.

Entertaining faculty children at the annual Agnew Hall Tot Watch provided the girls with the opportunity to start the Christmas season for the little ones with numerous activities, including a visit from Santa Claus.

Competition among the big sisters and the little sisters got these girls pretty mixed up, but after the untangling, everyone enjoyed the remainder of the Little Sister Weekend festivities.

Sonja Holmes and other desk girls operate a vital tool which brings joy and sorrows to a girl's social life.

These Agnew residents befriend a stray cat who charms them out of some crumbs of food and some milk. In turn he becomes a pet for the women and gives the hall another aspect of regular home life away from home.

Escaping the noise of the hall, Marge Neerman completes two jobs at once—a very common activity in the dorm.

Wishing together, LaJune Lindberg and Meredith Garver relax by the Agnew Hall Christmas tree.

Oldest Residence Hall To Be Coeducational

Oldest of the residence halls, Custer Hall will be converted coeducational next year. To prepare for this conversion, the old wing, built in 1921, underwent a series of changes such as rewiring, plumbing repair and general refurbishing of the old facilities.

Highlighting the year's social activities was the Christmas formal. Joining the other residence halls socially, Custer helped sponsor three informal dances during the year.

Residents supported candidates for royalty contests and competed for various other high spots on campus. Custer distinguished itself by having the A.A.U.W. Outstanding Senior Woman, Mary Schreiber, as a resident.

Mrs. Ada Churchill was housemother and Elaine Shoemaker was president.

Custer Hall residents convert the cafeteria into a dance floor for their annual formal. The dance is only one of many activities sponsored by the hall which also backs candidates for all-campus contests and elections.

Accepting some of the responsibility for keeping the dormitory running smoothly are these Custer Hall officers. Left to right:

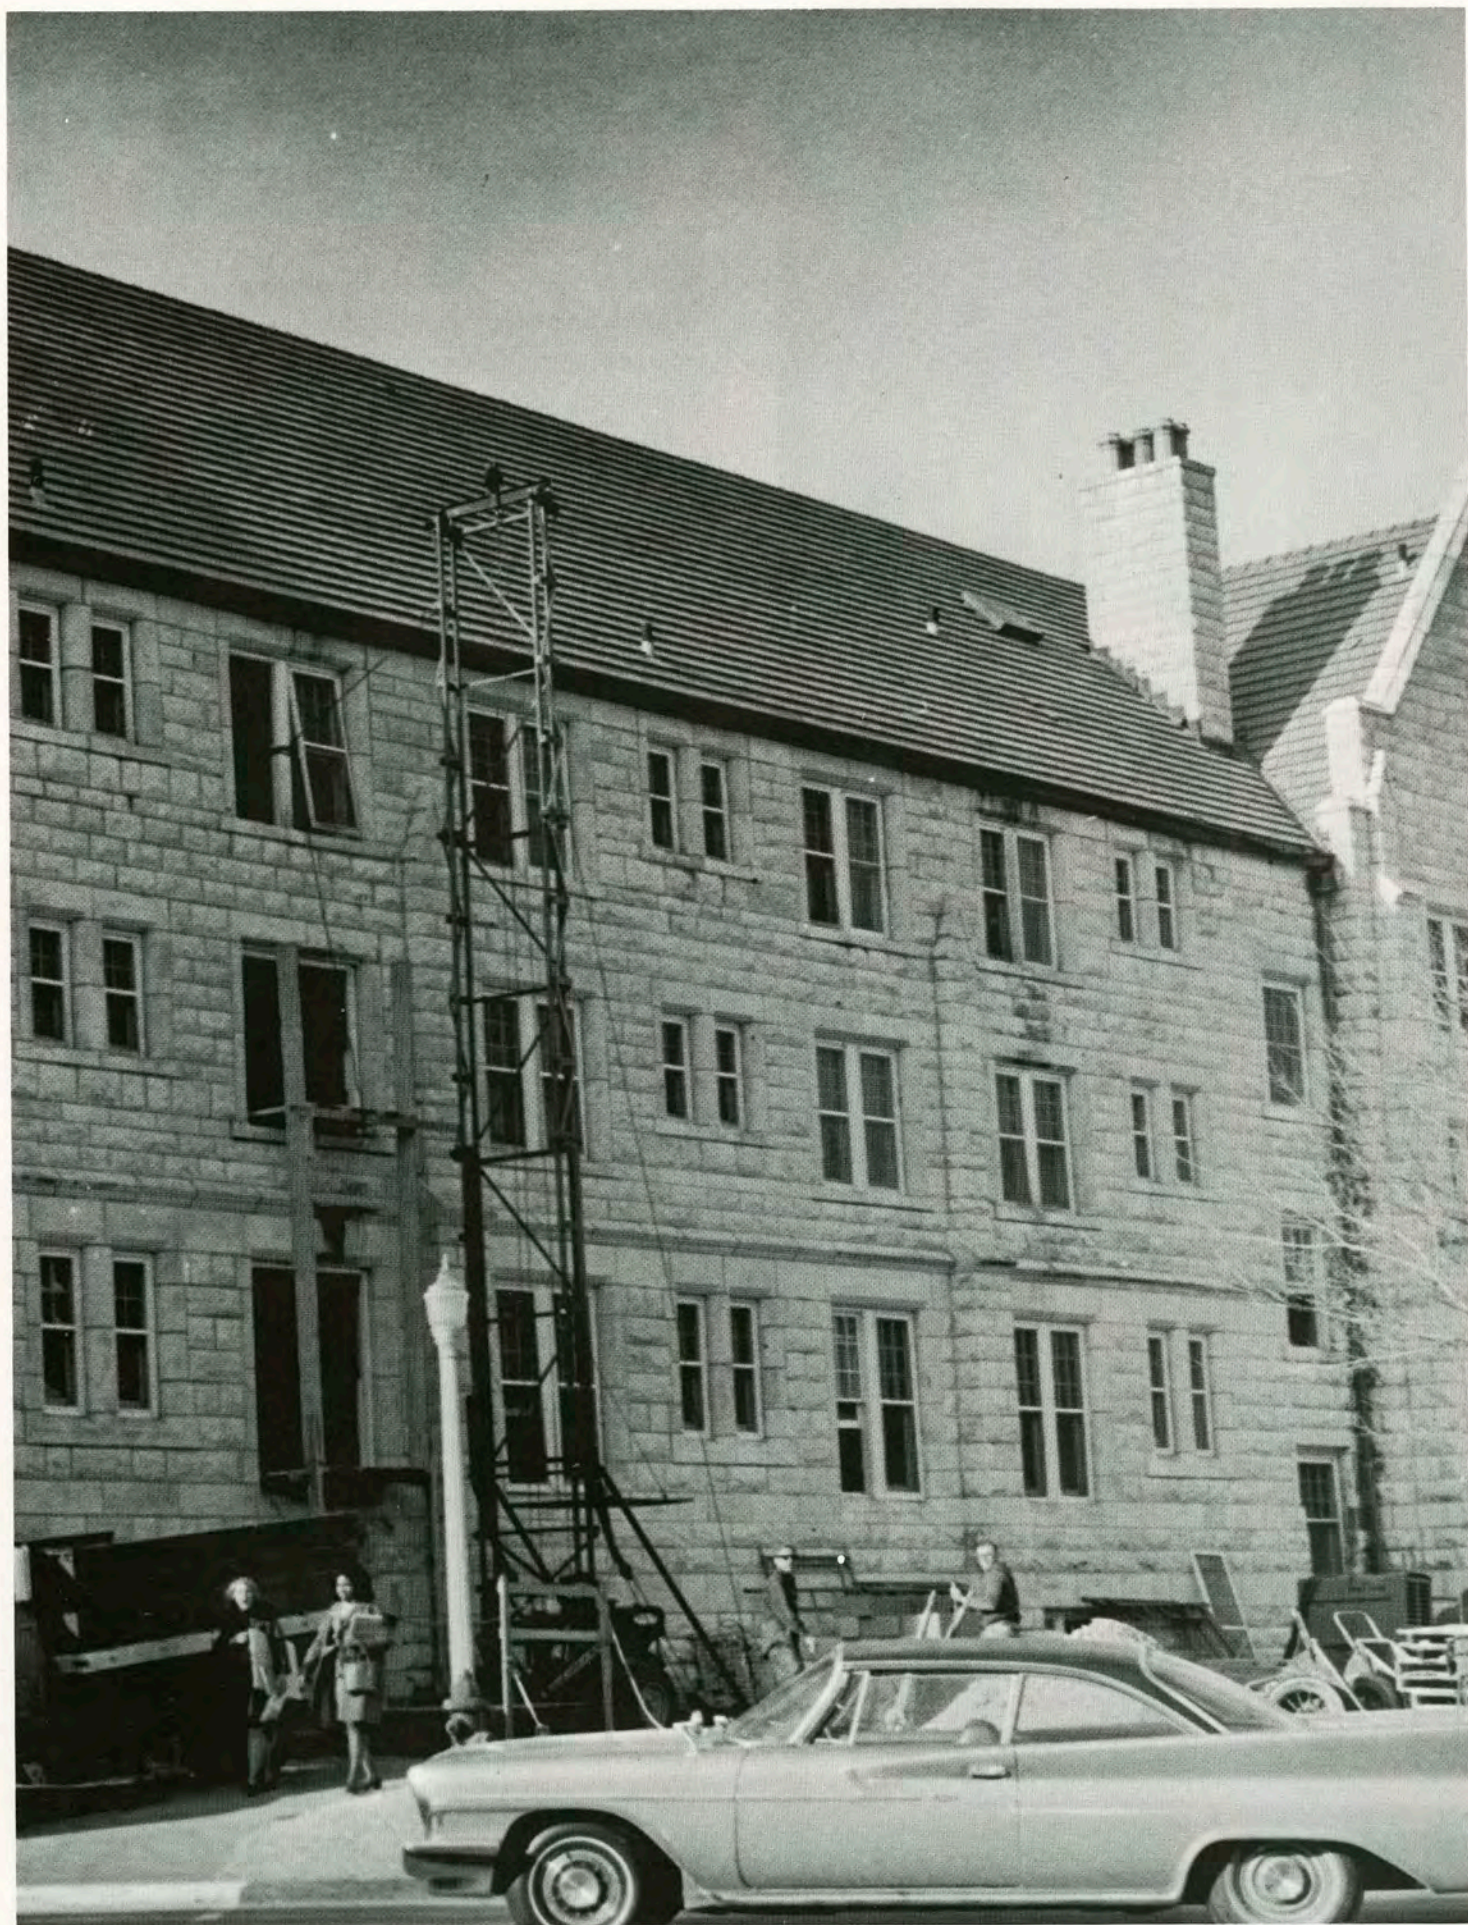

Mary Wohlford, Shirley Quint, Linda Malone, Debbie Massey, Elaine Shoemaker.

Soaking in the warm fall sunshine and becoming acquainted, these residents enjoy the sun porch.

Taking time out from the routine of studying, Custer Hall co-eds appreciate the vending machines.

With the increase of enrollment each year, buildings are continually being remodeled and refurbished to provide the most modern accommodations. One such building is Custer Hall, which will house men as well as women next year.

Foreign Students Join McMIndes Hall Managers

Assisting with the management of some 600 coeds at McMIndes Hall were international students from Kenya, Africa—Mr. and Mrs. John Njoroge. They joined housemothers Mrs. Mary Redd, Mrs. Virginia Wright and Mrs. Margie Habinger. Joy Lawrence was president the first semester and Linda Burdge the second term.

Presenting a scholarship to the athletic department highlighted the list of service projects for the hall. Coeds sponsored candidates for campus royalty honors and participated in various other campus functions.

To provide a break in the daily routine, the hall joined the other dormitories in sponsoring three informal dances during the year. Taking part in intramurals also helped give the coeds a break from study.

Celebrating Christmas together is one of the many ways the women of McMIndes Hall create a family atmosphere in the largest residence hall on campus. Everyday meals are also shared in the spacious dining room in McMIndes.

Situated on the banks of a bend in Big Creek, McMinder Hall is home to 600 coeds. Completed in 1965 the dormitory is the tallest building on campus as its six stories rise above trees and buildings alike.

Bearing gifts and luggage, this McMinder Hall coed leaves to join relatives during the Christmas holidays.

One of the provisions given to women living in residence halls is the exchange of linen every week.

Happiness is a packed mailbox with a letter from home, an airmail letter, or news from a close friend.

Open house affords the women of McMIndes the opportunity to give parents and friends a small glimpse of college life.

Another vacation or weekend brings this familiar hustle and bustle sight to the parlor of McMIndes Hall.

Regressing to the solitude of her room, a McMinder Hall coed attempts to complete her studies. The dormitory is also equipped with pajama lounges where the girls can study, play cards, or discuss personal problems.

Relaxing from the routine of studying, these McGrath men engage in a good old-fashioned water fight, with the use of modern, as well as standard weapons. But, as witnessed by some, the odds may turn against you at any time.

Giving McGrath Hall men the opportunity to relax and make a few new friends, the dormitory joined with the other residence halls in sponsoring three all-dorm dances throughout the school year.

Feeling at home away from home, this McGrath Hall resident puts his feet up and settles down to fulfill the objective of coming to school. The casual atmosphere of the parlor, or the study lounges is the site of such endeavors.

The desk, the lamp, a dictionary at hand—and one student comprise a typical picture of college life.

Finding a little time to relax, these McGrath Hall men enjoy the tricky game of Stratego.

McGrath Man Wins Ugly Man Contest

Selected from a field of 10 candidates, Edward Prewo from McGrath Hall won the Ugly Man on Campus contest. Residents also sponsored other candidates for campus contests.

Remodeling of the parlor in McGrath gave the hall a new look for open house.

McGrath residents also participated in and helped to sponsor three all-dorm dances. Intramurals kept the men busy and provided another means of recreation for the residents of the dorm. Another social activity was the exchange supper held with the coeds from Agnew Hall.

Mrs. Beulah Lamb served as housemother and Albert Albers acted as president of McGrath.

Musical entertainment is not limited to the radio in the residence halls but may be found in the talents of the residents.

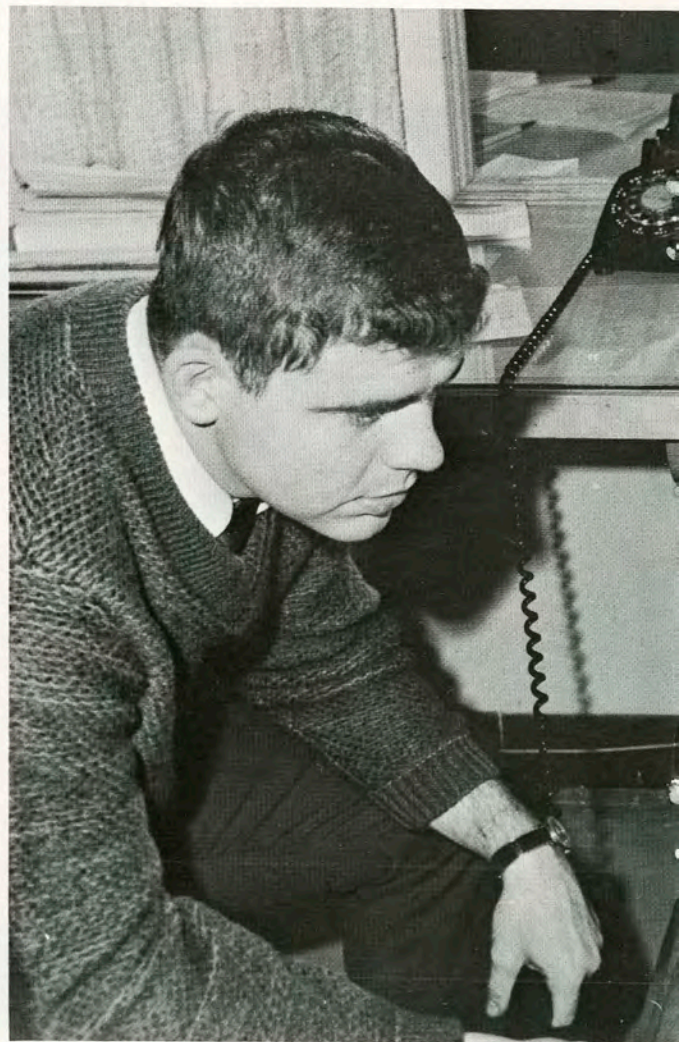

Newer of the two men's residence halls, Wiest Hall provides air conditioned housing for 120 men. Officers keeping the hall functioning this year were: left to right, Richard Harmon, Jack Call, Joe Sims, Dane Christensen and Henry Wolf.

Keeping busy answering the telephone, relaying messages and other jobs, is the duty of this desk man.

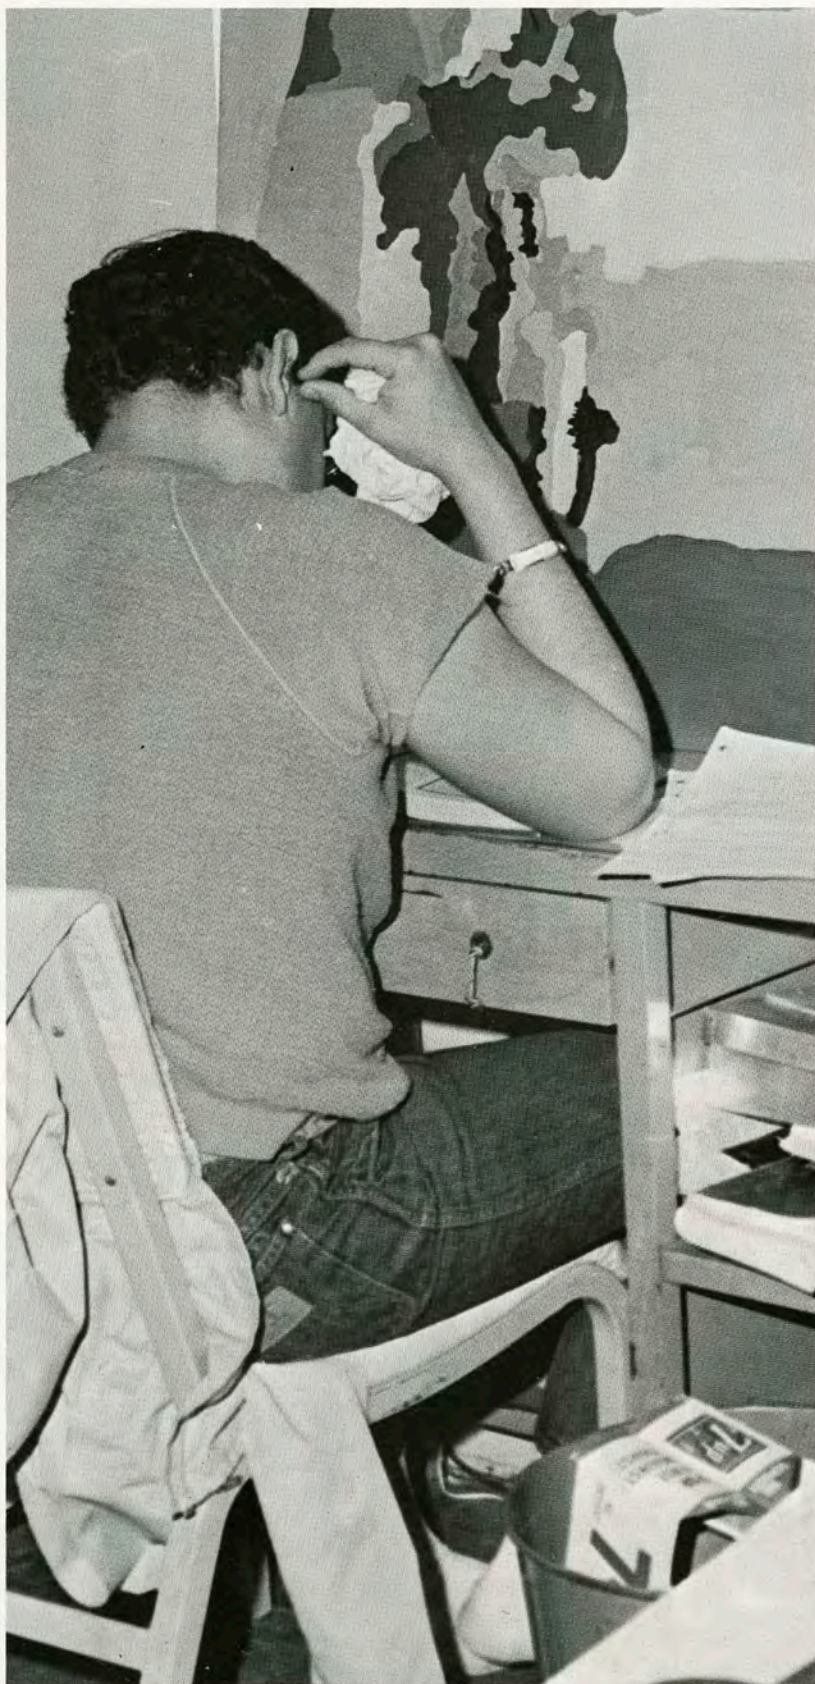

Wiest Hall Captures Two Royalty Honors

Capturing two royalty spots were Wiest Hall candidates Tonya Biggs and Laah Hachmeister. Miss Biggs won the Homecoming Queen title for the men and Miss Hachmeister garnered the spot as Daisy Mae during Leap Week.

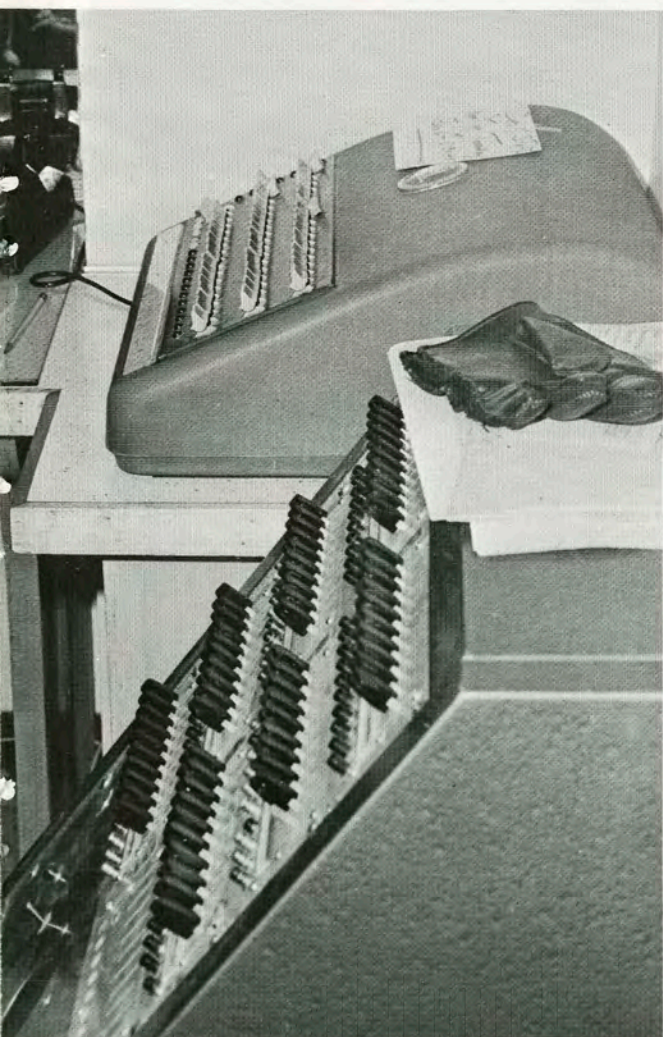

Wiest Hall sponsored an opening school dance during enrollment. To keep up socially, Wiest men also helped present three all-dorm dances in cooperation with the other four residence halls on the FHS campus.

Wiest representatives attended the Wooster Dinner and contributed to student aids.

Open house was held several times with the help of Mrs. Marguerite Walters, housemother. Richard Harmon was president.

Settling down to do his primary duty as a college student, this Wiest Hall resident recedes to the solitude of his room for better concentration.

Discussing the coeducational system going into effect next year in Custer Hall, Wiest Hall officers and resident assistants give their views and opinions to Asst. Dean of Men Bob Maxwell and Housing Director Jim Nugent.

To provide a change of pace, these students find that the challenge of a Monopoly game takes their minds from the toils of study.

Reading a favorite storybook or feeding the birds is all part of a day at Wooster Place where comfortable, low-cost housing is provided for married residents such as Mr. and Mrs. Larry Soice and Terri.

Helping mother prepare a meal with the right seasoning, Terri is a big help around the kitchen.

Doing a little cleaning in the kitchen, this college student cooperates with other men in their apartment.

Large Portion of Students Make Apartments Home

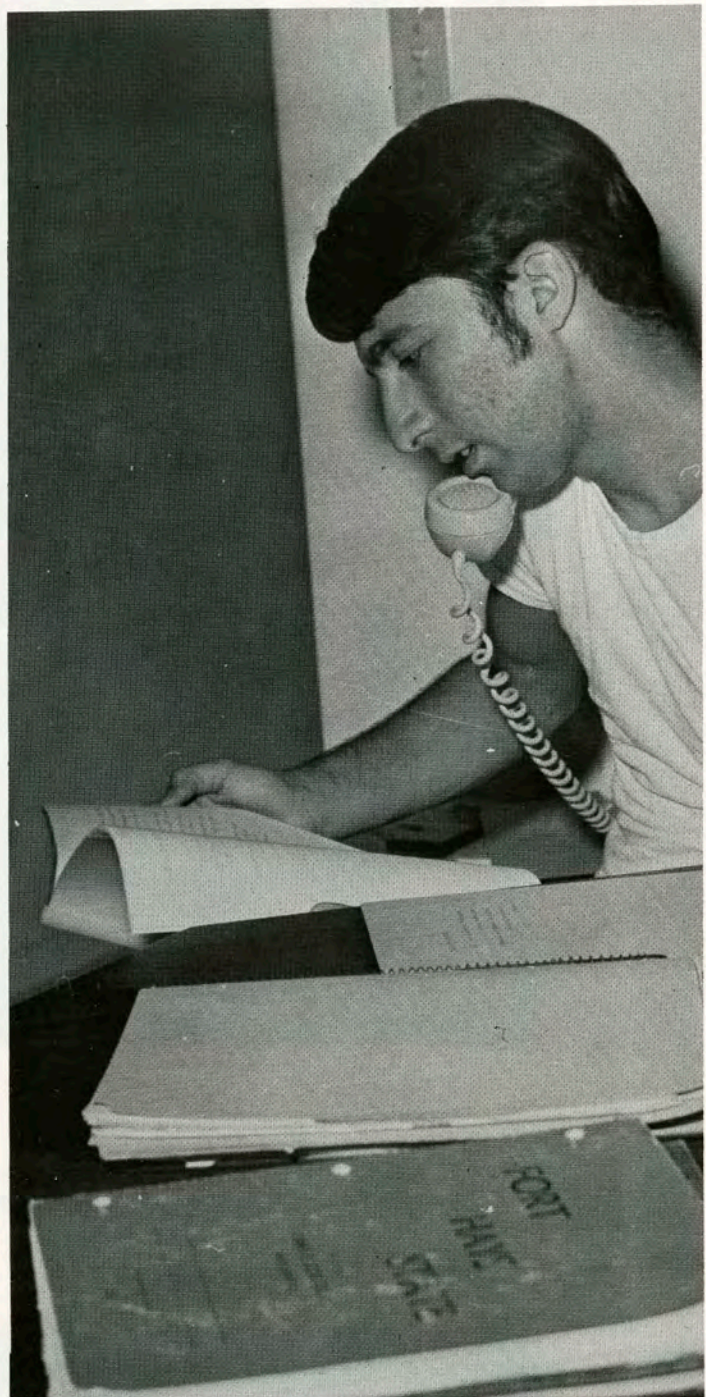

For various reasons a large number of college students live in off-campus housing. Limited campus housing facilities, more freedom with hours, privacy, factors of cost and a marriage are a few of these reasons. These students feel a certain degree of independence but have responsibilities. Accounting for a small amount of the student's time are minor household duties—preparing meals, washing, ironing, cleaning and various other tasks.

Providing living facilities for some 84 married couples, with or without families, Wooster Place has fulfilled a portion of the housing need. Hillcrest and Campus Apartments, housing mostly men, also accommodate students. Trailer houses, basement apartments, entire homes and sleeping rooms fill the remaining gap of housing needs for college students.

Married students and single, off-campus residents elect representatives to Student Council.

Relaxing in the quiet atmosphere of their apartment, whether alone or with a buddy, a game of cards helps to calm the nerves and provide a little time away from the books in the evenings.

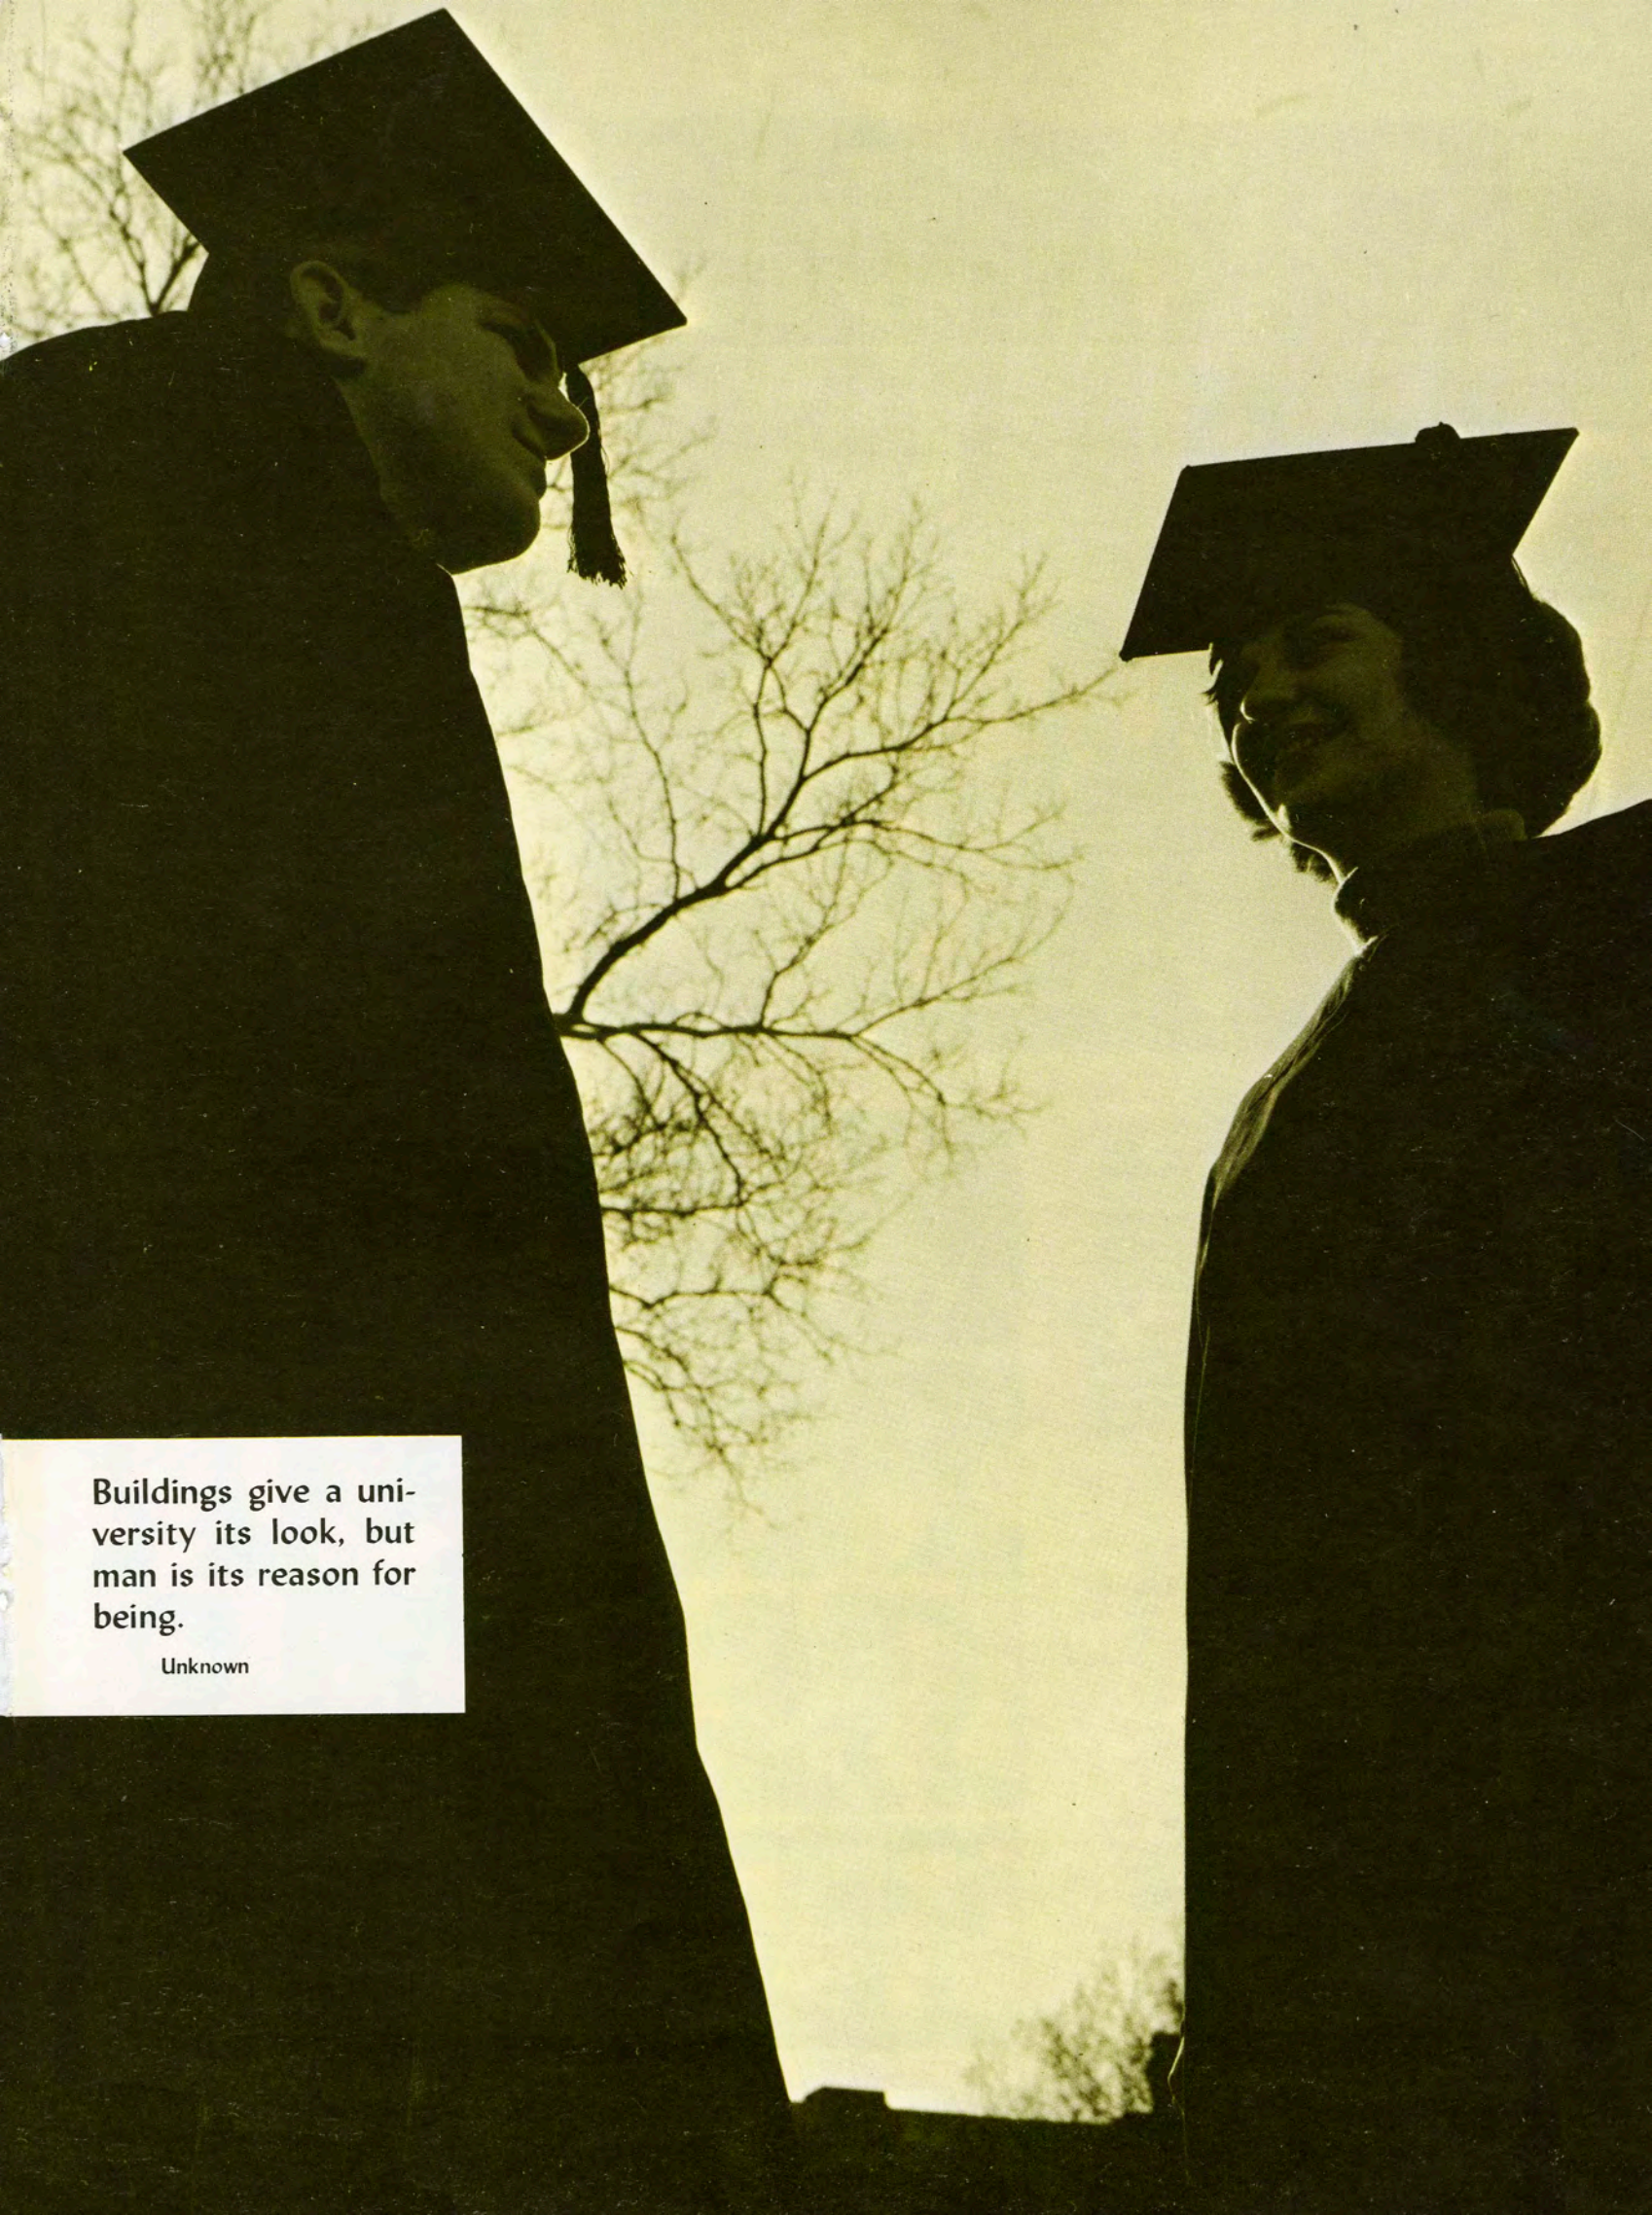

Living in an apartment, the telephone is a vital tool when it comes to studying with a friend across town.

Class attendance at FHS follows the same motto as mail delivery. "Neither rain, nor snow, etc.," not even the coldest day of all, will keep the student from his classes. Of course, there is one exception—a notice from the campus doctor prescribing bed rest.

Classes Choose Officers in Annual Spring Elections

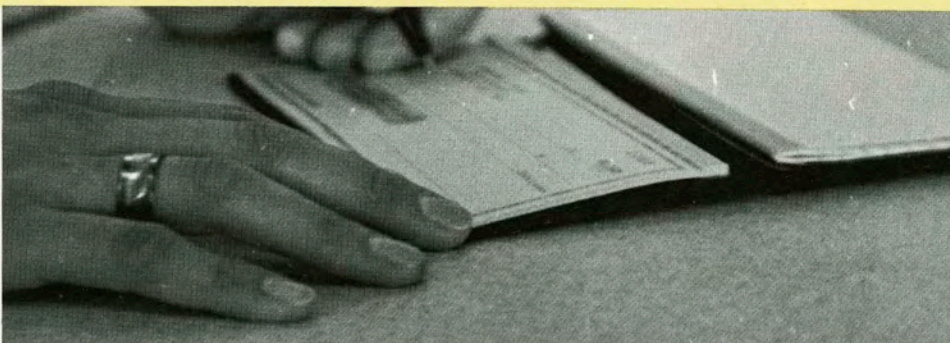

Spring elections at FHS determine all Student Council officers as well as class officers and group representatives to serve on the Council. Freshman class officers, however, are elected to their positions in the fall. Class officers have as their main function to represent their class on ASC. Officers for under-

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A RAMADA GUEST

A RAMADA GUEST is the most important person ever in our business.

A RAMADA GUEST is not dependent on us, we are dependent on him.

A RAMADA GUEST is not an interruption of our work.....he is the purpose of it.

A RAMADA GUEST is not an outsider to our businesshe is a part of it.

A RAMADA GUEST is not a cold statistic, he is a flesh and blood human being, with feelings and emotions like our own.

A RAMADA GUEST is a person who brings his wants to us.....it is our job then to handle these wants to his complete satisfaction.

A RAMADA GUEST can call any Ramada Inn any time he chooses....we are ready to serve him.

About The '68 Reveille

*We had our doubts,
But we did it,
And it's done.*

*Thanks to those Without whose help
It could never have been.*

*Take it,
Keep it,
Read it.
It's yours.*
